Undoing Privilege Professor Bob Pease, 2021-11-18 For every group that is oppressed another group is privileged Here Bob Pease argues that privilege as the other side of oppression has received insufficient attention in both critical theories and in the practices of social change As a result dominant groups have been allowed to reinforce their dominance The second edition of Undoing Privilege extensively revises the six sites of privilege from the first edition Western dominance class elitism white and patriarchal privilege and heterosexual and able bodied privilege to reflect policy shifts and new social movement initiatives as well as the latest research and resources This edition also includes four new chapters on anthropocentrism cisgender privilege adultism and Christian privilege Pease points out that while the vast majority of people may be oppressed on one level many are also privileged on another He demonstrates how members of privileged groups can engage critically with their own dominant position and explores the potential and limitations of them forming relations of solidarity against oppression and their unearned privilege The second edition includes new theoretical developments in privilege theory collective responsibility complicity in systemic injustice and allyship It is an essential book for all who are concerned about developing theories and practices for a socially just world

Men, Masculinities and Disaster Elaine Enarson, Bob Pease, 2016-06-17 In the examination of gender as a driving force in disasters too little attention has been paid to how women's or men's disaster experiences relate to the wider context of gender inequality or how gender just practice can help prevent disasters or address climate change at a structural level With a foreword from Kenneth Hewitt an afterword from Raewyn Connell and contributions from renowned international experts this book helps address the gap It explores disasters in diverse environmental hazard political and cultural contexts through original research and theoretical reflection building on the under utilized orientation of critical men's studies This body of thought not previously applied in disaster contexts explores how men gain maintain and use power to assert control over women Contributing authors examine the gender terrain of disasters through men's eyes considering how diverse forms of masculinities shape men's efforts to respond to and recover from disasters and other climate challenges The book highlights both the high costs paid by many men in disasters and the consequences of dominant masculinity practices for women and marginalized men It concludes by examining how disaster risk can be reduced through men's diverse efforts to challenge hierarchies around gender sexuality disability age and culture

Engaging East Timorese Men in the Process of Establishing Gender Equality Melanie Lotfali, 2013-09-18 ABSTRACT The equality of women and men is a prerequisite for peace Social development interventions over recent decades have sought to achieve equality primarily by educating and liberating women from the shackles of customs and paradigms that serve to maintain gender inequality It is increasingly recognized that due attention must be given to men's essential role in the process to men's education and liberation In East Timor the latter process has begun albeit on a small scale This study looks at ways to further advance this process Three and a half years in East Timor provided the opportunity to engage in applied research using the methodology of ethnography I gathered data using three main techniques semi structured interviews with more gender equitable men and with women and men occupied with the engagement of East Timorese men in gender equality observation and direct participation within a wide range of settings from informal encounters on local beaches to high level meetings with the president and government ministers and analysis of pertinent primary and secondary documents I identified that a number of interventions are being applied to the issue of engaging East Timorese men in gender equality including use of workshops and trainings the performing arts campaigns and the mass media role modeling and the techniques of popular education with varying levels of success I found that the Association of Men Against Violence and its members are key players in the advancement of this process and that they work closely with feminist organizations within East Timor While I drew on much secular theory and practice in the course of this study my personal beliefs and practices are guided by the teachings of the Baha i Faith The Baha i teachings include much that is relevant to this study and thus I have drawn on and presented Baha i perspectives and approaches to such things as equality and men s role in its establishment social and economic development and the culture of contest and have 3 drawn on Baha i principles in the discussion of results and subsequently in drawing my conclusions By exploring the implications of interventions implemented in other parts of the world and of theory pertaining to social development masculinities and a culture of contest I identified that interventions in East Timor to engage men in gender equality would be strengthened by giving due consideration to the following developing participants ability to communicate providing opportunity for and developing the capacity of participants to critically reflect on their environment addressing participants as whole human beings and members of one human race and actively engaging participants in the development and ownership of knowledge I concluded that three areas requiring immediate attention include the development of evaluation tools and processes and the systematic documentation and sharing of learning as well as research into masculinities in an East Timorese context

