Reclaiming The Future New Zealand And The Global Economy

Martin Bell, John Taylor

Reclaiming The Future New Zealand And The Global Economy:

Reclaiming the Future Jane Kelsey, 2015-12-21 Jane Kelsey's exploration of the effects of globalisation on the New Zealand economy was eye opening when published in 1999. She offered a trenchantly expressed response to the neoliberal slogan of the time: 'There is no alternative'. Kelsey's analysis remains a critical yardstick for current policies and an alternative perspective on the development of global relationships. The recent global financial meltdown and subsequent recession give new relevance to her questions about globalisation's consequences for sovereignty and democracy. Kelsey continues to offer a bold voice of challenge and critique pointing the way for open-eyed engagement with the economic realities of the future.

Reclaiming the Future Jane Kelsey, 2000-01-01 The vision of a global future spread through the world like wildfire in the last decade: exhilarating for some, alarming for others, apparently inexorable for all. As free market advocates would have it, there is no alternative. Reclaiming the Future tells a different story: that globalization is not inevitable, invincible, or intrinsically good. The deregulated global economy has proved highly unstable. The pursuit of unending growth is unsustainable, and the social damage that free markets cause is provoking an international backlash. Jane Kelsey explores the impact of globalization on the New Zealand economy. Her account of foreign investment and free trade policies, the role of the transnationals, and the challenges posed by global agreements and networks will open the eyes of readers. Reclaiming the Future opens wide the debate New Zealanders are seeking for the direction of their country in the twenty-first century.

Pepper in Our Eyes W. Wesley Pue, 2011-11-01 In November 1997 the world media converged on Vancouver to cover the Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation summit. The major news story that emerged, however, had little to do with the crisis unfolding in the Asian economies. At the UBC campus where the APEC leaders' meeting was held, a predictable student protest met with an unusually strong police response. A crowd of students was pepper-sprayed along with a CBC cameraman. The dramatic video footage of the incident that appeared on the evening news shocked Canadians. The use of noxious chemicals to attack non-violent protesters somehow seemed un-Canadian. It looked more like something that police and soldiers in less democratic countries would do. Other news stories developed. Two dozen law professors wrote to Prime Minister Chrétien to report that a number of serious constitutional violations had taken place on campus. One protester held for fourteen hours for displaying a sign saying 'Free Speech' initiated legal proceedings. Other lawsuits followed. The RCMP and the government of Canada were named as defendants, and a public inquiry was launched. A central issue was whether the Prime Minister's officials gave orders of a political nature to the police that resulted in law-abiding citizens being assaulted and arrested. But why all the fuss? So what if the Prime Minister gave orders to the police? The contributors to Pepper in Our Eyes maintain that the so what question is of vital importance. The events at APEC raised serious questions about constitutional principle, the role of police in a democratic society, public accountability, and the effects of globalization on rights and politics. The contributors, experts in a variety of fields, draw upon their knowledge to explain in plain English the background issues and the values at stake Some of the authors such as Gerald Morin chair of the first RCMP Public Complaints Commission and CBC journalist Terry Milewski had a direct connection with the APEC affair By getting at the fundamental issues behind the APEC affair Pepper in Our Eyes seeks to raise our civic consciousness It shows that there was much more at stake that day than the questionable use of pepper spray

Population Mobility and Indigenous Peoples in Australasia and North America Martin Bell, John Taylor, 2003-12-25 This book draws together relevant research findings to produce the first comprehensive overview of Indigenous peoples mobility Chapters draw from a range of disciplinary sources and from a diversity of regions and nation states Within nations mobility is the key determinant of local population change with implications for service delivery needs assessment and governance Mobility also provides a key indicator of social and economic transformation As such it informs both social theory and policy debate For much of the twentieth century conventional wisdom anticipated the steady convergence of socio demographic trends seeing this as an inevitable concomitant of the development process However the patterns and trends in population movement observed in this book suggest otherwise and provide a forceful manifestation of changing race relations in these new world settings

At the Crossroads Jane Kelsey, 2002 New Zealand stands at the crossroads there are crucial choices facing the country s government and its people This is a book about what we were promised where we are now and what might yet be a book intended to provoke discussion about New Zealand s future

