Marketizing Education And Health In Developing Countries:

Marketizing Education and Health in Developing Countries Christopher Colclough, 1997 This book draws on evidence from a large number of developing countries to assess the impact of market reforms on the provision of education and health services The contributors show that approaches that seek merely to pass more of their costs to consumers perform less well than is often claimed and that improved cost effectiveness of health and education systems requires far more than changes in the sources and mechanisms of obtaining finance

The Global Social Policy Reader Nicola Yeates, Chris Holden, 2009-06-19 A comprehensive and accessible guide to the key themes issues and debates in global social policy This Reader collects together key papers by international leaders in the field that cover the emergence of global social policy as a dynamic and expanding field the transformation of welfare from a predominantly national to a global field of action and the impact of globalisation on key welfare discourses and governance mechanisms The global social policy reader will have broad appeal among undergraduate and postgraduate students in a range of social science subjects including social and public policy social care and health studies sociology politics economics international relations and development studies

School Choice and Student Well-Being A. Kelly, 2007-08-16 This review of research in school choice adapts Sen's theory of Capability developing a more complex theoretical framework for understanding education markets This gives those most affected by the perceived failure of public education a better explication of the tension between the rhetoric of public good and the reality of everyday disadvantage

Living Longer Peter Lloyd-Sherlock, 2013-07-18 Accelerated population ageing long a significant issue for developed countries is now becoming important in the developing world too Population ageing is one of the great achievements of the past century although it brings its own social economic political and cultural challenges The quality of life of older people is strongly conditioned by their capacity to manage opportunities and risks Social protection both formal and informal can be critical This book examines the links between well being and development drawing on examples from low middle and high income countries It examines ageing in a number of very different development contexts Argentina Brazil China Ghana Japan Mexico Thailand Ukraine UK and USA It highlights the complexity of relationships between development and the way later life is experienced identifies key priorities for policy makers and maps out an urgent research agenda

Eliminating Human Poverty Santosh Mehrotra, Enrique Delamonica, 2013-07-04 This book focuses on the provision of basic social services in particular access to education health and water supplies as the central building blocks of any human development strategy The authors concentrate on how these basic social services can be financed and delivered more effectively to achieve the internationally agreed Millennium Development Goals Their analysis which departs from the dominant macro economic paradigm deploys the results of broad ranging research they led at UNICEF and UNDP investigating the record on basic social services of some 30 developing countries In seeking to learn from these new data they develop an analytical argument around two potential synergies at the macro level between poverty reduction human development and economic growth and at the micro level between interventions to provide basic social services Policymakers they argue can integrate macro economic and social policy Fiscal monetary and other macro economic policies can be compatible with social sector requirements They make the case that policymakers have more flexibility than is usually presented by orthodox writers and international financial institutions and that if policymakers engaged in alternative macro economic and growth oriented policies this could lead to the expansion of human capabilities and the fulfillment of human rights This book explores some of these policy options The book also argues that more than just additional aid is needed Specific strategic shifts in the areas of aid policy decentralized governance health and education policy and the private public mix in service provision are a prerequisite to achieve the goals of human development The combination of governance reforms and fiscal and macro economic policies outlined in this book can eliminate human poverty in the span of a generation

Targeting Development Richard Black,Howard White,2003-11-20 The Millennium Development Goals accepted by the UN in 2000 are along with the targets set by the OECD in 1996 the subject of this expertly written book Is development achievable in the time frames given How useful were the goals in the first place How far have we come in solving the aching problems of the developing world These questions and

International Trade in Health Services and the GATS Chantal Blouin,Nick Drager,Richard Smith,2005-09-15 Health ministries around the world face a new challenge to assess the risks and respond to the opportunities of the increasing openness in health services under the World Trade Organization s WTO General Agreement on Trade in Services GATS International Trade in Health Services and the GATS addresses this challenge head on by providing analytical tools to policymakers in health and trade ministries alike who are involved in the liberalization agenda and specifically in the GATS negotiations This book informs and assists policymakers in formulating trade policy and negotiating internationally There is ongoing and animated international debate about the impact of GATS on public services in general and health in particular In response the book offers different perspectives from more than 15 leading experts Some of the authors stress opportunities linked to trade in health services others focus more on the risks The book offers Detailed legal analysis of the impact of the agreement on health policy An overview of trade commitments in health related services New empirical evidence from nine country studies A simple 10 step explanation on how to deal with GATS negotiations International Trade in Health Services and the GATS is a must have resource for policymakers and other practitioners working in the trade and health sectors

