Reconstructing Illness Studies In Pathography:

Reconstructing Illness Anne Hunsaker Hawkins, 1999 Serious illness and mortality those most universal unavoidable and frightening of human experiences are the focus of this pioneering study which has been hailed as a telling and provocative commentary on our times As modern medicine has become more scientific and dispassionate a new literary genre has emerged pathography the personal narrative concerning illness treatment and sometimes death Hawkins s sensitive reading of numerous pathographies highlights the assumptions attitudes and myths that people bring to the medical encounter One factor emerges again and again in these case studies the tendency in contemporary medical practice to focus primarily not on the needs of the individual who is sick but on the condition that we call disease Pathography allows the individual person a voice one that asserts the importance of the experiential side of illness and thus restores the feeling thinking experiencing human being to the center of the medical enterprise Recommended for medical practitioners the clergy caregivers students of popular culture and the general reader Reconstructing Illness demonstrates that only when we hear both the doctor s and the patient s voice will we have a medicine that is truly human Reconstructing Illness Anne Hunsaker Hawkins, 1999

Hyperandrogenism and the Marginalization of Pathologized Bodies Megan Perram, 2025-09-30 In the current sociopolitical landscape hyperandrogenism has become a lightning rod for collective anxieties about transgender identities and preserving women s sports as well as misunderstandings about the inherent fairness of sport and the biological mechanisms that quantify athletic advantage Perched behind this discourse people living with hyperandrogenism face ongoing destabilization of healthcare access and find their experiences are often silenced and marginalized This book offers a novel therapeutic method for individuals with hyperandrogenism to share their experiences using literary hypertext a form of digital storytelling that invites readers to participate by selecting hyperlinks Focusing on a case study of women and nonbinary individuals with hyperandrogenism ten hypertext authors narratives are explored Their experiences highlight the therapeutic value of writing a hypertext illness narrative by mapping reflective experiences through hyperlinks and sharing their narrative with the broader community Providing interdisciplinary insights into the lived experience of hyperandrogenism as well as practical guidance on the clinical use of literary text this book will appeal to researchers and clinicians interested in hyperandrogenism gender studies health humanities narrative therapy electronic media game design and feminist media studies Medical Humanities Thomas R. Cole, Nathan S. Carlin, Ronald A. Carson, 2015 This textbook uses concepts and methods of the humanities to enhance understanding of medicine and health care Degeneration, decadence and disease in the Russian fin de siècle Frederick White, 2015-11-01 Early in the twentieth century Russia was experiencing a decadent period of cultural degeneration just as science was developing ways to identify medical conditions which supposedly reflected the health of the entire nation Leonid Andreev the leading literary figure of his time stepped into the breach of this scientific discourse with literary works about degenerates The spirited social debates on mental illness morality and sexual deviance which resulted from these works became part of the ongoing battle over the definition and depiction of the irrational complicated by Andreev's own publicised bouts with neurasthenia This book examines the concept of pathology in Russia the influence of European medical discourse the development of Russian psychiatry and the role that it had in popular culture by investigating the life and works of Andreev It engages the emergence of psychiatry and the role that art played in the development of this objective science Illness in the Academy Kimberly Rena Myers, 2007 Illness in the Academy investigates the deep seated widespread belief among academics and medical professionals that lived experiences outside the workplace should not be sacrificed to the ideal of objectivity those academic and medical professions so highly value The 47 selections in this collection illuminate how academics bring their intellectual and creative tools skills and perspectives to bear on experiences of illness The selections cross genres as well as bridge disciplines and cultures Caring Well David H. Smith, 2000-01-01 Caring Well reinvigorates the contribution of religion to medical ethics by developing new methodologies for approaching problems encountered in one particularly important aspect of the work of health care professionals care for the seriously ill It includes new work by some of the most prominent scholars in the field of medical ethics Stories of Sickness Howard Brody, 2002-10-31 Our personalities and our identities are intimately bound up with the stories that we tell to organize and to make sense of our lives To understand the human meaning of illness we therefore must turn to the stories we tell about illness suffering and medical care Stories of Sickness explores the many dimensions of what illness means to the sufferers and to those around them drawing on depictions of illness in great works of literature and in nonfiction accounts The exploration is primarily philosophical but incorporates approaches from literature and from the medical social sciences When it was first published in 1987 Stories of Sickness helped to inaugurate a renewed interest in the importance of narrative studies in health care For the Second Edition the text has been thoroughly revised and significantly expanded Four almost entirely new chapters have been added on the nature complexities and rigor of narrative ethics and how it is carried out There is also an additional chapter on maladaptive ways of being sick that deals in greater depth with disability issues Health care professionals students of medicine and bioethics and ordinary people coping with illness no less than scholars in the health care humanities and social sciences will find much value in this volume Unique Features Philosophically sophisticated yet clearly written and easily accessible Interdisciplinary approach combines philosophy literature health care social sciences Contains many fascinating stories and vignettes of illness drawn from both fiction and nonfiction A new and comprehensive overview of the hot topic of narrative ethics in medicine and health care

