Reconciling Economy And Society Towards A Plural Economy:

Reconciling Economy and Society Patrice Sauvage, Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, 1996 On title page Territorial development Neo-Liberalism, State Power and Global Governance Simon Lee, Stephen McBride, 2007-09-09 This book explores the relationship between neo liberalism state power and global governance exploring national differences in the exercise of state power in a variety of industrialized and developing economies Among the strengths of this volume are its detailed global scope its range of case studies in diverse policy areas its analysis and critique of neo liberalism in theory and practice and its impact upon state power and global governance Community Economic Development Graham Houghton, 2013-12-16 This important book examines the ways in which community economic development can contribute to local and regional regeneration It presents a unique overview of the state of contemporary British practice in this important policy area and provides a series of fresh theoretical methodological and empirical insights which help us to understand ways in which communities are facing up to the challenges of devising and bringing about their own revitalisation Community Economic Development is underpinned by the argument that much conventional regeneration work represents at best a short term fix rather than a long term sustainable solution to the problems of socially excluded communities The emphasis of the book is largely on the British experience with contributions from a rich mix of new and established academics and practitioners A Commodified World Colin C. Williams, 2005-03-04 This volume provides a critique of the assumption of increasing commodification in the modern economy Re-Thinking the Future of Work Colin C. Williams, 2007-02-28 How will work be organised in the future With its global perspective and critical approach Re Thinking the Future of Work provides not only an overview and examination of the array of competing visions but also a radical rethink about the direction of change The Third Sector in Europe Adalbert Evers, Jean-Louis Laville, 2004-01-01 The contributors examine the voluntary non profit sectors in Europe They discuss a number of issues regarding this third sector 'An offer you can't refuse' Lødemel, Ivar, Trickey, Heather, 2001-01-24 In the last decade developed welfare states have witnessed a pendulum swing away from unconditional entitlement to social assistance towards greater emphasis on obligations and conditions tied to the receipt of financial aid Through administrative reforms conditions of entitlement have been narrowed With the introduction of compulsory work for recipients the contract between the state and uninsured unemployed people is changing The product of research funded by the European Union this book compares work for welfare or workfare programmes objectively for the first time It considers well publicised schemes from the United States alongside more overlooked examples of workfare programmes from six European countries France Germany the Netherlands Norway Denmark and Britain It is the first time that details of workfare programmes have been collated in such an easily accessible format An offer you can t refuse provides an analysis of the ideological debates that surround compulsory work programmes and gives a detailed overview of the programmes implemented in each country including their political and policy contexts and the forces that have combined to facilitate their implementation Similarities and differences between programmes are explored Explanations for differences and lessons for policy makers are discussed

The Emergence of Social Enterprise Carlo Borzaga, Jacques Defourny, 2004 This book investigates the remarkable growth of the third sector focusing on social enterprises their characteristics their contribution and their future prospects

Social Reproduction, Solidarity Economy, Feminisms and Democracy Christine Verschuur, Isabelle Guérin, Isabelle Hillenkamp, 2021-09-06 This book contributes to timely debates on the conditions of resistance and changes with the aim to offer a ray of hope in times of ecological economic social and democracy crisis worldwide In the context of the crisis of social reproduction impoverishment and growing inequalities myriads of women led grass root initiatives are bubbling up They reorganize social reproduction redefine the meaning of work and value explore new ways of doing economics and politics construct solidarity driven social relationships and combat their subordination In doing so these initiatives challenge the patriarchal financialized and dehumanizing capitalist system and offer transformative sustainable paths for feminist social change Drawing on fine grained ethnographies in Latin America and India this book sheds light on women s daily struggles their difficulties contradictions fragilities and also their successes and achievements This book seeks to inspire activists researchers and policy makers in the field of feminism and solidarity economy to contribute to amplifying the movement which rests on the articulation of the various initiatives

Revitalising Deprived Urban Neighbourhoods Colin C. Williams, Jan Windebank, 2017-03-02 Governments in Western Europe and North America have placed job creation initiatives at the heart of their policy for revitalizing deprived neighbourhoods However relying on this alone is problematic and these governments are becoming increasingly interested in finding ways of enabling communities to help themselves Drawing upon original in depth studies of self help activities in both deprived and affluent neighbourhoods in UK cities this book examines why the populations of deprived neighbourhoods are more likely to be excluded not only from the labour market but also from adopting self help practices in response to their situation It also identifies the barriers which discourage participation in self help projects A combination of policies are advocated bringing together innovative bottom up initiatives such as LETS time currencies and Employee Mutuals with top down policies such as Active Citizens Credits This book instead suggests a fresh and positive approach towards revitalizing deprived neighbourhoods based on seeking the full engagement rather than merely the full employment of deprived populations

A Postcapitalist Politics J. K. Gibson-Graham, Is there life after capitalism In this creatively argued follow up to their book The End of Capitalism As We Knew It J K Gibson Graham offer already existing alternatives to a global capitalist order and outline strategies for building alternative economies A Postcapitalist Politics reveals a prolific landscape of economic diversity one that is not exclusively or predominantly capitalist and examines the challenges and successes of alternative economic interventions Gibson Graham bring together political economy feminist poststructuralism and economic activism to foreground the ethical decisions as opposed to structural imperatives that construct economic development pathways Marshalling empirical evidence from local economic projects and action research in the United States Australia and Asia they produce a distinctive political imaginary with three intersecting moments a politics of language of the subject and of collective action In the face of an almost universal sense of surrender to capitalist globalization this book demonstrates that postcapitalist subjects economies and communities can be fostered The authors describe a politics of possibility that can build different economies in place and over space They urge us to confront the forces that stand in the way of economic experimentation and to explore different ways of moving from theory to action J K Gibson Graham is the pen name of Katherine Gibson and Julie Graham feminist economic geographers who work respectively at the Australian National University in Canberra and the University of Massachusetts Amherst

Globalizing Resistance François Polet, CETRI, 2004-09-20 From Bolivia to New Zealand from South Africa to Russia and China this is a round the world tour of resistance to neoliberalism The anti globalization movement is truly global each region has its own specific groups and agendas this book presents writers and activists from every continent to provide a truly international view of alternative social and political struggles Struggles against capitalism privatisation social exclusion and exploitation are mobilising many thousands This book examines what has been achieved so far The authors examine the World Social Forums as a dynamic for moving things forward They explore the global anti war movement and the successful mobilisation for the protests of 15th February 2003 they analyse new media strategies and they offer a disturbing account on new police arrangements to control demonstrators Edited by Francois Polet who is a member of the Tricontinental Centre and the World Forum for Alternatives a group that plays a prominent role in the World Social Forums the book includes contributions from Donatella della Porta Boaventura de Sousa Santos Verity Burgmann Paola Manduca and Bernard Dreano

Informal Employment in Advanced Economies Colin C. Williams, Jan Windebank, 2002-09-11 Re Placing Informal Employment challenges many of the popular myths surrounding informal economic activities and offers a radical reassessment of their extent growth location and nature The book uses case studies from the UK France Italy the Netherlands the US and Canada to challenge the popular belief that informal employment is growing throughout the advanced economies the myth that this work is undertaken mostly by marginalized groups the dominant view that we should replace informal with formal employment through enforcement of regulations Examining policy options and their consequences the authors show that conventional approaches only increase inequalities and that a radical alternative solution is essential
