

The background is a rich, textured orange-brown. It is adorned with various illustrations of spices and herbs: a long green chili pepper on the left, a small green sprig in the top right, a star anise on the left, a yellow flower-like shape in the middle left, a bowl of dark seeds on the right, and a red chili pepper at the bottom left. A decorative border of small, repeating golden patterns runs along the bottom edge.

The Mango Season Amulya Malladi,2007-12-18 From the acclaimed author of A Breath of Fresh Air this beautiful novel takes us to modern India during the height of the summer's mango season Heat passion and controversy explode as a woman is forced to decide between romance and tradition Every young Indian leaving the homeland for the United States is given the following orders by their parents Don't eat any cow It's still sacred don't go out too much save and save and save your money and most important do not marry a foreigner Priya Rao left India when she was twenty to study in the U S and she's never been back Now seven years later she's out of excuses She has to return and give her family the news She's engaged to Nick Collins a kind loving American man It's going to break their hearts Returning to India is an overwhelming experience for Priya When she was growing up summer was all about mangoes ripe sweet mangoes bursting with juices that dripped down your chin hands and neck But after years away she sweats as if she's never been through an Indian summer before Everything looks dirtier than she remembered And things that used to seem natural a buffalo strolling down a newly laid asphalt road for example now feel totally chaotic But Priya's relatives remain the same Her mother and father insist that it's time they arranged her marriage to a nice Indian boy Her extended family talks of nothing but marriage particularly the marriage of her uncle Anand which still has them reeling Not only did Anand marry a woman from another Indian state but he also married for love Happiness and love are not the point of her grandparents or her parents union In her family s rule book duty is at the top of the list Just as Priya begins to feel she can t possibly tell her family that she s engaged to an American a secret is revealed that leaves her stunned and off balance Now she is forced to choose between the love of her family and Nick the love of her life As sharp and intoxicating as sugarcane juice bought fresh from a market cart The Mango Season is a delightful trip into the heart and soul of both contemporary India and a woman on the edge of a profound life change From the Hardcover edition

The Postcolonial Indian Novel in English Geetha Ganapathy-Doré, 2011-01-18 Indian writers of English such as G V Desani Salman Rushdie Amit Chaudhuri Amitav Ghosh Vikram Seth Allan Sealy Shashi Tharoor Arundhati Roy Vikram Chandra and Jhumpa Lahiri have taken the potentialities of the novel form to new heights Against the background of the genre s macro history this study attempts to explain the stunning vitality colourful diversity and the outstanding but sometimes controversial success of postcolonial Indian novels in the light of ongoing debates in postcolonial studies It analyses the warp and woof of the novelistic text through a cross sectional scrutiny of the issues of democracy the poetics of space the times of empire nation and globalization self writing in the auto meta docu fictional modes the musical pictorial cinematic and culinary intertextualities that run through this hyperpalimpsestic practice and the politics of gender caste and language that gives it an inimitable stamp This concise and readable survey gives us intimations of a truly world literature as imagined by Francophone writers because the postcolonial Indian novel is a concrete illustration of how language liberated from its exclusive pact with the nation can enter into a dialogue with a vast polyphonic ensemble

Reading Together, Reading Apart Tamara Bhalla, 2016-10-17 Often thought of as a solitary activity the practice of reading can in fact encode the complex politics of community formation Engagement with literary culture represents a particularly integral facet of identity formation and expresses of a sense of belonging within the South Asian diaspora in the United States Tamara Bhalla blends a case study with literary and textual analysis to illuminate this phenomenon Her fascinating investigation considers institutions from literary reviews to the marketplace to social media and other technologies as well as traditional forms of literary discussion like book clubs and academic criticism Throughout Bhalla questions how her subjects circumstances desires and shared race and class limit the values they ascribe to reading She also examines how ideology circulating around a body of literature or a self selected imagined community of readers shapes reading itself and influences South Asians powerful if contradictory relationship with ideals of cultural authenticity
