Marxism And African Literature:

Marxism and African Literature Georg M. Gugelberger, 1986 Art and Ideology in the African Novel Emmanuel Ngara, 1985 Marxism and African Literature James Currey, 1986 Theory of African Literature Chidi Amuta, 2017-06-15 This groundbreaking work first published in 1989 was one of the first to challenge the conventional critical assessment of African literature and remains highly influential today Amuta's key argument is that African literature can be discussed only within the wider framework of the dismantling of colonial rule and Western hegemony in Africa In exploring the possibility of a dialectical alternative critical base he draws upon both classical Marxist aesthetics and the theories of African culture espoused by Fanon Cabral and Ngugi From these explorations Amuta derives a new language of criticism which is then applied to works by modern African writers as diverse as Achebe Ousmane Agostinho Neto and Dennis Brutus Amuta's highly original and innovative approach remains relevant not only for assessing the literature of developing countries but for Marxist and postcolonial theories of literary criticism more generally The author's elegance of argument and clarity of exposition makes this a distinguished and lasting contribution to debates around cultural expression in postcolonial Africa Nation-Building, Propaganda, and Literature in Francophone Africa Dominic Thomas, 2002-11-19 What characterizes the relationship between literature and the state Should literature serve the needs of the state by constructing national consciousness espousing state propaganda and molding good citizens Or should it be dedicated to a different kind of creative social endeavor In this important book about literature and the politics of nation building Dominic Thomas assesses the contributions of Francophone African writers whose works have played a key role in the recent transition to democracy in the Congo Exploring the works of Sony Labou Tansi Henri Lopes and Emmanuel Dongala among others Thomas highlights writers intimately involved with government and politics whether in support of the state's vision or with the intention of articulating a more open view of citizens and society Focusing on themes such as collaboration reconciliation identity history and memory Nation Building Propaganda and Literature in Francophone Africa elaborates a broader understanding of the circumstances of African colonization modern African nation state formation and the complex cultural dynamics at work in Africa since independence The Growth of African Literature African Literature Association. Meeting, 1998 This collection of papers results from the 15th annual meeting of the African Literature Association which was held in Dakar Senegal and was the first such meeting to be held in Africa Topics covered include approaches and literary theory language and history thematic analysis and literature in the African Diaspora Writing Across Cultures Omar Sougou, 2021-10-25 This is a timely and comprehensive study combining various critical approaches to the fiction of Buchi Emecheta one of Africa's most illustrious and contentious women writers Feminist Showalter Cixous Kristeva and postcolonial approaches writing back are taken to Emecheta's texts to illuminate the personal political and aesthetic ramifications of the production of this born writer Poststructural programmes of analysis are shown to be less relevant to this writer's fiction than Marxist and Bakhtinian perspectives Emecheta is shown to be a bridge builder between two cultures and two worlds in narratives both challenging and popular characterized by ambiguity ambivalence and double voiced discourse all of which evince the writer's determination to expose imaginatively the colonial heritage of centre periphery conflicts cultural corruption ethnic discrimination gender oppression and the migrant experience in multiracial communities

Tongue and Mother Tongue African Literature Association. Meeting, 2002 Tongue and Mother Tongue takes on two compelling challenges the language question and the place and role of the mother tongue in African literature This collection is the culmination of the fierce decades old debate on the question of African literature and its criticism The fourteen essays range from a variety of critical and theoretical perspectives covering the theoretical and ideological aspects of the language question the nature of criticism the influence of the oral tradition critical analysis of mother tongue literature and textual analyses
