Seaside Making A Town In America:

Seaside David Mohoney, Keller Easterling, 1991 Seaside provides a history of the town interviews with its planners zoning and building codes and drawings photographs and descriptions of over 120 buildings by 40 architects Movie Towns and Sitcom Suburbs Stephen Rowley, 2015-10-21 Media depictions of community are enormously influential on wider popular opinion about how people would like to live In this study Rowley examines depictions of ideal communities in Hollywood films and television and explores the implications of attempts to build real world counterparts to such imagined places The Compact City Elizabeth Burton, Mike Jenks, Katie Williams, 2003-09-02 This book presents the latest thinking on the benefits and dangers of higher density urban living It offers diverse opinions and research from a wide range of disciplines and gives an insight into both the theoretical debate and the practical challenges surrounding the compact city Essential reading for anyone with an interest in sustainable urban development Postmodern Urbanism Nan Ellin, 1999 A comprehensive guide to the scope of contemporary urban design theory in Europe and the USA e-topia William J. Mitchell, 2000-08-25 How an electronically connected world will shape cities and urban relationships of the future The global digital network is not just a delivery system for email Web pages and digital television It is a whole new urban infrastructure one that will change the forms of our cities as dramatically as railroads highways electric power supply and telephone networks did in the past In this lucid invigorating book William J Mitchell examines this new infrastructure and its implications for our future daily lives Picking up where his best selling City of Bits left off Mitchell argues that we must extend the definitions of architecture and urban design to encompass virtual places as well as physical ones and interconnection by means of telecommunication links as well as by pedestrian circulation and mechanized transportation systems He proposes strategies for the creation of cities that not only will be sustainable but will make economic social and cultural sense in an electronically interconnected and global world The new settlement patterns of the twenty first century will be characterized by live work dwellings 24 hour pedestrian scale neighborhoods rich in social relationships and vigorous local community life complemented by far flung configurations of electronic meeting places and decentralized production marketing and distribution systems Neither digiphile nor digiphobe Mitchell advocates the creation of e topias cities that work smarter not harder Shaping Communities Carter L. Hudgins, Elizabeth C. Cromley, 1997 Ed SUNY Buffalo Revised papers from two conferences 1992 and 1993 Dwell, 2000-12 At Dwell we re staging a minor revolution We think that it s possible to live in a house or apartment by a bold modern architect to own furniture and products that are exceptionally well designed and still be a regular human being We think that good design is an integral part of real life And that real life has been conspicuous by its absence in most design and architecture magazines Technology and Place Steven A. Moore, 2011-01-20 Developing sustainable architectural and agricultural technologies was the intent behind Blueprint Farm an experimental agricultural project designed to benefit farm workers displaced by the industrialization of agriculture in the

Rio Grande Valley of Texas Yet despite its promise the very institutions that created Blueprint Farm terminated the project after just four years 1987 1991 In this book Steven Moore demonstrates how the various stakeholders competing definitions of sustainability technology and place ultimately doomed Blueprint Farm He reconstructs the conflicting interests and goals of the founders including Jim Hightower and the Texas Department of Agriculture Laredo Junior College and the Center for Maximum Potential Building Systems and shows how ironically they unwittingly suppressed the self determination of the very farm workers the project sought to benefit From the instructive failure of Blueprint Farm Moore extracts eight principles for a regenerative architecture which he calls his nonmodern manifesto Suburban Nation Andres Duany,Elizabeth

