"Toubab La!" Literary Representations of Mixed-Race Characters in the African Diaspora Ginette Curry, 2009-05-05 The book is an examination of mixed race characters from writers in the United States The French and British Caribbean islands Martinique Guadeloupe St Lucia and Jamaica Europe France and England and Africa Burkina Faso South Africa Botswana and Senegal The objective of this study is to capture a realistic view of the literature of the African diaspora as it pertains to biracial and multiracial people For example the expression Toubab La as used in the title is from the Wolof ethnic group in Senegal West Africa It means This is a white person or This is a black person who looks or acts white It is used as a metaphor to illustrate multiethnic people's plight in many areas of the African diaspora and how it has evolved The analysis addresses the different ways multiracial characters look at the world and how the world looks at them

These characters experience historical economic sociological and emotional realities in various environments from either white or black people Their lineage as both white and black determines a new self making them constantly search for their identity Each section of the manuscript provides an in depth analysis of specific authors novels that is a window into their true experiences The first section is a study of mixed race characters in three acclaimed contemporary novels from the United States James McBride s The Color of Water 1996 Danzy Senna s Caucasia 1998 and Rebecca Walker s Black White and Jewish 2001 reveal the conflicting dynamics of being biracial in today s American society The second section is an examination of mixed race characters in the following French Caribbean novels Mayotte Cap cia s I Am a Martinican Woman 1948 Mich le Lacrosil s Cajou 1961 and Ravines du Devant Jour 1993 by Rapha l Confiant Section three is about their literary representations in Derek Walcott s What the Twilight Says 1970 Another life 1973 Dream on Monkey Mountain 1967 and Michelle Cliff s Abeng 1995 from the British Caribbean islands Section four is an in depth analysis of their plight in novels written by contemporary mulatto writers from Europe such as Marie N Diaye s Among Family 1997 Zadie Smith s White Teeth 2000 and Bernardine Evaristo s Lara 1997 Finally the last section of the book is a study of novels from West African and South African writers The analysis of Monique Ilboudo s Le Mal de Peau 2001 Bessie Head s A Woman Alone Autobiographical Writings 1990 and Abdoulaye Sadji s Nini Mul tresse du S n gal 1947 concludes this literary journey that takes the readers through several continents at different points in time Overall this comprehensive study of mixed race characters in the literature of the African diaspora reveals not only the old but also the new ways they decline contest and refuse racial clich s Likewise the book unveils how these characters resist create reappropriate and revise fixed forms of identity in the African diaspora of the 20th and 21st century Most importantly it is also an examination of how the authors themselves deal with the complex reality of a multiracial identity

Witness in the Era of Mass Incarceration Doran Larson, 2017-07-17 Witness in the Era of Mass Incarceration works from the premise that if the law establishes and maintains both its practical and symbolic authority on the basis of its monopoly on legally sanctioned violence and the suffering threatened and delivered by such violence then we cannot know the full human cost or concrete moral status of any legal state without human witness to the depth and manner of suffering meted out by such violence The prison writer stands in the position to offer such witness The prison writer knows the law s violence in the flesh For every other writer reflection upon the degree and manner of suffering meted out under legal sanction that is reflection upon the full human cost of the contemporary legal order is necessarily speculative In close readings of first person witness from prisons in the U S Ireland and Africa Witness in the Era of Mass Incarceration discovers literary tropes that chart at once local national and transnational conditions of carceral experience the extant conditions of legalized suffering In exhibiting the labor required to move from institutionalized abjection to the minimum requirements of rights bearing personhood this witness offers the sole credible vision of the possibility of a post carceral understanding of freedom

Notes from the Middle World Breyten Breytenbach, 2010-05-01 An acclaimed South African writer freedom fighter and artist illuminates the labyrinth of our political present Acknowledged Legislator Edward J. Carvalho, 2014-04-17

Acknowledged Legislator Critical Essays on the Poetry of Martín Espada stands as the first ever collection of essays on poet and activist Martín Espada. It is also to date the only published book-length single author study of Espada currently in existence. Relying on innovative highly original contributions from thirteen Espada scholars its principal aim is to argue for a long overdue critical awareness of and cultural appreciation for Espada and his body of writing. Acknowledged Legislator accomplishes this task in three fundamental ways by providing readers with background information on the poet's life and work offering an examination into the subject matter and dominant themes that are frequently contained in his writing and finally by advocating in a variety of ways for why we should be reading discussing and teaching the Espada canon. Divided into four distinct sections that modulate through several theoretical frames from Espada's attention to resistance poetics and concerns for historical memory to his oppositional critique of neoliberalism and support for a class consciousness grounded in labor rights Acknowledged Legislator offers a cohesive forward thinking interpretive statement of the poet's vision and proposes a critical re-assessment for how we read Espada now and in the future Diary of Bergen-Belsen (Large Print

Llewellyn, Toby C. Rider, 2024-11-25 The transnational anti apartheid sport boycott of South Africa represented the most prominent extended and controversial anti racism campaign in the history of sport Spearheaded by prominent British religious and anti colonial figures and exiled South Africans emboldened by communist and Global South support and legitimised by supranational political bodies such as the United Nations the Organisation of African Unity and the Commonwealth the sport boycott helped propel anti apartheid out of relative obscurity and struck at the very heart of a cultural practice that served an explicitly ideological function in Afrikaner society Britain held a dichotomous even paradoxical role as both prosecutor and defender of white South Africa This book utilises sport as a critical lens for understanding the dynamics and dichotomies of British attitudes towards the apartheid regime Debates over whether to continue or to cut sporting links with apartheid South Africa proved bitterly divisive The considerable weight the subject carried and the degree to which it saturated British political and social discourse for four decades speaks to its impact and importance British Sporting Relations with Apartheid South Africa represents the first archival based historical examination of Britain's sporting relations with South Africa throughout the apartheid era 1948-1994. Situating the analysis within the shifting multiracial and multicultural landscapes of postcolonial Britain and within global political, cultural, sporting and ideological debates, the authors trace the origins and evolution of the transnational sport boycott and examine what inspired Britons to energise anti-apartheid sport campaigns and in contrast what drove many others to vehemently oppose them at every turn.
