Porter, 2006-11-01 Does Paul have a theology If so what is it or rather what is it on various topics that he and the early Church confronted This volume moves beyond the traditional discussion of whether Paul had a center to his theology to raise questions regarding his perspective on a number of important theological issues These issues include his gentile mission the concepts of faith grace and the law reconciliation the temple eschatology miracles gender and Paul s trinitarian tendencies This collection of essays addresses topics of current interest in the study of Paul s theology not to arrive at the center of his thought but to understand

Albright, 2009 This book links popular British fiction from the 1790s through the 1860s to anxieties about time The cataclysm of the French Revolution discoveries in geology biology and astronomy that greatly expanded the age and size of the universe and technological developments such as the railway and the telegraph combined to transform the experience of time and dramatize its aporetic nature time as inarticulable contradiction Scotland and the First World War Gill Plain, 2016-11-14 What did war look like in the cultural imagination of 1914 Why did men in Scotland sign up to fight in unprecedented numbers What were the martial myths shaping Scottish identity from the aftermath of Bannockburn to the close of the nineteenth century and what did the Scottish soldiers of the First World War think they were fighting for Scotland and the First World War Myth Memory and the Legacy of Bannockburn is a collection of new interdisciplinary essays interrogating the trans-historical myths of nation belonging and martial identity that shaped Scotland's encounter with the First World War In a series of thematically linked essays experts from the fields of literature history and cultural studies examine how Scotland remembers war and how remembering war has shaped Scotland Landscapes of Memory

Gerald E. Finley, 1980-01-01 Who's Who of Twentieth Century Novelists Tim Woods, 2008-02-21 Taking in novelists from all over the globe from the beginning of the century to the present day this is the most comprehensive survey of the leading lights of twentieth century fiction Superb breadth of coverage and over 800 entries by an international team of contributors ensures that this fascinating and wide ranging work of reference will be invaluable to anyone with an interest in modern fiction Authors included range from Joseph Conrad to Albert Camus and Franz Kafka to Chinua Achebe Who's Who of Twentieth Century Novelists gives a superb insight into the richness and diversity of the twentieth century novel Papers of the Manchester Literary Club Manchester Literary Club, 1907 Encyclopedia of British Writers Christine L. Krueger, 2014-07 This concise encyclopedic reference profiles more than 800 British poets Cambridge Readings in Literature George Sampson, 1918 British Women Writers and the Writing of History, 1670-1820 Devoney Looser, 2003-05-01 Chosen by Choice Magazine as an Outstanding Academic Title Until recently history writing has been understood as a male enclave from which women were restricted particularly prior to the nineteenth century The first book to look at British women writers and their contributions to historiography during the long eighteenth century British Women Writers and the Writing of History 1670-1820 asks why rather than writing history that included their own sex some women of this period chose to write the same kind of history as men one that marginalized or excluded women altogether But as Devoney Looser demonstrates although British women's historically informed writings were not necessarily feminist or even female focused they were intimately involved in debates over and conversations about the genre of history Looser investigates the careers of Lucy Hutchinson Lady Mary Wortley Montagu Charlotte Lennox Catharine Macaulay Hester Lynch Piozzi and Jane Austen and shows how each of their contributions to historical discourse differed greatly as a result of political historical religious class and generic affiliations Adding their contributions to accounts of early modern writing refutes the assumption that historiography was an exclusive men's club and that fiction was the only prose genre open to women Serial Forms Clare Pettitt, 2020-06-04 Serial Forms The Unfinished Project of Modernity 1815-1848 proposes an entirely new way of reading the transition into the modern It is the first book in a series of three which will take the reader up to the end of the First World War moving from a focus on London to a global perspective Serial Forms sets out the theoretical and historical basis for all three volumes It suggests that as a serial news culture and a stadial historicism developed together between 1815 and 1848 seriality became the dominant form of the nineteenth century Through serial newsprint illustrations performances and shows the past and the contemporary moment enter into public visibility together Serial Forms argues that it is through seriality that the social is represented as increasingly politically urgent The insistent rhythm of the serial reorganizes time recalibrates and rescales the social and will prepare the way for the 1848 revolutions which are the subject of the next book By placing their work back into the messy print and performance culture from which it originally appeared Serial Forms is able to produce new and exciting readings of familiar authors such as Scott Byron

Dickens and Gaskell Rather than offering a rarefied intellectual history or chopping up the period into Romantic and Victorian Clare Pettitt tracks the development of communications technologies and their impact on the ways in which time history and virtuality are imagined Changing Representations of Minorities, East and West Larry E.