Public Services Delivery World Bank,2005 This publication sets out a framework for analysing the performance of governments in developing countries looking at the government as a whole and at local and municipal levels and focusing on individual sectors that form the core of essential government services such as health education welfare waste disposal and infrastructure It draws lessons from performance measurement systems in a range of industrial countries to identify good practice around the world in improving public sector governance combating corruption and making services work for poor people

Sharing Higher Education's Promise beyond the Few in Sub-Saharan Africa Peter Darvas, Shang Gao, Yijun Shen, Bilal Bawany, 2017-11-15 Despite a spectacular expansion of the higher education sector in Sub Saharan Africa the supply of tertiary education has generally failed to keep pace with demand and the region continues to lag all other regions in terms of access to tertiary education This is in part a consequence of deeply entrenched patterns of inequitable access to higher education and the perpetuation of what researchers refer to as elite systems To date access to tertiary education in Sub Saharan Africa has unduly benefitted students drawn from the region's wealthiest households and overall enrollment remains disproportionately male and metropolitan These factors stifle the catalytic potential of higher education corroding its potential for driving economic growth and sustaining poverty reduction Instead patterns of access to tertiary education have generally reinforced and reproduced social inequality instead of eroding its pernicious social and economic effects This report aims to inform an improved understanding of equity in tertiary enrollment in Sub Saharan African countries and to examine the extent to which inequity functions as a bottleneck inhibiting the ability of African universities to effectively drive improvements in overall quality of life and economic competitiveness In our survey of the evidence we also aim to identify which policies most effectively address the challenge of promoting equity of access in SSA tertiary education systems In order to achieve these objectives the report collects generates and analyzes empirical evidence on patterns of equity examines the underlying causes of inequity and evaluates government policies for addressing inequity

Handbook on Development Policy and Management Colin H. Kirkpatrick, Ron Clarke, Charles Polidano, 2002-01-01 this is a book one would expect to find in all libraries and on all development studies reading lists John Hailey Journal of International Development the Handbook is a unique reference tool on international development policy and management Its format both comprehensive in coverage and concise in content will make it essential reading for the growing number of postgraduates studying development policy and management as well as for public administration foreign consultants and aid workers in low and middle income countries Andrew Nickson Public Administration This Handbook will surely prove to be an essential to the students practitioners and others concerned with improvement of human condition in developing countries Pundarik Mukhopadhaya The Singapore Economic Review this Handbook offers a significant remedy to the scarcity of material in this important area It is certainly very near the top of this reviewer's list of recommended reading for students researchers and practitioners concerned with development policy Michael Tribe Development Policy Review the Handbook offers an excellent one volume survey of modern development policy and practice in poor countries Tony Jackson The Journal of the Institution of Economic Development This comprehensive collection contains an excellent introduction to all the major issues of development policy Frances Stewart Queen Elizabeth House University of Oxford UK This important Handbook on international development policy and management covers a broad spectrum of contemporary topics across all the major areas of interest With over 40 chapters the book comprehensively explores the many themes and issues of significance for both policy and implementation and provides easily accessible reference material on current practice and research The 42 contributors come from a diverse range of backgrounds and enjoy international reputations in their chosen fields The Handbook is organised in two parts one dealing with policy issues and the other with implementation and management issues The first part on policy covers a wide range of economic social and environmental topics The second part explores the political context of implementation and development practice and goes on to cover a range of issues relating to management in the public and non state sectors and the management of development projects Each individual chapter provides background information on theory and practice describes the current state of play examines prospects for the future and includes an annotated guide to further reading This extensive handbook will become an essential reference on international development policy and management Although primarily designed for postgraduate students and scholars of development studies it will also be welcomed by development practitioners NGOs and aid agencies
