The Archaeology of Rock Art in Western Arnhem Land, Australia Bruno David, Paul Taçon, Jean-Jacques Delannoy, Jean-Michel Geneste, 2017-11-30 Western Arnhem Land in the Top End of Australia's Northern Territory has a rich archaeological landscape ethnographic record and body of rock art that displays an astonishing array of imagery on shelter walls and ceilings While the archaeology goes back to the earliest period of Aboriginal occupation of the continent the rock art represents some of the richest most diverse and visually most impressive regional assemblages anywhere in the world To better understand this multi dimensional cultural record The Archaeology of Rock Art in Western Arnhem Land Australia focuses on the nature and antiquity of the region's rock art as revealed by archaeological surveys and excavations and the application of novel analytical methods This volume also presents new findings by which to rethink how Aboriginal peoples have socially engaged in and with places across western Arnhem Land from the north to the south from the plains to the spectacular rocky landscapes of the plateau The dynamic nature of Arnhem Land rock art is explored and articulated in innovative ways that shed new light on the region's deep time Aboriginal history The Making of Indigenous Australian Contemporary Art Marie Geissler, 2021-01-06 This publication brings together existing research as well as new data to show how Arnhem Land bark painting was critical in the making of Indigenous Australian contemporary art and the self determination agendas of Indigenous Australians It identifies how when and what the shifts in the reception of the art were especially as they occurred within institutional exhibition displays Despite key studies already being published on the reception of Aboriginal art in this area the overall process is not well known or always considered while the focus has tended to be placed on Western Desert acrylic paintings This text however represents a refocus and addresses this more fully by integrating Arnhem Land bark painting into the contemporary history of Aboriginal art The trajectory moves from its understanding as a form of ethnographic art to seeing it as conceptual art and appreciating it for its cultural agency and contemporaneity Art of the Ancestors: Spatial and temporal patterning in the ceiling rock art of Nawarla Gabarnmang, Arnhem Land, Australia Robert G. Gunn, 2018-12-31 This volume focusing on the ceiling art at Nawarla Gabarnmang one of the richest rock art sites in Arnhem Land in Australia's Northern Territory presents a new systematic approach to the archaeological recording and documentation of rock art developed to analyse the spatial and temporal structure of complex rock art panels Seeing the Inside Luke Taylor, 1996 Seeing the Inside is the first detailed study of one of the world's great visual art traditions and its role in the society that produces it The bark painting of Aboriginal artists in western Arnhem Land is the product of a unique tradition of many thousands of years duration In recent years it has attracted enormous interest in the rest of Australia and beyond with the result that the artists who live primarily as hunters in this relatively secluded region of northern Australia now paint for sale to the world art market Though the richness and power of Aboriginal arts are now belatedly finding wide recognition they remain insufficiently understood In this thoroughly illustrated book Luke Taylor examines the creative methods of the bark painters and the cultural meaning of their work He discusses on the one hand the arrangements which allow the artists to project their culture onto an international stage and on the other the continuing social and religious roles of their paintings within their own society The result is a remarkable and fascinating picture of artistic creativity in a changing world

Relating to Rock Art in the Contemporary World Liam M. Brady, Paul S.C. Taçon, 2016-12-01 Rock art has long been considered an archaeological artifact reflecting activities from the past yet it is also a phenomenon with present day meaning and relevance to both indigenous and non indigenous communities Relating to Rock Art in the Contemporary World challenges traditional ways of thinking about this highly recognizable form of visual heritage and provides insight into its contemporary significance One of the most visually striking forms of material culture embedded in landscapes rock art is ascribed different meanings by diverse groups of people including indigenous peoples governments tourism offices and the general public all of whom relate to images and sites in unique ways In this volume leading scholars from around the globe shift the discourse from a primarily archaeological basis to one that examines the myriad ways that symbolism meaning and significance in rock art are being renegotiated in various geographical and cultural settings from Australia to the British Isles They also consider how people manage the complex meanings emotions and cultural and political practices tied to rock art sites and how these factors impact processes relating to identity construction and reaffirmation today Richly illustrated and geographically diverse Relating to Rock Art in the Contemporary World connects archaeology anthropology and heritage studies The book will appeal to students and scholars of archaeology anthropology heritage heritage management identity studies art history indigenous studies and visual theory as well as professionals and amateurs who have vested or avocational interests in rock art Contributors Agust n Acevedo Manuel Bea Jutinach Bowonsachoti Gemma Boyle John J Bradley Noelene Cole In s Domingo Kurt E Dongoske Davida Eisenberg Degen D nae Fiore Ursula K Frederick Kelley Hays Gilpin Catherine Namono George H Nash John Norder Marianna Ocampo Joshua Schmidt Duangpond Singhaseni Benjamin W Smith Atthasit Sukkham Noel Hidalgo Tan Watinee Tanompolkrang Luke Taylor Dagmara Zawadzka

