Reconstructing Societies In The Aftermath Of War:

Reconstructing Post-Saddam Iraq Sultan Barakat, 2007-08-16 Previously published as a special issue of Third World Quarterly this volume seeks to analyze to what extent the controversial US policy of democratizing the Middle East with pre-emptive invasions was justified or effective Post 9 11 the US developed a policy of War on Terror taking the decision to democratize the Middle East with pre-emptive in Art from Trauma Rangira Béatrice Gallimore, Gerise Herndon, 2019-08 What is the role of aesthetic expression in responding to discrimination tragedy violence even genocide How does gender shape responses to both literal and structural violence including implicit linguistic familial and cultural violence How might writing or other works of art contribute to healing Art from Trauma Genocide and Healing beyond Rwanda explores the possibility of art as therapeutic capable of implementation by mental health practitioners crafting mental health policy in Rwanda This anthology of scholarly personal and hybrid essays was inspired by scholar and activist Chantal Kalisa 1965 2015 At the commemoration of the nineteenth anniversary of the genocide in Rwanda organized by the Rwandan Embassy in Washington DC Kalisa gave a presentation Who Speaks for the Survivors of the Genocide against Tutsi Kalisa devoted her energy to giving expression to those whose voices had been distorted or silenced The essays in this anthology address how the production and experience of visual dramatic cinematic and musical arts in addition to literary arts contribute to healing from the trauma of mass violence offering preliminary responses to questions like Kalisa's and honoring her by continuing the dialogue in which she participated with such passion sharing the work of scholars and colleagues in genocide studies gender studies and francophone literatures Mathematical Communities in the Reconstruction After the Great War 1918-1928 Laurent Mazliak, Rossana Tazzioli, 2021-03-27 This book is a consequence of the international meeting organized in Marseilles in November 2018 devoted to the aftermath of the Great War for mathematical communities It features selected original research presented at the meeting offering a new perspective on a period the 1920s not extensively considered by historiography After 1918 new countries were created and borders of several others were modified Territories were annexed while some countries lost entire regions These territorial changes bear witness to the massive and varied upheavals with which European societies were confronted in the aftermath of the Great War The reconfiguration of political Europe was accompanied by new alliances and a redistribution of trade commercial intellectual artistic military and so on which largely shaped international life during the interwar period These changes also had an enormous impact on scientific life not only in practice but also in its organization and communication strategies The mathematical sciences which from the late 19th century to the 1920s experienced a deep disciplinary evolution were thus facing a double movement internal and external which led to a sustainable restructuring of research and teaching Concomitantly various areas such as topology functional analysis abstract algebra logic or probability among others experienced exceptional development This was accompanied by an explosion of new international or national associations of mathematicians with for instance the founding in 1918 of the International Mathematical Union and the controversial creation of the International Research Council Therefore the central idea for the articulation of the various chapters of the book is to present case studies illustrating how in the aftermath of the war many mathematicians had to organize their personal trajectories taking into account the evolution of the political social and scientific environment which had taken place at the end of the conflict The Noble Soldier Pasquale De Marco,2025-07-14 In a world forever scarred by the ravages of war there exists a nobility of spirit that shines through the darkest of times the spirit of the Noble Soldier From ancient battlefields to modern theaters of conflict these courageous men and women stand as guardians of peace embodying the ideals of honor duty and unwavering resilience This book is their story an inspiring and thought provoking account of the lives sacrifices and unwavering dedication of the Noble Soldier Through a compelling tapestry of historical narratives and personal accounts we delve into the heart of military life where the virtues of loyalty camaraderie and selflessness are forged in the crucible of conflict We witness the indomitable spirit of the Noble Soldier in the face of adversity their unwavering sense of duty amidst the chaos of battle and their unwavering belief in the ideals they fight for We learn of their motivations their struggles and the deep seated resilience that allows them to rise above the horrors of war and emerge as beacons of hope and honor But this book also confronts the darker realities of war the ethical dilemmas that haunt the Noble Soldier and the scars both physical and mental that conflict inflicts upon them We explore the challenges of balancing military imperatives with humanitarian concerns the fine line between valor and brutality and the importance of reconciliation and forgiveness in the aftermath of war This book is a tribute to the Noble Soldier past and present whose sacrifices have safeguarded our freedoms and protected our communities It is a call for peace and understanding in a world too often marred by conflict a testament to the resilience of the human spirit and an inspiring account of the enduring power of nobility even in the darkest of times If you like this book write a review The Oxford Handbook of Peaceful Change in International Relations T. V. Paul,Deborah Welch Larson,Harold A. Trinkunas,Anders Wivel,Ralf Emmers,2021-08-05 The discipline of international relations offers much insight into why violent power transitions occur yet there have been few substantive examinations of why and how peaceful changes happen in world politics This work is the first comprehensive treatment of that subject The Oxford Handbook of Peaceful Change in International Relations provides a thorough examination of research on the problem of change in the international arena and the reasons why change happens peacefully at times and at others violently It contains over forty chapters which examine the historical theoretical global regional and national foreign policy dimensions of peaceful change As the world enters a new round of power transition conflict involving a rapidly rising China and a relatively declining United States this Handbook provides a necessary resource for decisionmakers and scholars engaged in this vital area of research Rebuilding Communities After Displacement Mo Hamza,Dilanthi Amaratunga,Richard Haigh,Chamindi Malalgoda,Chathurangane Jayakody,Anuradha Senanayake,2023-02-19 This book presents a collection of double blind peer reviewed papers under the scope of sustainable and resilient approaches for rebuilding displaced and host communities Forced displacement is a major development challenge not only a humanitarian concern A surge in violent conflict as well as increasing levels of disaster risk and environmental degradation driven by climate change has forced people to leave or flee their homes both internally displaced as well as refugees The rate of forced displacement befalling in different countries all over the world today is phenomenal with an increasingly higher rate of the population being affected on daily basis than ever These displacement situations are becoming increasingly protracted many lasting over 5 years Therefore there is a need to develop more sustainable and resilient approaches to rebuild these displaced communities ensuring the long term satisfaction of communities and enhancing the social cohesion between the displaced and host communities Accordingly chapters are arranged around five main themes of rebuilding communities after displacement Response management for displaced communities The Built environment in resettlement planning Governance of displacement Socio Economic interventions for sustainable resettlement

