Separation, Divorce and Remarriage Dermot Hurley, 1987 Part-time Parent Carolyn Pogue, 1998 The only book on the market for non custodial parents It follows the stories of 20 men and women as they go through the initial separation first birthdays and holidays without the kids roller coaster emotions reflections regrets letting go and getting on with their lives In this sensitively written book Carolyn Pogue speaks from personal experience to those who have had to adjust to unoccupied bedrooms and breakfasts alone Originally published as The Weekend Parent this long out of print book is reintroduced at the request of family support groups everywhere Psychosocial and Legal Perspectives of Marital Breakdown Margit Gaffal, 2010-10-23 Divorce has long been viewed as a single phenomenon affecting two individuals without considering the framework conditions in which it occurs Due to the increase of divorce rates in the past decades researchers have changed their perspective and have concentrated on the view of divorce as a personal experience that is greatly affected by the social and economic environment The aim of this thesis is to investigate divorce that has become a mass phenomenon in our present society The assumption is that in order to understand the grounds for divorce and its consequences we have to view divorce as a phenomenon that occurs at the intersection of personal socio economic and legal factors Family disputes involve persons who have interdependent and continued relationships and arise in a context of distressing emotions Separation and divorce affect all the members of the family especially children The study presents a comprehensive analysis of divorce as a psychological process that is situated within a social and a legal context It presents a comprehensive view of divorce as a psychosocial economic and legal phenomenon and contains a review of the research literature about divorce and its consequences for parents and children Moreover it describes divorce by proposing conceptual frames and explanatory models A Comprehensive Guide to Child Custody Evaluations: Mental Health and Legal Perspectives Joanna Bunker Rohrbaugh, 2007-11-26 In order to assist families embroiled in child custody disputes the courts order thousands of child custody evaluations each year Some of these evaluations are brief problem focused assessments aimed at quickly resolving a specific area of dispute Other evaluations are more comprehensive covering all aspects of family functioning in complex cases The process of ordering conducting or assessing either type of child custody evaluation requires a clear understanding of how legal and psychological issues are intertwined in each case This book is designed to meet this need for a comprehensive guide that combines legal information and forensic procedures with the social science research that must be the basis for all custody recommendations and decisions The book should be helpful to three separate but related groups of experienced professionals a family and probate judges b family practice attorneys and c forensic mental health professionals Before they can order a custody evaluation and use the information it provides judges must have a clear understanding of how to integrate clinical information about each family with the related social science research This book will also enable judges to assess each custody report in terms of the professional and legal guidelines for conducting custody evaluations and b research based criteria in each area of family functioning The text and CD also offer examples of how best to write orders for custody evaluations and detailed parenting plans that address the issues in each family Women and Deviance: Issues in Social Conflict and Change Nanette J. Singh, Dee Pang, A. Singh, 2000-06-01 There has been a major shift in the way we conceptualize and provide services to children and adolescents with mental health needs We are moving away from the traditional disorder oriented model of treatment to a child centered family focused service delivery system that mandates mental health services in the context of the child's family and social ecology This new system of care has spawned many variations of the model including wraparound services multisystemic treatment MST futures planning and person centred planning As systems of care are different across countries and cultures it is imperative that we share our knowledge and make explicit the lessons we have learned in our attempts to provide services to children and adolescents which focus on improving their quality of life rather than merely treating their psychiatric disorders and psychological problems There is an urgent need to evaluate the various treatments being offered to children and adolescents with mental health needs Empirical data on outcomes will determine the funding and delivery of services As such the latest research on treatment outcomes needs to be disseminated so that new and validated treatment methods can be implemented rapidly Lifespan Development Tara L.
