Notebooks, English Virtuosi, and Early Modern Science Richard Yeo,2014-03-01 In Notebooks English Virtuosi and Early Modern Science Richard Yeo interprets a relatively unexplored set of primary archival sources the notes and notebooks of some of the leading figures of the Scientific Revolution Notebooks were important to several key members of the Royal Society of London including Robert Boyle John Evelyn Robert Hooke John Locke and others who drew on Renaissance humanist techniques of excerpting from texts to build storehouses of proverbs maxims quotations and other material in personal notebooks or commonplace books Yeo shows that these men appreciated the value of their own notes both as powerful tools for personal recollection and following Francis Bacon as a system of precise record keeping from which they could retrieve large quantities of detailed information for collaboration The virtuosi of the seventeenth century were also able to reach beyond Bacon and the humanists drawing inspiration from the ancient Hippocratic medical tradition and its emphasis on the gradual accumulation of information over time By reflecting on the interaction of memory notebooks and other records Yeo argues the English virtuosi shaped an ethos of long term empirical scientific inquiry Книга для

Front-End Vision and Multi-Scale Image Analysis Bart M. Haar Romeny,2008-10-24 Many approaches have been proposed to solve the problem of finding the optic flow field of an image sequence Three major classes of optic flow computation techniques can discriminated see for a good overview Beauchemin and Barron IBeauchemin19951 gradient based or differential methods phase based or frequency domain methods correlation based or area methods feature point or sparse data tracking methods In this chapter we compute the optic flow as a dense optic flow field with a multi scale differential method The method originally proposed by Florack and Nielsen Florack1998a is known as the Multiscale Optic Flow Constrain Equation MOFCE

This is a scale space version of the well known computer vision implementation of the optic flow constraint equation as originally proposed by Horn and Schunck Horn 1981 This scale space variation as usual consists of the introduction of the aperture of the observation in the process The application to stereo has been described by Maas et al Maas 1995a Maas 1996a Of course difficulties arise when structure emerges or disappears such as with occlusion cloud formation etc Then knowledge is needed about the processes and objects involved In this chapter we focus on the scale space approach to the local measurement of optic flow as we may expect the visual front end to do 17 2 Motion detection with pairs of receptive fields As a biologically motivated start we begin with discussing some neurophysiological findings in the visual system with respect to motion detection