Soils Stones and Symbols Cultural Perceptions of the Mineral World Nicole

Boivin, Owic, 2013-07-04 Ethnographic and archaeological records feature a rich body of data suggesting that understandings of the mineral world are in fact both culturally variable and highly diverse Soils Stones and Symbols highlights studies from the fields of anthropology archaeology and philosophy that demonstrate that not all individuals and societies view minerals as commodities to be exploited for economic gain or as passive objects of disembodied scientific enquiry In visiting such diverse contexts as contemporary India colonial period Australia and prehistoric Europe and the Americas the papers in this volume demonstrate that in pre industrial societies minerals are often symbolically meaningful ritually powerful and deeply interwoven into not just economic and material but also social cosmological mythical spiritual and philosophical aspects of life In addressing the theme of the mineral world this book is not only unique within the social and geo sciences but also at the forefront of recent attempts to demonstrate the importance of materiality to processes of human cognition and sociality It draws upon theoretical developments relating to meaning experience the body and material culture to demonstrate that studies of rock art landscapes architecture technology and resource use are all linked through the minerals that constantly surround us and are the focus of our never ending attempts to understand and transform them

A Companion to Rock Art Jo McDonald, Peter Veth, 2012-09-04 This unique guide provides an artistic and archaeological journey deep into human history exploring the petroglyphic and pictographic forms of rock art produced by the earliest humans to contemporary peoples around the world Summarizes the diversity of views on ancient rock art from leading international scholars Includes new discoveries and research illustrated with over 160 images including 30 color plates from major rock art sites around the world Examines key work of noted authorities e g Lewis Williams Conkey Whitley and Clottes and outlines new directions for rock art research Is broadly international in scope identifying rock art from North and South America Australia the Pacific Africa India Siberia and Europe Represents new approaches in the archaeological study of rock art exploring issues that include gender shamanism landscape identity indigeneity heritage and tourism as well as technological and methodological advances in rock art analyses

The Oxford Handbook of the Archaeology of Indigenous Australia and New Guinea Ian J. McNiven, Bruno David, 2023 The Oxford Handbook of the Archaeology of Indigenous Australia and New Guinea reviews and brings together the latest findings on the archaeology of the Australia New Guinea region In 42 new chapters commissioned for this book 77 leading researchers present the archaeological evidence for Australia and New Guinea s deep time history The stories told reveal the astounding richness of Australia and New Guinea s Indigenous cultural history stories of tens of thousands of years of Aboriginal Torres Strait Islander and New Guinean adaptation cultural know how and creative ingenuity

The Social Archaeology of Australian Indigenous Societies Bruno David, Bryce Barker, Ian J. McNiven, 2006 The Social Archaeology of Indigenous Societies presents original and provocative views on the complex and dynamic social lives of Indigenous Australians from an historical perspective Building on the foundational work of Harry Lourandos the book critically examines and challenges traditional approaches which have presented Indigenous Australian past as static and tethered to ecological rationalism The book reveals the ancient past of Aboriginal Australians to be one of long term changes in social relationships and traditions as well as the active management and manipulation of the environment The book encourages a deeper appreciation of the ways Aboriginal peoples have engaged with and constructed their worlds It solicits a deeper understanding of the contemporary political and social context of research and the insidious impacts of colonialist philosophies In short it concerns people both past and present The Social Archaeology of Indigenous Societies looks beyond the stereo