Depression and Narrative Hilary Clark, 2008-10-09 Depression and Narrative examines stories of depression in the context of recent scholarship on illness and narrative which up to this point has largely focused on physical illness and disability Contributors from a number of disciplinary perspectives address these narrative accounts of depression by both sufferers and those who treat them as they appear in memoirs diaries novels poems oral interviews fact sheets blogs films and television shows Together they explore the stories we tell about depression its contested causes its gendering the transformations in identity that it entails and the problems it presents for communication associated as it is with stigma and shame Unlike certain physical illnesses such as cancer depression is stigmatized sometimes as a nonproblem the sufferer should snap out of it and sometimes as the slippery slope to madness Thus depression narratives have their work cut out for them This book highlights the work these stories do including bringing meaning to sufferers explaining depression justifying therapies and treatments and reducing the burden of shame accounting for a suffering that is in the end unaccountable

Madness in Context: Historical, Poetic and Artistic Perspectives, 2020-09-25 A group of twenty scholars from different disciplinary and cultural backgrounds developed a series of dialogues and discussions on the notion experience and representation of madness This volume is the result of those discussions

A Narrative Approach to Social Media Mourning Korina Giaxoglou, 2020-06-04 This book investigates how social media are reconfiguring dying death and mourning Taking a narrative approach it argues that dying death and mourning are shared online as small stories of the moment which are organized around transgressive moments and events with motivational participatory or connective scope Through the different case studies discussed this book presents an empirical framework for analyzing small stories of dying death and mourning as practices of sharing which become associated with specific modes of affective positioning i e modulations of different degrees of distance or proximity to the death event and the dead the networked audience s and the affective self The book calls for the study of affect as integral to narrative activity and opens up broader questions about how stories and emotion are mobilized in digital cultures for accruing audiences value social or economic and visibility It will be of interest to researchers in narrative analysis the anthropology and sociology of emotion digital communication media and cultural studies and digital death and dying

American Life Writing and the Medical Humanities Samantha Allen Wright, 2020-06-16 American Life Writing and the Medical Humanities Writing Contagion bridges a gap in the market by linking the medical humanities with disability studies It examines how Americans used life writing to record epidemic disease throughout history Narrative Matters in Medical Contexts across Disciplines Franziska Gygax, Miriam A. Locher, 2015-03-13 This collection of original chapters gives center stage to the concept of narrative in medical contexts The contributors come from the disciplines of literary and cultural studies linguistics psychology and medicine and work with texts as diverse as autobiographies graphic novels Renaissance medical treatises and reports short stories reflective writing creative writing and online narratives The interdisciplinary dialogue shows the richness and scope of the concept narrative and demonstrates how crucial it is for practices in the medical context as well as in the contributing disciplines The collection raises awareness of the great variety and multivocality of narratives on the experience of illness besides paying heed to the many different positions and angles from which these narratives can be perceived read and analyzed The wide range of approaches assembled in this collection provides a comprehensive view on illness and health and on the multiple ways in which they are represented in narrative The Practice of Autonomy Carl Schneider, 1998 Exploring what patients do want gives direction to the author's inquiry into what they should want What patients want he believes is properly more complex and ambiguous than being empowered In this book he charts that ambiguity to take the autonomy principle past current pieties into the uncertain realities of the sick room and the hospital ward The Practice of Autonomy is a sympathetic but trenchant study of the animating principle of modern bioethics It speaks with freshness insight and even passion to bioethicists and moral philosophers about their theories to lawyers about their methods to medical sociologists about their subject to policy makers about their ambitions to doctors about their work and to patients about their lives BOOK JACKET

