G. Wallace,2022-02-16 Originally published in 1976 the authors present a theory of cognitive development based upon an information processing approach This approach leads to the presentation of precise models of performance on a number of tasks derived from a set of critical quantitative concepts elementary quantification number concepts conservation and transitivity These models encompass both early and late developmental stages and a process model of the developmental mechanism itself is outlined Here is one of the first attempts to apply the information processing view of cognitive psychology to developmental issues raised by empirical work in the Piagetian tradition It includes an extensive analysis of the processing demands of several of the classic tasks and describes the development of a system capable of performing a wide range of other tasks including the ability to be self modifying It provides an introduction to general concepts and detailed properties of cognitive models stated as production systems It will be most valuable for students in cognitive development and related courses in developmental cognitive and educational psychology as well as computer science

A General Theory of Visual Culture Whitney Davis, 2022-06-14 What is cultural about vision or visual about culture In this ambitious book Whitney Davis provides new answers to these difficult and important questions by presenting an original framework for understanding visual culture Grounded in the theoretical traditions of art history A General Theory of Visual Culture argues that in a fully consolidated visual culture artifacts and pictures have been made to be seen in a certain way what Davis calls visibility is the visual perspective from which certain culturally constituted aspects of artifacts and pictures are visible to informed viewers In this book Davis provides a systematic analysis of visibility and describes how it comes into being as a historical form of vision Expansive in scope A General Theory of Visual Culture draws on art history aesthetics the psychology of perception the philosophy of reference and vision science as well as visual cultural studies in history sociology and anthropology It provides penetrating new definitions of form style and iconography and draws important and sometimes surprising conclusions for example that vision does not always attain to visual culture and that visual culture is not always wholly visible The book uses examples from a variety of cultural traditions from prehistory to the twentieth century to support a theory designed to apply to all human traditions of making artifacts and pictures that is to visual culture as a worldwide phenomenon

Red Square, Black Square Vladislav Todorov, 1994-11-04 This book builds a new vision of the development of Russian revolutionary culture bringing together fiction criticism utopian projects manifestos performance and film theory religious philosophy and the imaginary space of communism centered around the Mummy of Lenin Revolution and modernization are two main issues of the book The author argues that in Modernism the work of art was conceived as a miniature of the world to come thus art was meant to make projects not master pieces He analyzes the genre of the manifesto as a special rhetorical device of modernist discourse and shows how projects of biological and social engineering elaborate a vision of a future human type apt to exist under unprecedented conditions Red Square Black Square traces the process of totalitarian reduction of the modernist impulse into a rigid party doctrine It follows the turbulent development of Russian Modernism through its categorical arrest under the official doctrine of socialist realism Moscow s Red Square is examined as a primal communist space that manifests the symbolism of power Viewing communism as an aesthetically not economically motivated society the book enacts political aesthetics as a discipline that provides the fundamental tool for an adequate and thorough understanding of communism Todorov concludes by discussing the rise of nationalism in Eastern Europe as a post communist condition and the new mission of the intellectuals