An Anthropology of Contemporary Art Thomas Fillitz, Paul van der Grijp, 2020-05-15 Drawing on the exciting developments that have occurred in the anthropology of art over the last twenty years this study uses ethnographic methods to explore shifts in the art market and global contemporary art Recognizing that the huge diversity of global phenomena requires research on the ground An Anthropology of Contemporary Art examines the local art markets biennials networks of collectors curators artists patrons auction houses and museums that constitute the global art world Divided into four parts Picture and Medium World Art Studies and Global Art Art Markets Maecenas and Collectors Participatory Art and Collaboration chapters go beyond the standard emphasis on Europe and North America to present first hand fieldwork from a wide range of areas including Brazil Turkey and Asia and the Pacific With contributions from distinguished anthropologists such as Philippe Descola and Roger Sansi Roca this book provides a fresh approach to key topics in the discipline A model for demonstrating how contemporary art can be studied ethnographically this is a vital read for students in anthropology of art visual anthropology visual culture and related fields Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Art Gretchen M. Stolte, 2020-05-31 Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Art explores the effects of Queensland government policies on urban First Nation artists While such art has often been misinterpreted as derivative lesser copies of true Indigenous works this book unveils new histories and understandings about the mixed legacy left for Queensland Indigenous artists Gretchen Stolte uses rich ethnographic detail to illuminate how both Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander artists understand and express their heritage She specifically focuses on artwork at the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander art studio in the Tropical North Queensland College of Technical and Further Education TNQT TAFE Cairns Stolte s ethnography further develops methodologies in art history and anthropology by identifying additional methods for understanding how art is produced and meaning is created The Archaeology of Art Andrew Meirion Jones, Andrew Cochrane, 2018-05-20 How can archaeologists interpret ancient art and images if they do not treat them as symbols or signifiers of identity Traditional approaches to the archaeology of art have borrowed from the history of art and the anthropology of art by focusing on iconography meaning communication and identity This puts the archaeology of art at a disadvantage as an understanding of iconography and meaning requires a detailed knowledge of historical or ethnographic context unavailable to many archaeologists Rather than playing to archaeology s weaknesses the authors argue that an archaeology of art should instead play to archaeology s strength the material character of archaeological evidence Using case studies examining rock art figurines beadwork murals coffin decorations sculpture and architecture from Europe the Americas Asia Australia and north Africa the authors develop an understanding of the affective and effective nature of ancient art and imagery An analysis of a series of material based practices from gesture and improvisation to miniaturisation and gigantism assembly and disassembly and the use of distinctions in colour enable key concepts such as style and meaning to be re imagined as affective practices Recasting the archaeology of art as the study of affects offers a new prospectus for the study of ancient art and imagery Birds and the Culture of the European Bronze Age Joakim Goldhahn, 2019-10-24 Shows how archaeologists gain knowledge about past ontologies and explores the role that birds played in Bronze Age economy ritual and religion A Return to the Object Susanne Küchler, Timothy Carroll, 2020-11-26 This book draws on the work of anthropologist Alfred Gell to reinstate the importance of the object in art and society Rather than presenting art as a passive recipient of the artist's intention and the audience's critique the authors consider it in the social environment of its production and reception A Return to the Object introduces the historical and theoretical framework out of which an anthropology of art has emerged and examines the conditions under which it has renewed interest It also explores what art does as a social and cultural phenomenon and how it can impact alternative ways of organising and managing knowledge Making use of ethnography museological practice the intellectual history of the arts and sciences material culture studies and intangible heritage the authors present a case for the re-orientation of current conversations surrounding the anthropology of art and social theory This text will be of key interest to students and scholars in the social and historical sciences arts and humanities and cognitive sciences The

Anthropology of Art Howard Morphy, Morgan Perkins, 2009-02-04 This anthology provides a single volume overview of the essential theoretical debates in the anthropology of art Drawing together significant work in the field from the second half of the twentieth century it enables readers to appreciate the art of different cultures at different times Advances a cross-cultural concept of art that moves beyond traditional distinctions between Western and non-Western art Provides the basis for the appreciation of art of different cultures and times Enhances readers' appreciation of the aesthetics of art and of the important role it plays in human society The Oxford Handbook of the Archaeology and Anthropology of Rock Art

