Douglas Brubaker,2005-01-01 The issues surrounding the regimes of ice covered areas international straits and passage rights of State vessels are analysed for the purpose of assessing the status of law and State practice in Russian Arctic waters Passage through the Northern Sea Route has for decades been one of the most contentious legal issues in Soviet Russian U S relations The jurisdictional claims of the large Arctic coastal States indicate substantial deviation from application of established law of the sea The regimes of straits used for international navigation and passage rights of State vessels seem subordinate to the regime of ice covered areas The main finding is that there are certain elements of consistency in the common interpretation of existing law and the behaviour of these States These elements seem to have put into action the process of formation of a specific customary international law as well as implementation and interpretation of the law under the Vienna Convention on the Law of Treaties Recueil Des Cours ,1995-06-06 The Academy is an institution for the study and teaching of public and private international law and related subjects Its purpose is to encourage a thorough and impartial examination of the problems arising from international relations in the field of law The courses deal with the theoretical and practical aspects of the subject including legislation and case law All courses at the Academy are in principle published in the language in which they were delivered in the Collected Courses of the Hague Academy of International Law Contents The International Court of Justice Viewed from the Bench 1976 1993 by S ODA Judge and former Vice President of the International Court of Justice International Cooperation and Protection of Children with Regard to Intercountry Adoption by J H A VAN LOON First Secretary of the Hague Conference on Private International Law To access the abstract texts for this volume please click here Recueil Des Cours Academie de Droit International,1998-06-03 The Academy is an institution for the study and teaching of public and private international law and related subjects Its purpose is to encourage a thorough and impartial examination of the problems arising from international relations in the field of law The courses deal with the theoretical and practical aspects of the subject including legislation and case law All courses at the Academy are in principle published in the language in which they were delivered in the Collected Courses of the Hague Academy of International Law This volume contains Souverainete territoriale et globalisation des marches le domaine d application des lois contre les restrictions de la concurrence par J BASEDOW professeur a l Universite libre de Berlin The number of national laws that protect competition against private restrictions are constantly increasing Their application to trans boundary situations poses difficult problems for both private international law and public international law The course deals with both either with respect to application of the lex fori or with respect to application of foreign laws Enforcement in the International Context by K D KERAMEUS Professor at the University of Athens In recent years enforcement proceedings have gone through a comprehensive reform in many countries Furthermore modern enforcement increasingly relies on foreign judgements The course focuses on three subjects the comparative element in recent codifications and case law developments in the area of enforcement salient and converging trends in the enforcement of foreign judgments on the basis of domestic law or international conventions and the delimitation of lex fori and foreign law during the enforcement proceedings To access the abstract texts for this volume please click here
