Selected Essays and Articles John Berger, 1972

Permanent Red John Berger, 2025-03-25 Why should an artist's way of looking at the world have any meaning for us Any artwork reflects the artist's intentions but also its times therefore all art is political In Permanent Red John Berger argues that the contemporary artist should strive for a realism that aims for hope to transform the world Surveying the work of historical artists as well as that of near contemporaries such as Picasso Le Ger and Matisse he explores the role of the artist dividing these figures into those that struggle those that fail and the true masters He explains why we should study the work of the past in order to understand the present and to rethink the future First published in 1960 Permanent Red established John Berger as a firebrand critic willing to broadcast controversial opinions on some of the most important British artists of the day including Henry Moore and Barbara Hepworth

The Look of Things John Berger, 1972

An Analysis of John Berger's Ways of Seeing Emmanouil Kalkanis, 2018-02-21 Ways of Seeing is a key art historical work that continues to provoke widespread debate It is comprised of seven different essays three of which are pictorial and the other containing texts and images Berger first examines the relationship between seeing and knowing discussing how our assumptions affect how we see a painting He moves on to consider the role of women in artwork particularly regarding the female nude The third essay deals with oil painting looking at the relationship between subjects and ownership Finally Berger addresses the idea of ownership in a consumerist society discussing the power of imagery in advertising with particular regards to photography

Reading for Life Philip Davis, 2020-02-12 Reading for Life is an anthology of poems and of extracts from prose fiction related to a series of case histories of individuals carefully reading discussing their reading lives and thinking about the relation of literature to their existence It enables readers to gain increased imaginative access to the works in question through seeing how they have intensely affected equivalent readers a novelist a poet a doctor a teacher an anthologist but also non specialists ordinary people within shared reading groups in many different settings finding help from literary texts in times of often painful personal need It is the story of the work done by Philip Davis research unit the Centre for Research into Reading Literature and Society CRILS at the University of Liverpool in a ten year partnership with the outreach charity The Reader taking serious literature to often neglected communities and struggling individuals through the shared reading alive and aloud of literature from all ages Reading for Life is a detailed account of what reading literature can do for a wide variety of individuals in relation to a wide variety of texts it will be of interest to serious readers in the wider world as much as to scholars working within literary studies and to all those involved in thinking about the therapeutic interactions of literature and life in psychology medicine and mental health support settings Art, History, and Postwar Fiction Kevin Brazil, 2018-10-18 Art History and Postwar Fiction explores the ways in which novelists responded to the visual arts from the aftermath of the Second World War to the present day If art had long served as a foil to enable novelists to reflect on their craft this book argues that in the postwar period novelists turned to the visual arts to develop new ways of conceptualizing the relationship between literature and history The sense that the novel was becalmed in the end of history was pervasive in the postwar decades In seeming to bring modernism to a climax whilst repeating its foundational gestures visual art also raised questions about the relationship between continuity and change in the development of art In chapters on Samuel Beckett William Gaddis John Berger and W G Sebald and shorter discussions of writers like Doris Lessing Kathy Acker and Teju Cole this book shows that writing about art was often a means of commenting on historical developments of the period the Cold War the New Left the legacy of the Holocaust Furthermore it argues that forms of postwar visual art from abstraction to the readymade offered novelists ways of thinking about the relationship between form and history that went beyond models of reflection or determination By doing so this book also argues that attention to interactions between literature and art can provide critics with new ways to think about the relationship between literature and history beyond reductive oppositions between formalism and historicism autonomy and context The Dialectics of Art John Molyneux, 2020-08-04 To the question of what is art it is often simply responded that art is whatever is produced by the artist For John Molyneux this clearly circular answer is deeply unsatisfying In a tour de force spanning renaissance Italy and the Dutch Republic to contemporary leading figures The Dialectics of Art instead approaches its subject matter as a distinct field of creative human labour that emerges alongside and in opposition to the alienation and commodification brought about by capitalism The pieces and individuals Molyneux examines from Michelangelo's Slaves to Rembrandt's Jewish Bride to the vast drip paintings of Jackson Pollock are presented as embodying the social contradictions of their times giving art an inherently political relevance In its relationship of creative and dialectical tension to prevailing social relationships and norms such art points beyond the existing order of things hinting at a potential future society not based on alienated labour in which creative production becomes the property and practice of all Invisible Seaside Tony Blackshaw, 2025-08-01 Invisible Seaside positions the seaside as a lens for understanding lived utopia pinned in a certain place an immovable feature in a landscape where our hopes and fears continue to unfold Wide ranging in theme it brings a double perspective past and present to bear on how we understand contemporary seaside experience Presenting a magical paradox of the modern seaside this book traces the development of a cultural phenomenon from the mid 1800s to the present day In the process it modifies the accepted narrative about its rise and fall reappraising our understanding of the end of a Mass Utopia and shining new light on the diversity of post utopias that have emerged in its afterlife Fusing social theory social history and leisure studies its thesis adroitly envisions the diverse density of the seaside through a critical lens making the unfamiliar familiar and vice versa providing us with an exemplar for a different way of thinking sociologically which will be used by scholars from a range of different subject fields to encourage fresh reflection on social continuity and change