Bruno David, Ian J. McNiven, 2018 Rock art is one of the most visible and geographically widespread of cultural expressions and it spans much of the period of our species' existence Rock art also provides rare and often unique insights into the minds and visually creative capacities of our ancestors and how selected rock outcrops with distinctive images were used to construct symbolic landscapes and shape worldviews Equally important rock art is often central to the expression of and engagement with spiritual entities and forces and in all these dimensions it signals the diversity of cultural practices across place and through time Over the past 150 years archaeologists have studied ancient arts on rock surfaces both out in the open and within caves and rock shelters and social anthropologists have revealed how people today use art in their daily lives The Oxford Handbook of the Archaeology and Anthropology of Rock Art showcases examples of such research from around the world and across a broad range of cultural contexts giving a sense of the art's regional variability its antiquity and how it is meaningful to people in the recent past and today including how we have ourselves tended to make sense of the art of others replete with our own preconceptions It reviews past, present and emerging theoretical approaches to rock art investigation and presents new cutting-edge methods of rock art analysis for the student and professional researcher alike

Long History, Deep Time Ann McGrath, Mary Anne Jebb, 2015-08-17 The vast shape-shifting continent of Australia enables us to take a long view of history We consider ways to cross the great divide between the deep past and the present Australia's human past is not a short past so we need to enlarge the scale and scope of history beyond 1788 In ways not so distant these deeper times happened in the same places where we walk today Yet they were not the same places having different surfaces ecologies and peoples Contributors to this volume show how the earth and its past peoples can wake us up to a sense of place as history as a site of both change and continuity This book ignites the possibilities of what the spaces and expanses of history might be Its authors reflect upon the need for appropriate feasible timescales for history pointing out some of the obstacles encountered in earlier efforts to slice human time into thematic categories Time and history are considered from the perspective of physics archaeology literature western and Indigenous philosophy Ultimately this collection argues for imaginative new approaches to collaborative histories of deep time that are better suited to the challenges of the Anthropocene Contributors to this volume including many leading figures in their respective disciplines consider history s temporality and ask how history might expand to accommodate a chronology of deep time Long histories that incorporate humanities science and Indigenous knowledge may produce deeper meanings of the worlds in which we live

Old Masters National Museum of Australia, Wally Caruana, 2013 This rich collection of Aboriginal bark paintings is the largest in the world with many pieces dating back to the 1930s Among the heroes of this collection are two influential artists Narritjin Maymurr and Billy Yirawala whose works feature prominently in this book Art in the Time of Colony Khadija von Zinnenburg Carroll, 2016-12-05 It is often assumed that the verbal and visual languages of Indigenous people had little influence upon the classification of scientific legal and artistic objects in the metropolises and museums of nineteenth century colonial powers However colonized locals did more than merely collect material for interested colonizers In developing the concept of anachronism for the analysis of colonial material this book writes the complex biographies for five key objects that exemplify embody and refract the tensions of nineteenth century history Through an analysis of particular language notations and drawings hidden in colonial documents and a reexamination of cross cultural communication the book writes biographies for five objects that exemplify the tensions of nineteenth century history The author also draws on fieldwork done in communities today such as the group of Koorie women whose re enactments of tradition illustrate the first chapter s potted history of indigenous mediums and debates The second case study explores British colonial history through the biography of the proclamation boards produced under George Arthur 1784 1854 Governor of British Honduras Tasmania British Columbia and India The third case study looks at the maps of the German explorer of indigenous taxonomy Wilhelm von Blandowski 1822 1878 and the fourth looks at a multi authored encyclopaedia in which Blandowski had taken into account indigenous knowledge such as that in the work of Kwat Kwat artist Yakaduna whose hundreds of drawings 1862 1901 are the material basis for the fifth and final case study Through these three characters histories Art in the Time of Colony demonstrates the political importance of material culture by using objects to revisit the much contested nineteenth century colonial period in which the colonial nations as a cultural and legal political system were brought into being

lived in the past and how and why changes took place to result in the forms of society and culture which exist now The series brought together archaeologists and anthropologists from many parts of the world academics from contingent disciplines and also non academics from a wide range of cultural backgrounds who could lend their own expertise to the discussions This book is an exploration of the way in which the animal world features in the works of art of a variety of cultures of different times and places Contributors have adopted a variety of perspectives for looking at the complex ways in which past and present humans have interrelated with beings they classify as animals Some of the approaches are predominantly economic and ecological some are symbolic and others philosophical or theological All these different views are included in the interpretation of the artworks of the past revealing some of the foci and inspirations of cultural attitudes to animals