World War I and Southern Modernism David A. Davis, 2017-11-27 Winner of the 2018 Eudora Welty Prize When the United States entered World War I parts of the country had developed industries urban cultures and democratic political systems but the South lagged behind remaining an impoverished agriculture region Despite New South boosterism the culture of the early twentieth century South was comparatively artistically arid Yet southern writers dominated the literary marketplace by the 1920s and 1930s World War I brought southerners into contact with modernity before the South fully modernized This shortfall created an inherent tension between the region's existing agricultural social structure and the processes of modernization leading to distal modernism a form of writing that combines elements of modernism to depict non modern social structures Critics have struggled to formulate explanations for the eruption of modern southern literature sometimes called the Southern Renaissance Pinpointing World War I as the catalyst David A Davis argues southern modernism was not a self generating outburst of writing but a response to the disruptions modernity generated in the region In World War I and Southern Modernism Davis examines dozens of works of literature by writers including William Faulkner Ellen Glasgow and Claude McKay that depict the South during the war Topics explored in the book include contact between the North and the South southerners who served in combat and the developing southern economy Davis also provides a new lens for this argument taking a closer look at African Americans in the military and changing gender roles

Conflict, International Intervention and Local Agency Ervjola Selenica, 2025-03-31 This book analyses international interventions in the education sector of conflict affected countries in a world order shifting towards multipolarity The work presents a genealogy of interventions in the education sector and unravels which agendas among security peace humanitarianism and emergency underpin such interventions By using a comparative case study analysis across three regional expanses and more specifically three countries Kosovo Niger and Jordan the book aims to contribute to reflections on the interaction between the national and the international The research finds that an overarching stabilization imperative has informed international projects on education reform in the three respective countries As the world is becoming increasingly multipolar and new threats are being framed as challenging and threatening the security of Western donors local actors have more agency towards international templates of intervention The book shows how contemporary processes of state and nation building in conflict affected global peripheries are shaped by substantial forms of external intervention in which practices of sovereignty and statehood are continuously supervised and negotiated The author advocates for a re adaptation of International Relations theoretical lenses which goes beyond the methodological nationalism and disciplinary parochialism that has characterized much of the existing literature on state making unmaking and international interventions in a globalized world This book will be of much interest to students of education international intervention peace studies security studies and International Relations

