Conflict and Post-Conflict Governance in the Middle East and Africa Moosa A. Elayah, Laurent A. Lambert, 2023-03-12 This book explores the challenges of the governance and public policy in the midst and after conflicts revolutions and civil wars in the Middle East and Africa As anywhere else the task of rebuilding peace and institutionalizing stability in countries experiencing a conflict or just emerging from it is daunting uncertain and context specific Yet focusing on the Middle East and Africa is of particular relevance as these two regions feature the highest numbers of inter and intra state conflicts on the one hand and the central states are more often contested than in the rest of world regions The first half of the book proposes different cases addressing the fundamental challenge of inclusion and cohesion as well as the recurring issue of exclusion in conflict affected situations with four different cultural and institutional settings The second half of the book offers more theoretical insights and proposed pathways to develop more inclusive and peaceful governance settings in Africa the Middle East and beyond This edited book has been designed to be a helpful contribution to the analysis of conflict and post conflict governance and peacebuilding To do so it deploys different lenses of social sciences especially public policy and international relations but also benefits from social psychology political anthropology and other disciplines that enable a more comprehensive understanding of the multifaceted complex and dynamic issues at play

Transnationalism and the German City J. Diefendorf, J. Ward, 2014-04-24 Too often scholars treat transnationalism as a conflict in which the local regional and national give way to globalized identity As these varied studies of German cities show though the urban environment is actually a site of trans localism that is not merely oppositional but that adapts itself dialectically to the forces of globalization

Rebuilding Britain's Blitzed Cities Catherine Flinn, 2018-12-27 Many British cities were devastated by bombing during the Second World War and faced stark economic dilemmas concerning reconstruction planning and implementation after 1945 How did politicians civil servants and local authorities manage to produce the cities we live in today Rebuilding Britain's Blitzed Cities examines the underlying processes and pressures especially financial and bureaucratic which shaped postwar urbanism in Britain Catherine Flinn integrates architectural planning with in depth economic and political analyses of Britain's blitzed cities for the first time She examines early reconstruction arrangements the postwar economic apparatus and the challenges of postwar physical planning across the country while providing insightful case studies from the cities of Hull Exeter and Liverpool By addressing the ideology versus the reality of reconstruction in postwar Britain Rebuilding Britain's Blitzed Cities highlights the importance of economic and political factors for understanding the British postwar built environment
