J. Paul, 1897 Modern Irish Poetry: A New Alhambra Frank Sewell, 2001-01-25 Recently chapters on individual Irish language authors have formed part of publications regarding modern Irish art and culture in general Such chapters are welcome but they have excited the curiosity of readers to the degree that longer more detailed works are now required to put writing in Irish into perspective In this study of four modern poets two each from two generations Sewell attempts to illustrate not only the accumulative but the transformative nature of tradition Chapters 1 and 2 turn from the mid 20th century master Seán Riordá in to the contemporary poet Cathal Searcaigh because the comparison and contrast highlights significant aspects of the amazing development of Irish poetry and indeed society in the period Here importantly the word development is meant in a neutral way the image used is that of a zig zag movement in the pattern of the continuing Irish tradition Chapter 3 returns to the slightly earlier major Irish language poet Mírtín Dire in In doing so it returns home from the internationalism of the previous chapter on Searcaigh to Ireland a major focus and concern for the more solely traditionalist Dire in This switch back in time geography social mores or outlook fits and illustrates Sewell's concept of the zig zag movement of a country's culture as it proceeds from generation to generation The positioning therefore has a thematic purpose The fourth and final chapter focuses on the contemporary poet Nuala Ní Dhomhnaill who has managed to synthesise tradition and modernity central concerns of this book and who in doing so has become the current trail blazer of Irish poetry in either language Modern Irish Poets W J Paul, 2022-10-27 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this

Pastoral Elegy in Contemporary British and Irish Poetry Iain Twiddy, 2012-03-15 Defying critical suggestions that the pastoral elegy is obsolete Iain Twiddy reveals the popularity of the form in the work of major contemporary poets Seamus Heaney Ted Hughes and Paul Muldoon Michael Longley Douglas Dunn and Peter Reading As Twiddy outlines the development of the form he identifies its characteristics and functions But more importantly his study accounts for the enduring appeal of the pastoral elegy why poets look to its conventions during times of personal distress and social disharmony and how it allows them to recover from grief loss and destruction Informed by current debates and contemporary theories of mourning Twiddy discusses themes of war and peace social pastoral and environmental change draws on the enduring influence of both Classical and Romantic poetics and explores poets changing relationships with pastoral elegy throughout their careers The result is a study that demonstrates why the pastoral elegy is still a flourishing and dynamic form in contemporary British and Irish poetry Poetry, Politics, and the Law in Modern Ireland Adam Hanna, 2022-09-06 Poetry Politics and the Law in Modern Ireland is a richly detailed exploration of how modern Irish poetry has been shaped by and responded to the laws judgments and constitutions of both of the island s jurisdictions Focusing on poets responses in their writing to such contentious legal issues as partition censorship paramilitarism and the curtailment of women s reproductive and other rights this monograph is the first in the growing field of law and literature to focus exclusively on modern Ireland Hanna unpacks the legal engagements of both major and non canonical poets from every decade between the 1920s and the present day including Rhoda Coghill Austin Clarke Paul Durcan Elaine Feeney Miriam

Gamble Seamus Heaney Thomas Kinsella Paula Meehan Julie Morrissy Doireann N Ghr ofa and W B Yeats Poetry from the time of independence onward has been shaped by two opposing forces On the one hand the Irish public has traditionally had strong expectations that poets offer a dissenting counter discourse to official sources of law On the other hand poets have more recently expressed skepticism about the ethics of speaking for others and about the adequacy of art in performing a public role Hanna s fascinating study illuminates the poetry that arises from these antithetical modern conditions The Modern Irish Sonnet Tara Guissin-Stubbs,2020-10-10 The Modern Irish Sonnet Revision and Rebellion discusses how and why the sonnet appeals to Irish poets and has grown in popularity over the last century Using a thematic approach Tara Guissin Stubbs argues for the significance of the Irish sonnet as a discrete entity within modern and contemporary poetry and shows how the Irish sonnet has become a debating chamber for discussions concerning the relationship between Irish and British culture poetry and gender and revision and rebellion The text reshapes the poetic and critical field exploring canonical and non canonical poems by male and female poets so as to challenge outmoded views of the thematic and formal limitations of the sonnet A New History of Ireland, Volume III T. Gonzalez,1997-08-26 While the Irish Literary Revival began around 1885 and ended somewhere between 1925 and 1940 the Irish Renaissance has continued to the present day and shows no sign of abating The period has produced some of the most important and influential figures in Irish literature some of whom are counted among the world s greatest authors The Revival saw a reestablishment of Ireland s literary connections with its Celtic heritage and writers such as William Butler Yeats and Lady Gregory drew heavily on the myths and legends of the past James Joyce boldly reshaped the novel and wrote short fiction of enduring value Contemporary Irish writers continue to be leading figures and include such authors as Brian Frigl Seamus Heaney and Eavan Boland Included in this reference book are alphabetically arranged entries for more than 70 modern Irish writers including Samuel Beckett William Trevor Patrick Kavanagh Medbh McGuckian Sean O Casey J M Synge and Nuala Ni Dhomhnaill Entries are written by expert contributors and reflect a broad range of perspectives Each entry contains a brief biography that summarizes the author's career a discussion of major works and themes an overview of the author's critical reception and a bibliography of primary and secondary works An introductory essay reviews the large and growing body of scholarship on modern Irish literature while an extensive bibliography concludes the volume