Global politics in the information age Mark J. Lacy, Peter Wilkin, 2024-07-30 Global politics in the information age available in paperback for the first time presents a provocative and wide ranging introduction to the notion that information technologies are creating new formations of power control and resistance across the planet The essays ranging from the language used by the Bush administration to shape the war on terror the attempts to control the circulation of informational products the strategies of media management deployed to shape how the war in Iraq during 2003 was presented in the public sphere through to the attempts to brand economic globalisation and strategies of resistance developed by the anti globalisation movement unearth the new transformations that are unfolding in the twenty first century This collection of essays brings together academics working across the social sciences from International Relations Political Economy Sociology and Media Studies to provide the reader with a number of different perspectives on the way that flows of images capital ideologies and informational goods are creating global spaces of control and resistance The book seeks to rethink approaches to global politics that see information society as closing down spaces of resistance while at the same time exploring the new formations of power that informational society is making possible The book offers clearly explained theoretical insight into the debates that are shaping discussion on global politics and information society with case studies that will be of interest to the student seeking to make sense of the changes that are unfolding unprecedented insights into social movement learning and education The book is numinous Professor Robert Hill University of Georgia USA This is a book we have all been waiting for The editors have brought together an amazing cadre of international adult educators to probe the intersection of social movements and learning and to build theory around the many social actions that are taking place globally A must read for students and professors everywhere Leona English PhD St Francis Xavier University Antigonish NS Canada Accessible engaging often inspirational the essays that comprise Learning and Education for a Better World offer deep insights on the role of social movements as agencies of learning struggle and transformation From case studies that include the occupy movement popular education in Latin America political cinema and the Egyptian Revolution to reflections on resistance aesthetics and the role of organic intellectuals this collection will be of interest to educators social scientists humanists and activists alike An interdisciplinary tour de force Professor William Carroll University of Victoria Canada This is such a timely collection of essays bringing together critical reflections on experiences of social action from across the globe This book is to be commended to the widest possible readership From the Preface by Emeritus Professor Marjorie Mayo Goldsmith s College Indigenous Peoples and International Trade John Borrows, Risa Schwartz, 2020-06-18 The United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples is seen primarily as an international human rights instrument However the Declaration also encompasses cultural social and economic rights Taken in the context of international trade and investment the UN Declaration is a valuable tool to support economic self determination of Indigenous peoples This volume explores the emergence of Indigenous peoples participation in international trade and investment as well as how it is shaping legal instruments in environment and trade intellectual property and traditional knowledge One theme that is explored is agency From amicus interventions at the World Trade Organization to developing a future precedent for a Trade and Indigenous Peoples Chapter Indigenous peoples are asserting their right to participate in decision making The authors both Indigenous and non Indigenous experts on trade and investment legal provide needed ideas and recommendations for governments academia and policy thinkers to achieve economic reconciliation

Transpacific Americas Eveline Dürr, Philipp Schorch, 2015-12-07 This volume explores cultural social and economic connections between the Americas and the South Pacific It reaches beyond Sino American collaborations to focus on rather neglected and sometimes invisible Southern linkages asking how these connections originated and have developed over time which local responses they have generated and what impact these processes have in the region in terms of representational forms and strategies new cultural practices and empowerment of individuals in post colonial contexts The volume also compares and contrasts intriguing parallels of politics and identity formation By extending the focus beyond East Asia to the Southern Pacific region including Island connections with the Americas the volume provides a more comprehensive understanding of recent dynamics and shifting relations across the Pacific By approaching the Transpacific Americas as an assemblage or relational space which is created and becomes meaningful through multiple localities and their translocal connections the book complicates the Euro American distinction between centre and rim While the collection offers a distinctive geographical focus it simultaneously emphasizes the translocal qualities of specific locations through their entanglements in transpacific assemblages within and across cultural social and economic spheres Furthermore without neglecting the inextricable historical dimension of anthropological perspectives the focus is on the diverse and unexpected contemporary forms of cultural social and economic encounters and engagements and on re emerging Indigenous networks Primarily based on empirical research the volume explores face to face encounters relations from below and transcultural interactions and relationships in as well as ideas and conceptualizations of cultural spaces across localities that have long been perceived as separate but are indeed closely interconnected

Economic Globalisation as Religious War Michael McKinley, 2007-06-28 Using a critical theory approach to analyze the globalization of the world economy this provocative and topical new book presents economic globalization not as a recent development but rather as a familiar process that has occurred throughout history Michael McKinley argues that it is ultimately a self serving arbitrary and destructive imperial project that should be viewed as a religious war

Indigenous Knowledge and Learning in Asia/Pacific and Africa D. Kapoor, E. Shizha, 2010-09-27 This collection makes a unique contribution towards the amplification of indigenous knowledge and learning by adopting an inter trans disciplinary approach to the subject that considers a variety of spaces of engagement around knowledge in Asia and Africa

Free Market Missionaries Sharon Beder, 2012-06-25 In her recent book Suited to Themselves bestselling author Sharon Beder exposed how the global corporate elite have brazenly rewritten the rules of the global economy to line their pockets In this new book she trains her sights on the insidious underbelly of this global trend to show how they have also orchestrated a mass propaganda campaign to manipulate community values and convince us that their interest co opting and controlling all of us in the name of the free market is in our interest During the 20th century business associations coordinated mass propaganda campaigns combining 20th century American PR methods with revitalized free market ideology from 18th century Europe The aim was to persuade people to eschew their own power as workers and citizens and forego their democratic power to restrain and regulate business activity Sophisticated corporate funded think tanks augmented these campaigns in the 1970s and 1980s promoting free enterprise and business friendly policies These free market missionaries now seek to change individual and institutional values through bolder strategies such as expanding share ownership and manipulating wider public concerns In each case the goal is the same the triumph of business values over community values Beder's is an intellectual call to arms challenge the ideology of the free market missionaries or be converted to it

