The Law of Gestation IntroBooks Team, The Gestation Law is complementary to the Law of Attraction It states that there is a given incubation or gestation period for each seed A certain period that a specific seed requires to be formed until it can evolve from the blueprint to a fully realized physical shape Being prospective entrepreneurs when the time comes to making the business vision clear they are ready to go ahead in full swing in abnormal haste There may be many factors that add to this hurried decision Money may be a decisive factor At a workplace that does not longer feel comfortable to be in it may be a relief from a stressful work environment Whatever may be the reason one of the most powerfully motivating desires people face as they struggle through their lives and make strides in building a new business entity to surpass the surrounding competitors However with a higher degree of persistence dedication and self valuation it is always critical to balance this driving force Founding a new company or venture is like a new baby s birth There is a gestation cycle and a developmental phase which is extremely crucial It is not at all comfortable It cannot be hurried The essence is to allow space for every activity to take shape and evolve in its natural course Every bit of the clearly defined and vividly crafted priority is a seed in itself Each has a period of gestation a fixed period from the moment one plants it to the point that it has completely evolved into its tangible shape How long will the gestation period remain like that The question is not so simple to answer People have no clue about it But this is what they do know that it will take a while Besides they also know that if they continue to unearth the planted seeds the entire effort will go in vain Sometimes people cause the process to slow down a bit or worse stall it entirely when they get nervous about completing the task It is because anxiety and stress prevent them from reaching their higher thinking layers of the brain responsible for visualizing and scheduling the tasks lying ahead As a result they tend to get trapped in the survival state and have no options but to make choices from a position of scarcity and insecurity while sending mixed signals to the society as a whole they are apprehensive about more uncertain things to come When an individual grows and develops the progression occurs at its specified time frame It cannot be rushed to a conclusion when making preparations to break open and blossom when a fermenting seed is in complete darkness