The Sound Structure of Modern Irish Raymond Hickey, 2014-07-04 The Sound Structure of Modern Irish contains a comprehensive description of the phonology of Irish Based on the main forms of the language it offers an analysis of the segments and the processes in its sound system Each section begins with a description of the area of phonology which is the subject such as stress patterns phonotactics epenthesis or metathesis and then proceeds to consider the special aspects of this subject from a theoretical and typological perspective The book pays particular attention to key processes in the sound system of modern Irish The two most important of these are palatalisation and initial mutation phenomena which are central to Irish and the analysis of which has consequences for general phonological theory The other main emphasis in the book is on a typological comparison of several different languages all of which show palatalisation and or initial mutation as part of their systems The different forms of Celtic Slavic languages Romance dialects and languages along with languages such as Finnish Fula Nivkh and Southern Paiute are considered to find out how processes which are phonetic in origin external sandhi can become functionalised and integrated into the morphosyntactic system of a language

The Origins of Sectarianism in Early Modern Ireland Alan Ford, John McCafferty, John David McCafferty, 2005-12-08 Ireland is riven by sectarian hatred This simple assumption provides a powerful explanation for the bitterness and violence which has so dominated Irish history Most notably the troubles in Northern Ireland have provided fertile ground for scholars from all disciplines to argue about and explore ways in which religious division fueled the descent into hostility and disorder In much of this literature however sectarianism is seen as somehow a given in Irish history an inevitable product of the clash of the Reformation and Counter Reformation something which sprang fully formed into existence in the sixteenth century In this book leading historians provide a detailed analysis of the ways in which rival confessions were developed in early modern Ireland the extent to which the Irish people were indeed divided into two religious camps by the mid seventeenth century and also their surprising ability to transcend such stark divisions

Irish Literature Mary Ketsin, 2004 Irish literature's roots have been traced to the 7th 9th century This is a rich and hardy literature starting with descriptions of the brave deeds of kings saints and other heroes These were followed by generous veins of religious historical genealogical scientific and other works The development of prose poetry and drama raced along with the times Modern well known Irish writers include William Yeats James Joyce Sean Casey George Bernard Shaw Oscar Wilde John Synge and Samuel Beckett

Women, Writing, and Language in Early Modern Ireland Marie-Louise Coolahan, 2010-01-28 This book examines writing in English Irish and Spanish by women living in Ireland and by Irish women living on the continent between the years 1574 and 1676 This was a tumultuous period of political religious and linguistic contestation that encompassed the key power struggles of early modern Ireland This study brings to light the ways in which women contributed they strove to be heard and to make sense of their situations forging space for their voices in complex ways and engaging with native and new language traditions The book investigates the genres in which women wrote poetry nuns writing petition letters depositions biography and autobiography It argues for a complex understanding of authorial agency that centres of the act of creating or composing a text which does not necessarily equate with the physical act of writing The Irish English and European contexts for women's production of texts are identified and assessed The literary traditions and languages of the different communities living on the island are juxtaposed in order to show how identities were shaped and defined in relation to each other Marie Louise Coolahan elucidates the social political and economic imperatives for women's writing examines the ways in which women characterized female composition and describes an extensive range of cross cultural multilingual activity