Revitalising Communities in a Globalising World Professor Lena Dominelli, 2012-12-28 Revitalising Communities in a Globalising World explores the opportunities and constraints that the dynamics of globalisation present for human development in a range of different countries and situations Arguing that globalisation is currently a system of organising social relations along neoliberal lines this timely volume examines practical examples of how people respond to significant social changes in their communities The idea of communities is deconstructed to show that globalisation has collapsed the boundaries of time space and place in ways that have exacerbated inequalities at the same time giving rise to unparalleled riches for some The book encompasses a number of case studies that speak to policymakers practitioners educators and students interested in studying globalisation and making the most of its potential for change

Shattered Homes Rebuild Nakoa Rainfall, AI, 2025-02-27 Shattered Homes Rebuild delves into the crucial processes of post war recovery highlighting how collective labor and resource mobilization are essential for community resilience The book examines various post conflict scenarios from World War II to more recent humanitarian crises to understand how societies rebuild homes economies and social structures It argues that successful reconstruction depends on harnessing collective action and fairly distributing resources challenging top down approaches For example examining how communities adapted traditional social networks or created new institutions can provide insights into effective recovery models The book unfolds by initially introducing core concepts like collective labor and resource mobilization It then progresses through case studies of successful initiatives explores diverse resource allocation strategies and investigates the evolution of community structures By emphasizing local participation and ownership Shattered Homes Rebuild offers a unique perspective on fostering sustainable recovery shifting the focus from immediate relief to long term resilience The book is valuable for policymakers aid organizations and anyone interested in understanding effective post conflict recovery strategies

Rebuilding Sustainable Communities in Iraq Adenrele Awotona, 2009-05-27 The scene in Iraq is most troubling and further failure therein especially failure in sustainable reconstruction will compound the tragedy and bring grievous harm to too many in Iraq the United States the Middle East and the Western world Yet the current efforts at reconstruction cannot succeed as we seem to be making many of the same mistakes that were made post invasion Simply put a national occupying power cannot reconstruct a massive societal vacuum by working only top down Reconstruction is not the simple reversal of destruction Sustainability requires serious localized reconstitution of localized community infrastructure Accordingly in order to explore how Iraqi communities could be rebuilt in a manner that promotes social justice economic and political sustainability and the full participation of all stakeholders the Center for Rebuilding Sustainable Communities after Disasters at the University of Massachusetts at Boston USA hosted a four day international conference of Iraqi and international scholars and practitioners in July 2007 This volume collects some of the papers that were presented at the conference Amongst the topics that the contributing authors have explored are the following the role of organizations and institutions in defining strategies for sustainable rebuilding of community rebuilding the Iraqi Oil Industry and successful project strategies in Iraq s Kurdistan region The book concludes with a presentation of a number of international perspectives and their lessons for Iraq These studies spring from Afghanistan the United States of America and Africa

Interpersonal Relations Prof. Dr. Bilal Semih Bozdemir, To understand the influence of industrialization on interpersonal relations it is crucial to analyze the structural shifts that characterized this period The rise of factories and mass production methods meant that large numbers of workers were concentrated in urban centers leading to the emergence of a new social order The factory system created environments where individuals from diverse backgrounds interacted on a daily basis fostering new forms of social relationships and networks However this proximity did not necessarily translate into solidarity or community Indeed the rapid urbanization often bred isolation and alienation as individuals were uprooted from their traditional communities and support systems leading to feelings of disconnection in the bustling city life Moreover the hierarchical structures of industrial workplaces altered the dynamics of interpersonal relations In contrast to the more egalitarian social structures prevalent in agrarian societies the industrial era saw the rise of a distinctly stratified social order Employers and managers wielded significant power over their employees shaping the nature of interactions within the workplace as well as in the broader community The relationship between labor and management became characterized by conflict negotiation and sometimes antagonism particularly as workers began to organize for better conditions and rights The labor movement and the establishment of trade unions not only transformed the nature of work but also redefined interpersonal relations as collective action provided a platform for workers to unite and interact in new ways fostering solidarity among individuals who had previously been isolated in their struggles

When War Ends David J. Francis, 2016-02-17 This volume critically examines what happens when war formally ends the difficult and complex challenges and opportunities for winning the peace and reconciling divided communities By reviewing a case study of the West African state of Sierra Leone potential lessons for other parts of the world can be gained Sierra Leone has emerged as a successful model of liberal peacebuilding that is now popularly advertised and promoted by the international community as a powerful example of a country that they finally got right Concerns about how successful a model Sierra Leone actually is are outlined in this project As such this volume