Plater-Zyberk,Jeff Speck,2010-09-14 For a decade Suburban Nation has given voice to a growing movement in North America to put an end to suburban sprawl and replace the last century s automobile based settlement patterns with a return to more traditional planning Founders of the Congress for the New Urbanism Andres Duany and Elizabeth Plater Zyberk are at the forefront of the movement and even their critics such as Fred Barnes in The Weekly Standard recognized that Suburban Nation is likely to become this movement s bible A lively lament about the failures of postwar planning this is also that rare book that offers solutions an essential handbook San Francisco Chronicle This tenth anniversary edition includes a new preface by the authors Invisible City John I. Gilderbloom,2009-02-17 A legendary figure in the realms of public policy and academia John Gilderbloom is one of the foremost urban planning researchers of our time producing groundbreaking studies on housing markets design location regulation financing and community building Now in Invisible City he turns his eye to fundamental questions regarding housing for the elderly the disabled and the poor Why is it that some locales can offer affordable accessible and attractive housing while the large majority of cities fail to do so Invisible City calls for a brave new housing paradigm that makes the needs of marginalized populations visible to policy makers Drawing on fascinating case studies in Houston Louisville and New Orleans and analyzing census information as well as policy reports Gilderbloom offers a comprehensive engaging and optimistic theory of how housing can be remade with a progressive vision While many contemporary urban scholars have failed to capture the dynamics of what is happening in our cities Gilderbloom presents a new vision of shelter as a force that shapes all residents Civitas by Design Howard Gillette, Jr.,2011-06-06 Since the end of the nineteenth century city planners have aspired not only to improve the physical living conditions of urban residents but also to strengthen civic ties through better design of built environments From Ebenezer Howard and his vision for garden cities to today s New Urbanists these visionaries have sought to deepen civitas or the shared community of citizens In Civitas by Design historian Howard Gillette Jr takes a critical look at this planning tradition examining a wide range of environmental interventions and their consequences over the course of the twentieth century As American reform efforts moved from progressive idealism through the era of government urban renewal programs to the rise of faith in markets planners attempted to cultivate community in places such as Forest Hills Gardens in Queens New York Celebration Florida and the post Katrina Gulf Coast Key figures including critics Lewis Mumford and Oscar Newman entrepreneur James Rouse and housing reformer Catherine Bauer introduced concepts such as neighborhood units pedestrian shopping malls and planned communities that were implemented on a national scale Many of the buildings landscapes and infrastructures that planners envisioned still remain but frequently these physical designs have proven insufficient to sustain the ideals they represented Will contemporary urbanists efforts to join social justice with environmentalism generate better results Gillette places the work of reformers and designers in the context of their times providing a careful analysis of the major ideas and trends in urban planning for current and future policy makers

Travel by Design Marlon G. Boarnet,Randall

Crane,2001-03-08 Can transportation problems be fixed by the right neighborhood design The tremendous popularity of the new urbanism and livable communities initiatives suggests that many persons think so As a systematic assessment of attempts to solve transportation problems through urban design this book asks and answers three questions Can such efforts work Will they be put into practice Are they a good idea

Demystifying Your Business Strategy David Lei,John W.

Slocum,2014 This book offers managers a comprehensive overview of the drivers of evolutionary advantage and practical insights on how to spot the emerging inflection points helping them to develop and maintain a strategic competitive advantage Design Book Review ,1994 Urban Ethic Eamonn Canniffe,2006-06-01 Although contemporary practice in urbanism has many sources of design guidelines it lacks theory to provide a flexible approach to the complexities of most urban situations The author provides that theoretical framework looking beyond the style obsession of urban makeovers to the fundamental elements of city making The scope of this book takes in illuminating historical analysis and significant theoretical coherence while recent case studies link the physical environment to the citizens within it ultimately offering a new methodology for the analysis and design of urban spaces which encourages a balance between diversity and community

Designing Suburban Futures June Williamson,2013-05-07 Suburbs deserve a better more resilient future June Williamson shows that suburbs aren't destined to remain filled with strip malls and excess parking lots they can be reinvigorated through inventive design Drawing on award winning design ideas for revitalizing Long Island she offers valuable models not only for U S suburbs but also those emerging elsewhere with global urbanization Williamson argues that suburbia has historically been a site of great experimentation and is currently primed for exciting changes Today dead malls aging office parks and blighted apartment complexes are being retrofitted into walkable sustainable communities Williamson shows how to expand this trend highlighting promising design strategies and tactics She provides a broad vision of suburban reform based on the best schemes submitted in Long Island's highly successful Build a Better Burb competition Many of the design ideas and plans operate at a regional scale tackling systems such as transit aquifer protection and power generation While some seek to fundamentally transform development patterns others work with existing infrastructure to create mixed use shared networks Designing Suburban Futures offers concrete but visionary strategies to take the sprawl out of suburbia
