religious and political When a church quarrel arose what need was there to yield or to compromise when the disgruntled minority could have its will in another region not far away There was no necessity for yielding to the will of a majority with which one did not agree when wide stretches of unoccupied land were inviting settlers who could do as they pleased With this assurance excessive independence and assertive individuality needed no curb for there was room for all ideas political and social The contented the prosperous the conservative these 1 The number of these guide books and gazetteers such as Peck s which were issued from 1830 to 1850 is astonishing and their influence in attracting settlers to the West must have been great Every detail of expense by canal steamboat and stage is there with minute descriptions of infant settlements in need of farmers and
