reworked their inherited faith to create a new symbol that better met their religious needs based on ideal Victorian notions of motherhood and Mother Nature Divine motherhood signified compassion universal salvation and a realised gospel of social reform led primarily by women to establish sympathetic community Connected to Victorian feminism it gave authority to women s voices and to feminine cultural values in the public sphere It represented divine immanence within the world often providing the grounds for an ecological ethic including human animal fellowship With reference also to writers including Charlotte Bront Anna Jameson Charles Kingsley Elizabeth Charles Theodore Parker Harriet Beecher Stowe Mary Baker Eddy and authors of literary utopias this book shows the extent of maternal theology in Victorian thought and explores its cultural roots The book reveals a new way in which Victorian writers creatively negotiated between religious tradition and modernity

Christian and Lyric Tradition in Victorian Women's Poetry F. Elizabeth Gray, 2009-09-10 Women in the Victorian period were acknowledged to be the religious sex but their relationship to the doctrines practices and hierarchies of Christianity was both highly circumscribed which has been well documented and complexly creative which has not Gray visits the importance of the literature of Christian devotion to women s creative lives through an examination of the varied ways in which Victorian women reproduced and recreated traditional Christian texts in their own poetic texts Investigating how women poets redeployed the discourse of Christianity to uncover the multiple voices of the scriptures to expand identity and gender constructions and to question traditional narratives and processes of authorization Gray contends that women found in religious poetry unexpected liberating possibilities Taking into account multiple voices from the best known female poets of the day to some of the most obscure this study provides a comprehensive account of Victorian women s religious poetic creativity and argues that this body of work helped shape the development of the lyric in the Victorian period

Jesus in the Victorian Novel Jessica Ann Hughes, 2022-01-27 This book tells the story of how nineteenth century writers turned to the realist novel in order to reimagine Jesus during a century where traditional religious faith appeared increasingly untenable Re workings of the canonical Gospels and other projects to demythologize the story of Jesus are frequently treated as projects aiming to secularize and even discredit traditional Christian faith The novels of Charles Kingsley George Eliot Eliza Lynn Linton and Mary Augusta Ward however demonstrate that the work of bringing the Christian tradition of prophet priest and king into conversation with a rapidly changing world can at times be a form of authentic faith even a faith that remains rooted in the Bible and historic Christianity while simultaneously creating a space that allows traditional understandings of Jesus identity to evolve

Christina Rossetti's Feminist Theology L.

Palazzo, 2002-03-13 This volume disputes the assumption that Rossetti was a follower of Keble and Pusey and shows how her dissatisfaction with the male dominated call to celibacy led her to reject their notions of worldliness and to form a closer bond with the physical world and the body

Gender, Religion and Diversity Ursula King, Tina Beattie, 2005-10-01 Gender Religion and Diversity provides an introduction to some of the most challenging perspectives in the contemporary study of gender and religion In recent years women s and gender studies have transformed the international study of religion through the use of interdisciplinary and cross cultural methodologies which have opened up new and highly controversial issues challenging previous paradigms and creating fresh fields of study As this book shows gender studies in religion raises new and difficult questions about the gendered nature of religious phenomena the relationship between power and knowledge the authority of religious texts and institutions and the involvement and responsibility of the researcher undertaking such studies as a gendered subject This book is the outcome of an international collaboration between a wide range of researchers from different countries and fields of religious studies The range and diversity of their contributions is the very strength of this book for it shows how gendering works in studying different religious materials whether foundational texts from the Bible or Koran philosophical ideas about truth essentialism history or symbolism the impact of French feminist thinkers such as Irigaray or Kristeva or again critical perspectives dealing with the impact of race gender and class on religion or by deconstructing religious data from a postcolonial critical standpoint or examining the impact of imperialism and orientalism on religion and gender Nineteenth-Century Religion, Literature and Society Naomi Hetherington, Clare Stainthorp, 2020-12-14 This four volume historical resource provides new opportunities for investigating the relationship between religion literature and society in Britain and its imperial territories by making accessible a diverse selection of harder to find primary sources These include religious fiction poetry essays memoirs sermons travel writing religious ephemera unpublished notebooks and pamphlet literature Spanning the long nineteenth century c 1789 1914 the resource departs from older models of the Victorian crisis of faith in order to open up new ways of conceptualising religion Volume four on Disbelief and New Beliefs explores the transformation of the religious landscape of Britain and its imperial territories during the nineteenth century as a result of key cultural and intellectual forces The Brontës and the Idea of the Human Alexandra Lewis, 2019-05-16 Investigates the idea of the human within Bront sisters work offering new insight on their writing and cultural contexts Theology and the Victorian Novel J. Russell Perkin, 2009-11-04 Beginning with a wide ranging introduction that explains why a theological reading of Victorian fiction is both rewarding and timely Perkin also addresses religion s return to prominence in the twenty first century confounding earlier predictions of its imminent demise Chapters on William Thackeray Charlotte Bront Charlotte Yonge Anthony Trollope George Eliot and Thomas Hardy are followed by a concluding discussion of Mary Ward and Walter Pater that relates Pater s Marius the Epicurean to postmodern theology and shows how it remains a religious classic for our own time Victorian Religious Discourse J. Nixon, 2004-08-20 This collection of essays attempts to address the disparate historical and critical ways religion informs the literature and culture of nineteenth century England showing how a representative group of major Victorians negotiated its impact The collection attempts to present Victorian religious discourse not as monologic but as dialogic if not protean It seeks to make available new understandings of nineteenth century British literature as well as to elucidate the extent to which religious discourse is vested in Victorian cultural thoughts and practice Resisting the Marriage Plot Dalene Joy Fisher,2021-12-21