Multiple Dwelling and Tourism Norman McIntyre, Daniel Williams, Kevin McHugh, 2006 The movement of people goods capital and information is a central aspect of living in the inter connected globalised late modern world Although this broader view of mobility is recognized this book focuses mainly on migration or the movement of people It examines multiple dwelling as a societal response to the major influences of increased mobility and amenity tourism

The book also considers the modern day meaning of multiple dwelling how it affects personal identity and the meaning of home and its impacts on host communities and landscapes Precarities of 21st Century Childhoods Michael

O'Loughlin, Carol Owens, Louis Rothschild, 2023-02-28 This book locates internally focused critical perspectives regarding the social political emotional and mental growth of children Through the radical openness afforded by psychoanalytic and related frameworks this volume illuminates promotes and helps situate subjectivities that are often blotted out for both the child and society The overall emphasis is on motifs of lostness and foundness in terms of the geographies of the psycho social and how such motifs govern and regulate what have come to count as the normative indexes of childhood as well as how they exclude other real childhoods Routes and Roots Elizabeth DeLoughrey, 2009-12-31 Elizabeth DeLoughrey invokes the cyclical model of the continual movement and rhythm of the ocean tidalectics to destabilize the national ethnic and even regional frameworks that have been the mainstays of literary study The result is a privileging of alter native epistemologies whereby island cultures are positioned where they should have been all along at the forefront of the world historical process of transoceanic migration and landfall The research determination and intellectual dexterity that infuse this nuanced and meticulous reading of Pacific and Caribbean literature invigorate and deepen our interest in and appreciation of island literature Vilsoni Hereniko University of Hawai i Elizabeth DeLoughrey brings contemporary hybridity diaspora and globalization theory to bear on ideas of indigeneity to show the complexities of native identities and rights and their grounded opposition as indigenous regionalism to free floating globalized cosmopolitanism Her models are instructive for all postcolonial readers in an age of transnational migrations Paul Sharrad University of Wollongong Australia Routes and Roots is the first comparative study of Caribbean and Pacific Island literatures and the first work to bring indigenous and diaspora literary studies together in a sustained dialogue Taking the tidalectic between land and sea as a dynamic starting point Elizabeth DeLoughrey foregrounds geography and history in her exploration of how island writers inscribe the complex relation between routes and roots The first section looks at the sea as history in literatures of the Atlantic middle passage and Pacific Island voyaging theorizing the transoceanic imaginary The second section turns to the land to examine indigenous epistemologies in nation building literatures Both sections are particularly attentive to the ways in which the metaphors of routes and roots are gendered exploring how masculine travelers are naturalized through their voyages across feminized lands and seas This methodology of charting transoceanic migration and landfall helps elucidate how theories and people travel positioning island cultures in the world historical process In fact DeLoughrey demonstrates how these tropical island cultures helped constitute the very metropolises that deemed them peripheral to modernity Fresh in its ideas original in its approach Routes and Roots engages broadly with history anthropology and feminist postcolonial Caribbean and Pacific literary and cultural studies It productively traverses diaspora and indigenous studies in a way that will facilitate broader discussion between these often segregated disciplines Globalizing Education Michael W. Apple, Jane Kenway, Michael

Singh,2005 Because globalization is expressed in many ways and evokes complex responses it demands various lines of analysis Globalizing Education shows how this phenomenon is mediated and mitigated by a range of educational policies pedagogies and politics It identifies the forms of educational governance associated with neoliberal globalism and their manifold effects on nation state education systems highlighting the colonizing minority world imperatives and retraditionalizing ramifications It also shows how the global cultural economy the disjunctive flows of images people and ideas both challenges and reinforces conventional educational trajectories The global national mesh works created by drugs technology and unions are among the complicated connectivities explored This book exposes the more pernicious effects on education of neo liberal and corporate globalization and explores and identifies innovative and transformative educational policies pedagogies and politics

Doing Politics Differently? Sylvia Bashevkin,2019-05-01 Women have reached the highest levels of public office in Canada s provinces and territories but what difference if any has their rise to the top made Have they changed the content tone and style of politics What role has gender played in their triumph and defeat In Doing Politics Differently leading researchers from across the country assess the track records of eleven premiers including their impact on policies of particular interest to women and their influence on the tenor of legislative debate and the recruitment of other women as party candidates cabinet ministers and senior bureaucrats Canada stands out for the variety and number of women who have reached the top in subnational government By evaluating the performance of women premiers across the country and comparing their records with those of men who preceded and succeeded them this innovative volume probes how important demographic diversity is to government decision making