Ecomasculinities Rubén Cenamor, Stefan Brandt, 2019-01-25 While there exist numerous studies on ecocriticism and ecofeminism much less has been written about ecomasculinities This volume contributes to filling this gap by examining models of fictional ecomasculinity in and through contemporary U S literature and cinema Our study examines ecomasculinities as practices of masculinity which are deeply conservationist and can embrace non masculine traits In this line of thought a main goal of the volume is to interrogate the potential of ecomasculinities to elicit in men a desire to become engage in other practices of masculinity that are counter hegemonic and have as main goal to achieve equality on different strata of society Bridging the gap between the Social Sciences and the Humanities the book interrogates intersections between ecomasculinities and masculinities beyond capitalism ecomasculinities and aging and ecomasculinities and queerness among others

Troubled Masculinities Kenneth James Moffatt,2012-01-01 Through personal narratives and assessments of artistic expression the contributors present critical and inventive views of masculinity and how it is performed and interpreted in urban space Set against the backdrop of Toronto the essays engage with the global and transnational processes that affect identity and consider how the social hybridity of large cities allows individuals to work against fundamentalist and essentialist attitudes toward gender

Masculinities R. W. Connell,Raewyn Connell,2005 This is an exciting new edition of R W Connell s ground breaking text which has become a classic work on the nature and construction of masculine identity Connell argues that there is not one masculinity but many different masculinities each associated with different positions of power In a world gender order that continues to privilege men over women but also raises difficult issues for men and boys his account is more pertinent than ever before In a substantial new introduction and conclusion Connell discusses the development of masculinity studies in the ten years since the book's initial publication. He explores global gender relations, new theories, and practical uses of masculinity research. Looking to the future, his new concluding chapter addresses the politics of masculinities and the implications of masculinity research for understanding current world issues. Against the backdrop of an increasingly divided world dominated by neo-conservative politics, Connell's account highlights a series of compelling questions about the future of human society. This second edition of Connell's classic book will be essential reading for students taking courses on masculinities and gender studies and will be of interest to students and scholars across the humanities and social sciences.

Emergent Writing Methodologies in Feminist Studies Mona Livholts, 2012-03-22 Contemporary challenges for seeking new knowledge in feminist studies are intimately intertwined with methodological renewal that promotes justice and equality in changing global contexts. Written by some of the leading scholars in their fields, this edited collection focuses on the emergence of writing methodologies in feminist studies and their implications for the study of power and change. The book explores some of the central political ideas and dimensions of power that shape and condition knowledge at the same time as it elaborates critical embodied, reflective, and situated writing practices. By bringing together a variety of multi-transdisciplinary contributions in a single collection, the anthology offers a timely and intellectually stimulating contribution that deals with how new forms of writing research can contribute to promote fruitful analysis of inequality and power relations related to gender, racialisation, ethnicity, class, and heteronormativity and their intersections. It also includes the complex relationship between author, text, and audiences. The intended audience is postgraduate researchers and academics within feminist and intersectionality studies across disciplines in the humanities and social sciences. The book is excellent as literature in feminist studies courses and helpful guidance for teaching writing sessions and workshops.

Information Technology, Organizations and People Jeff Watkins, 2002-09-11 This wide-ranging volume presents in-depth research into the effect of new information technologies on organizational structure, assesses their progress towards transformation, and describes the changes they are making to long-established business processes, roles, cultures, and working practices. The book is based upon a series of rolling surveys carried out between 1989 and the present day and funded by leading organizations such as IBM and KPMG. It provides a detailed picture of a sector in transition during a period of anxiety and doubt dominated by restructuring, downsizing, and experimentation with re-engineering. As the lean and mean emerge, they must now ask themselves if their competencies will enable them to survive into the next decade as competitors such as Sainsbury's, Virgin, Microsoft, and Ford position themselves to become major players in the sector. This book is a major contribution to the debate on the growth of knowledge work, the need for core organizational competencies in the information age, and the need for evolutionary or radical change.