Fiction has long been used to cast vision for social change but the role of Christian faith in such works has often been overlooked In this STA volume Dalene Joy Fisher examines how the works of Jane Austen Anne Bront Elizabeth Gaskell and Mary Wollstonecraft challenge cultural expectations of women and marriage exploring how Christianity can be a transformative force of liberation Women, Gender and Religious Cultures in Britain, 1800-1940 Sue Morgan,Jacqueline de Vries,2010-06-10 This volume is the first comprehensive overview of women gender and religious change in modern Britain spanning from the evangelical revival of the early 1800s to interwar debates over women s roles and ministry This collection of pieces by key scholars combines cross disciplinary insights from history gender studies theology literature religious studies sexuality and postcolonial studies The book takes a thematic approach providing students and scholars with a clear and comparative examination of ten significant areas of cultural activity that both shaped and were shaped by women s religious beliefs and practices family life literary and theological discourses philanthropic networks sisterhoods and deaconess institutions revivals and preaching ministry missionary organisations national and transnational political reform networks sexual ideas and practices feminist communities and alternative spiritual traditions Together the volume challenges widely held truisms about the increasingly private and domesticated nature of faith the feminisation of religion and the relationship between secularisation and modern life Including case studies further reading lists and a survey of the existing scholarship and with a British rather than Anglo centric approach this is an ideal book for anyone interested in women s religious experiences across the nineteenth and twentieth centuries First-Person Anonymous Alexis Easley,2017-05-15