Medicine and Maladies , 2018-07-03 Medicine and Maladies explores the aesthetic medical and socio political contexts that informed depictions of illness and disease in nineteenth century France Eleven essays by specialists in nineteenth century French literature and visual culture probe the acts of writing reading and viewing corporeal afflictions across the works of medical practitioners surgeons pharmacists novelists and artists Tracing scientific discourse in literary narratives and signalling references to fiction in medical texts the contributions to this interdisciplinary volume invite us to rethink the relationship between the humanities and the medical sciences Death within the Text Adriana Teodorescu, 2019-03-13 The book tackles the challenging theme of death as seen through the lens of literature and its connections with history the visual arts anthropology philosophy and other fields in humanities It searches for answers to three questions what can we know about death how is death socialised and how and for which purposes is death aesthetically shaped Unlike many other publications the volume does not endorse the fallacy of over simplifying death by seeing it either in an exclusively positive light or by reducing it to a purely literary figure Using literature's potential to stimulate critical thinking many contemporary stereotypical configurations of death and dying are debunked and many hitherto unforeseen ways in which death functions as a complex trigger of meaning making are revealed The book proves that death is an inexhaustible source of meanings which should be understood as peremptorily plural discontinuous problematic competitive and often conflictual It offers original contributions to the field of death studies and also to literary and cultural studies The Bloomsbury Handbook to Ageing in Contemporary Literature and Film Sarah Falcus, Heike Hartung, Raquel Medina, 2023-06-29 Across more than 30 chapters spanning migration queerness and climate change this handbook captures how the interdisciplinary and intersectional endeavor of Age ing studies has shaped contemporary literary and film studies In the early 21st century the literary study of age and ageing in its cultural context has come of age it has come to supplement and challenge a public discourse on ageing seen mainly as a political and demographic problem in many countries of the world Following a tripartite structure it looks first at literary and film genres and how they have been shaped by knowledge about age and ageing incorporating both narrative genres as well as poetry drama and imagery The second section includes chapters on key themes and concepts in Age ing Studies with examples from film and literature The third section brings together case studies focussing on individual artists national traditions and global ageing Containing original contributions by pioneers in the field as well as new scholars from across the globe it brings together current scholarship on ageing in literary and film studies and offers new directions and perspectives

The Course of God's Providence Philippa Koch, 2021-04-13 Shows that a religious understanding of illness and health persisted well into post Enlightenment early America The COVID 19 pandemic has demonstrated the power of narrative during times of sickness and disease As Americans strive to find meaning amid upheaval and loss some consider the nature of God s will Early American Protestants experienced similar struggles as they attempted to interpret the diseases of their time In this groundbreaking work Philippa Koch explores the doctrine of providence a belief in a divine plan for the world and its manifestations in eighteenth century America from its origins as a consoling response to sickness to how it informed the practices of Protestant activity in the Atlantic world Drawing on pastoral manuals manuscript memoirs journals and letters as well as medical treatises epidemic narratives and midwifery manuals Koch shows how Protestant teachings around providence shaped the lives of believers even as the Enlightenment seemed to portend a more secular approach to the world and the human body Their commitment to providence prompted in fact early Americans active engagement with the medical developments of their time encouraging them to see modern science and medicine as divinely bestowed missionary tools for helping others Indeed the book shows that the ways in which the colonial world thought about questions of God s will in sickness and health help to illuminate the continuing power of Protestant ideas and practices in American society today

Invalidism and Identity in Nineteenth-Century Britain Maria H. Frawley, 2010-11-15 Nineteenth century Britain did not invent chronic illness but its social climate allowed hundreds of men and women from intellectuals to factory workers to assume the identity of invalid Whether they suffered from a temporary condition or an incurable disease many wrote about their experiences leaving behind an astonishingly rich and varied record of disability in Victorian Britain Using an array of primary sources Maria Frawley here constructs a cultural history of invalidism She describes the ways that Evangelicalism industrialization and changing patterns of doctor patient relationships all converged to allow a culture of invalidism to flourish and explores what it meant for a person to be designated or to deem oneself an invalid Highlighting how different types of invalids developed distinct rhetorical strategies her absorbing account reveals that contrary to popular belief many of the period s most prominent and prolific invalids were men while many women found invalidism an unexpected opportunity for authority In uncovering the wide range of cultural and social responses to notions of incapacity Frawley sheds light on our own historical moment similarly fraught with equally complicated attitudes toward mental and physical disorder
