developed a cooperative economy operated a desegregated health clinic held interracial church services and labor union meetings and managed a credit union Ferguson tells how a variety of factors related to World War II forced the closing of Delta while Providence finally succumbed to economic boycotts and outside threats from white racists Remaking the Rural South shows how a small group of committed people challenged hegemonic social and economic structures by going about their daily routines Far from living in a closed society activists at Delta and Providence engaged in a local movement with national and international roots and consequences