Violation: Collected Essays Sallie Tisdale, 2016-04-18 Most Anticipated Too The Great 2016 Nonfiction Book Preview The Millions GROUNDBREAKING A career defining book The New Yorker Sallie Tisdale is the author of seven books on such varied subjects as medical technology her pioneer ancestors and Buddhist women teachers Her many essays have appeared in Harper's Conjunctions The New Yorker Antioch Review Threepenny Review and many other journals This first collection of work spans thirty years and includes an introduction and brief epilogues to each essay Tisdale's questing curiosity pursues subjects from the biology of flies to the experience of working in an abortion clinic why it is so difficult to play sports with men and whether it's possible for writers to tell the truth She restlessly returns to themes of the body the family and how we try to explain ourselves to each other She is unwilling to settle for easy answers and finds the ambiguity and wonder underneath ordinary events The collection includes a recent essay never before published about the mystery of how we present ourselves to each other and whether it is possible to know even our own inner lives

Innovators David W. Galenson, 2025-01-21 Some innovators are luminous shooting stars think Pablo Picasso Albert Einstein Sylvia Plath Bob Dylan Steve Jobs who make bold leaps early and suddenly then lose their creativity Others are late bloomers Paul Cezanne Charles Darwin Virginia Woolf Alfred Hitchcock Warren Buffett who show little early promise but spend long periods doggedly pursuing distant goals and attain greatness in old age By analyzing the careers of scores of great innovators this book reveals systematic differences in the motivations and methods of these two types and their very different patterns of creativity over the life cycle The result is a new and deeper unified understanding of the sources of human creativity

Remembering Peasants Patrick Joyce, 2024-02-20 A landmark new history of the peasant experience exploring a now neglected way of life that once encompassed most of humanity but is vanishing in our time Joyce brings in stories of individuals as well as places including his own family and looks at how peasants and their ways of life have been memorialized in photographs literature and in museums

West Jim Perrin, 2011-05-01 West tells the story of Jim Perrin's life against the lives and deaths of his cherished wife and son and the landscapes through which they traveled together It is a complex and sensual love story a celebration of the beauty and redemptive power of wild nature and an extraordinary account of one man's journey towards the acceptance of devastating personal loss

The Cruel Radiance Susie Linfield, 2011-05-27 In The Cruel Radiance Susie Linfield challenges the idea that photographs of political violence exploit their subjects and pander to the voyeuristic tendencies of their viewers Instead she argues passionately that looking at such images and learning to see the people in them is an ethically and politically necessary act that connects us to our modern history of violence and probes the human capacity for cruelty Grappling with critics from Walter Benjamin and Bertolt Brecht to Susan Sontag and the postmoderns and analyzing photographs from such events as the Holocaust China's Cultural Revolution and recent terrorist acts Linfield explores the complex connection between photojournalism and the rise of human rights ideals In the book's concluding section she examines the indispensable work of Robert Capa James Nachtwey and Gilles Peress and asks how photography should respond to the increasingly nihilistic trajectory of modern warfare A bracing and unsettling book The Cruel Radiance convincingly demonstrates that if we hope to alleviate political violence we must first truly understand it and to do that we must begin to look

Tough Enough Deborah Nelson, 2017-04-03 This book focuses on six brilliant women who are often seen as particularly tough minded Simone Weil Hannah Arendt Mary McCarthy Susan Sontag Diane Arbus and Joan Didion Aligned with no single tradition they escape straightforward categories Yet their work evinces an affinity of style and philosophical viewpoint that derives from a shared attitude toward suffering What Mary McCarthy called a cold eye was not merely a personal aversion to displays of emotion it was an unsentimental mode of attention that dictated both ethical positions and aesthetic approaches Tough Enough traces the careers of these women and their challenges to the pre-eminence of empathy as the ethical posture from which to examine pain Their writing and art reveal an adamant belief that the hurts of the world must be treated concretely directly and realistically without recourse to either melodrama or callousness As Deborah Nelson shows this stance offers an important counter tradition to the familiar postwar poles of emotional expressivity on the one hand and cool irony on the other Ultimately in its insistence on facing reality without consolation or compensation this austere school of the unsentimental offers new ways to approach suffering in both its spectacular forms and all of its ordinariness

Adopting the Beat of Phrase: An Mental Symphony within Selected Essays Of John Berger