First Person Anonymous revises previous histories of Victorian women s writing by examining the importance of both anonymous periodical journalism and signed book authorship in women s literary careers Alexis Easley demonstrates how women writers capitalized on the publishing conventions associated with signed and unsigned print media in order to create their own spaces of agency and meaning within a male dominated publishing industry She highlights the importance of journalism in the fashioning of women s complex identities thus providing a counterpoint to conventional critical accounts of the period that reduce periodical journalism to a monolithically oppressive domain of power relations Instead she demonstrates how anonymous publication enabled women to participate in important social and political debates without compromising their middle class respectability Through extensive analysis of literary and journalistic texts Easley demonstrates how the narrative strategies and political concerns associated with women s journalism carried over into their signed books of poetry and prose Women faced a variety of obstacles and opportunities as they negotiated the demands of signed and unsigned print media In investigating women s engagement with these media Easley focuses specifically on the work of Christian Johnstone 1781 1857 Harriet Martineau 1802 76 Elizabeth Gaskell 1810 65 George Eliot 1819 80 and Christina Rossetti 1830 94 She provides new insight into the careers of these authors and recovers a large anonymous body of periodical writing through which their better known careers emerged into public visibility Since her work touches on two issues central to the study of literary history the construction of the author and changes in media technology it will appeal to an audience of scholars and general readers in the fields of Victorian literature media studies periodicals research gender studies and nineteenth century Victorian Children's Literature Ruth Y. Jenkins, 2016-09-22 This book reveals how the period's transforming identities affected by social economic religious and national energies offers rich opportunities in which to analyze the relationship between identity and transformation At the heart of this study is this question what is the relationship between Victorian children's literature its readers and their psychic development Ruth Y Jenkins uses Julia Kristeva's theory of abjection to uncover the presence of cultural anxieties and social tensions in works by Kingsley MacDonald Carroll Stevenson Burnett Ballantyne Nesbit Tucker Sewell and Rossetti Anna Atkins Corey Keller, 2025-10-21 Learn about the life of Anna Atkins the pioneering photographer who combined art and science to create the first photographically illustrated book Step into the world of Anna Atkins 1799-1871 perhaps the world's first female photographer and a pioneer of the medium She lived an existence full of heartache and triumph from her mother's death when Atkins was an infant to her publication of multiple photographic books as an adult After the passing of her mother Atkins was raised primarily by her father and grandfather who placed an emphasis on both her emotional and intellectual growth As a result she spent her life surrounded by some of the brightest minds of the day while they experimented in her family's lab Thanks to familial support and her own innate curiosity Atkins felt empowered to pursue her passion for the natural world alongside several of the greatest inventors of Victorian England during the Industrial Revolution Despite societal gender norms of the era which typically limited women to a life within the home Atkins gained the respect of the scientific community with her ambitious multivolume album Photographs of British Algae Cyanotype Impressions now recognized as the world's first photographically illustrated book Her cyanotypes in addition to their scientific accuracy added a sense of artistic beauty to her publications setting the stage for new uses of this already experimental technology In an era replete with state of the art inventions and innovative ideas Atkins pushed photography forward in its earliest days with courage creativity and brilliance Bootlegger of the Soul Suzanne Lance, Paul Grondahl, 2019-02-06 The award winning novelist William Kennedy is perhaps best known for his Albany Cycle a series of novels that put Albany on the world's literary map alongside James Joyce's Dublin Gabriel Garcia Marquez's Macondo and William Faulkner's Yoknapatawpha County Bootlegger of the Soul offers a fresh and authoritative overview of Kennedy's long literary career and his astonishing trajectory from journalist to struggling novelist to Pulitzer Prize winner Included here are reviews interviews and scholarly essays on Kennedy's work as well as essays speeches a play and a short story by the author himself together with more than fifty historical and personal photographs Lively readable and brimming with the infectious wit and lyrical prose that animates Kennedy's novels Bootlegger of the Soul is a celebration of a writer still working hard at his craft at age ninety I Sing for

I Cannot Be Silent June Hadden Hobbs, 1997-10-15 Evangelical churches sing hymns written between 1870 and 1920 so often that many children learn them by rote before they are able to read religious texts A cherished part of communal Christian life and an important and effective way to teach doctrine today these hymns served an additional social purpose in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries they gave evangelical women a voice in their churches When the sacred music business expanded after the Civil War writing hymn texts gave publishing opportunities to women who were forbidden to preach teach or pray aloud in mixed groups Authorized by oral expression gospel hymns allowed women to articulate alternative spiritual models within churches that highly valued orality These feminized hymns are the focus of I Sing for I Cannot Be Silent Drawing upon her own experience as a Baptist June Hadden Hobbs argues that the evangelical tradition is an oral tradition it is not anti intellectual but antiprint Evangelicals rely on memory and spontaneous oral improvisation hymns serve to aid memory and permit interaction between oral and written language By comparing male and female hymnists use of rhetorical forms Hobbs shows how women utilized the only oral communication allowed to them in public worship Gospel hymns permitted women to use a complex system of images already associated with women and domesticity This feminized hymnody challenged the androcentric value system of evangelical Christianity by making visible the contrasting masculine and feminine versions of Christianity When these hymns were sung in church women's voices and opinions moved out of the private sphere and into public religion The hymns are so powerful that they are suppressed by some contemporary fundamentalists today In I Sing for I Cannot Be Silent June Hadden Hobbs employs an interdisciplinary mix of feminist literary analysis social history rhetoric and composition theory hymnology autobiography and theology to examine hymns central to worship in most evangelical churches today
