Blood Lines Sheila Marie Contreras, 2009-07-21 2009 Runner up Modern Language Association Prize in United States Latina and Latino and Chicana and Chicano Literary and Cultural Studies Blood Lines Myth Indigenism and Chicana o Literature examines a broad array of texts that have contributed to the formation of an indigenous strand of Chicano cultural politics In particular this book exposes the ethnographic and poetic discourses that shaped the aesthetics and stylistics of Chicano nationalism and Chicana feminism Contreras offers original perspectives on writers ranging from Alurista and Gloria Anzald a to Lorna Dee Cervantes and Alma Luz Villanueva effectively marking the invocation of a Chicano indigeneity whose foundations and formulations can be linked to U S and British modernist writing By highlighting intertextualities such as those between Anzald a and D H Lawrence Contreras critiques the resilience of primitivism in the Mexican borderlands She questions established cultural perspectives on the native which paradoxically challenge and reaffirm racialized representations of Indians in the Americas In doing so Blood Lines brings a new understanding to the contradictory and richly textured literary relationship that links the projects of European modernism and Anglo American authors on the one hand and the imaginary of the post revolutionary Mexican state and Chicana writers on the other hand

The Mexican Outsiders Martha Menchaca, 2010-01-01 People of Mexican descent and Anglo Americans have lived together in the U S Southwest for over a hundred years yet relations between them remain strained as shown by recent controversies over social services for undocumented aliens in California In this study covering the Spanish colonial period to the present day Martha Menchaca delves deeply into interethnic relations in Santa

Paula California to document how the residential social and school segregation of Mexican origin people became institutionalized in a representative California town Menchaca lived in Santa Paula during the 1980s and interviews with residents add a vivid human dimension to her book She argues that social segregation in Santa Paula has evolved into a system of social apartness that is a cultural system controlled by Anglo Americans that designates the proper times and places where Mexican origin people can socially interact with Anglos This first historical ethnographic case study of a Mexican origin community will be important reading across a spectrum of disciplines including anthropology sociology race and ethnicity Latino studies and American culture Making Black Los Angeles Marne L. Campbell, 2016-09-27 Black Los Angeles started small The first census of the newly formed Los Angeles County in 1850 recorded only twelve Americans of African descent alongside a population of more than 3 500 Anglo Americans Over the following seventy years however the African American founding families of Los Angeles forged a vibrant community within the increasingly segregated and stratified city In this book historian Marne L Campbell examines the intersections of race class and gender to produce a social history of community formation and cultural expression in Los Angeles Expanding on the traditional narrative of middle class uplift Campbell demonstrates that the black working class largely through the efforts of women fought to secure their own economic and social freedom by forging communal bonds with black elites and other communities of color This women led black working class agency and cross racial community building Campbell argues was markedly more successful in Los Angeles than in any other region in the country Drawing from an extensive database of all African American households between 1850 and 1910 Campbell vividly tells the story of how middle class African Americans were able to live work and establish a community of their own in the growing city of Los Angeles Racial Dynamics in Early Twentieth-Century Austin, Texas Jason McDonald, 2012-06-14 This pioneering study sheds new light on racial dynamics in the urban Southwest at a critical juncture in the history of the region and the nation It focuses upon the experiences of ethnoracial minorities particularly African Americans and Mexican immigrants in Austin Texas from the dawn of the Progressive Era to the onset of the Great Depression Through this lens McDonald explores the issues of migration proletarianization marginalization adaptation identity and community He reveals how in response to the exponential growth of the local ethnic Mexican population the white elite of the Lone Star State s capital adapted the city s bipartite system of segregation which had traditionally separated blacks from whites to incorporate Mexicans as a third and separate element neither black nor white As well as examining how African Americans and Mexican Americans responded to life in a racially stratified society McDonald examines the often fraught relationship between these groups Latino Education Pedro Pedraza, Melissa Rivera, 2006-04-21 This landmark volume represents the work of the National Latino a Education Research Agenda Project NLERAP an initiative focused on school reform and educational research with and for Latino communities NLERAP s goal is to bring together various constituencies within the broad Latino community who are concerned with public
