WAS SUPPOSED TO BE EASY Breaking into a greenhouse to snatch a bunch of plants sounds like a milk run and the troll known as Hood and his fellow shadowrunners have no problem taking on such an easy lucrative assignment Unfortunately for the runners the greenhouse in question is owned by the Plantech Corporation biotechnology specialists and they're extremely protective of their unique agriculture BUT STAYING ALIVE IS GONNA BE A WHOLE LOT HARDER After escaping by the skin of their teeth the members of Hood's team feel justified in forcing their mysterious client to renegotiate their fee before delivering the goods But when the shadowrunners arrive at the meeting they find a dead body and a cadre of cops waiting to take them in Someone has set them up and Hood is determined to weed out what kinds of plants they really stole

The Body Electric James Geary, 2002 Marie a sixty three year old Belgian woman has been totally blind since the age of fifty seven But now thanks to electrodes implanted around her right optic nerve she can see lights shapes and colors again Marie is one of a handful of people around the world who have had computer chips implanted in their bodies to extend enhance or repair their senses The idea of actually melding man and machine still seems futuristic unlikely and a little scary But in The Body Electric James Geary examines the startling possibilities opened up by the merger of the biological and the technological This remarkable convergence holds the promise of restoring sight to the blind and mobility to the paralyzed It might also provide us with bionic senses such as the ability to see infrared radiation or feel objects at a distance By linking neurons in the brain directly to silicon chips scientists are also exploring the possibility of creating virtual eyes ears and limbs on the Internet and allowing people to control appliances by thought alone Machines too are getting silicon senses Researchers are endowing computers with the ability to see hear smell taste touch and conceivably think The Body Electric offers an accessible and astute survey of this exciting area of research with its potential commercial medical and military applications Drawing on fields as diverse as artificial intelligence and biology The Body Electric asks Are you any less you after a bionic implant If all of our senses are electronically enhanced how will we tell the difference between virtual reality and the actual world Will it matter The merger of our technology and ourselves is already beginning to change the way we see hear smell taste touch and think about the world opening the doors of perception just another crack

Drugs and British Society Susanne MacGregor, 2025-05-01 First published in 1989 Drugs and British Society now with a new preface by Susanne MacGregor provides information on the drugs problem in Britain in the 1980s based on extensive research and experience and places it in its international and historical context The contributors to this book are all experts in this field and are drawn from a range of disciplines including epidemiology sociology social psychiatry social policy anthropology and history They share a social rather than a narrowly medical or individualistic perspective on drugs stressing that policy and practice about drugs must be based not on prejudice alarm or outdated ideas but on clear reliable and detailed evidence and the informed judgements of people who have a thorough understanding of the issues They explain the problem by referring it to its social and political context from the level of the local community and local services to the wider national and structural levels
