Martial The Unexpected Classic:

Martial J. P. Sullivan,1991-12-12 A full length study of Martial s life times art and the survival of his poetry Martial J. P. Sullivan,2005-01-27 This is the first full length study in English of the Roman poet Martial s life poetry and politics as well as of the survival of his fifteen books of epigrams and short poems from his death around AD 104 to the present The subjects examined include his defence of epigram as an art form his misogyny and obscenity his style wit and humour and not least his imperial propaganda The concluding part of the work examines his high reputation in the Renaissance and the later censorship and neglect of his work until comparatively recently All the material is presented for a modern objective assessment of his achievement without in any way disguising the unpleasant aspects of his genius and the political and literary pressures on poets in Rome at that period Martial: the Epigrams Peter Howell,1995 Text with translation commentary and notes Expurgating the Classics Stephen Harrison,Christopher Stray,2012-08-16 The first collection on expurgation in the Classics exploring the strategies used to deal with obscene and other textual material in conflict with post classical values Fifty Key Classical Authors Alison Sharrock,Rhiannon Ashley,2013-04-15 A chronological guide to influential Greek and Roman writers Fifty Key Classical Authors is an invaluable introduction to the literature philosophy and history of the ancient world Including essays on Sappho Polybius and Lucan as well as on major figures such as Homer Plato Catullus and Cicero this book is a vital tool for all students of classical civilization Martial's Rome Victoria Rimell,2008 Explores Martial s radical vision of the relationship between art and reality and his role in formulating modern perceptions of Rome Martial's ^IEpigrams^R Book Two ,2004-01-08 This edition provides an English translation of and detailed commentary on the second book of epigrams published by the Latin poet Marcus Valerius Martialis The past ten years have seen a resurgence of interest in Martial s writings But contemporary readers are in particular need of assistance when approaching these epigrams and until now there has been no modern commentary dedicated to Book II This new commentary carefully illuminates the allusions to people places things and cultural practices of late first century Rome that pervade Martial s poetry It analyzes the epigrammatist s poems as literary creations treating such topics as the structure of the individual poems and of the book as a whole and the influence of earlier texts on Martial s language and themes

Josephus, Paul, and the Fate of Early Christianity F. B. A. Asiedu,2019-03-01 Flavius Josephus the priest from Jerusalem who was affiliated with the Pharisees is our most important source for Jewish life in the first century His notice about the death of James the brother of Jesus suggests that Josephus knew about the followers of Jesus in Jerusalem and in Judaea In Rome where he lived for the remainder of his life after the Jewish War a group of Christians appear to have flourished if 1 Clement is any indication Josephus however says extremely little about the Christians in Judaea and nothing about those in Rome He also does not reference Paul the apostle a former Pharisee who was a contemporary of Josephus s father in Jerusalem even though according to Acts Paul and his activities were known to two successive Roman governors procurators of Judaea Marcus Antonius Felix and Porcius Festus and to King Herod Agrippa II and his sisters Berenice and Drusilla The knowledge of the Herodians in particular puts Josephus's silence about Paul in an interesting light suggesting that it may have been deliberate In addition Josephus's writings bear very little witness to other contemporaries in Rome so much so that if we were dependent on Josephus alone we might conclude that many of those historical characters either did not exist or had little or no impact in the first century Asiedu comments on the state of life in Rome during the reign of the Emperor Domitian and how both Josephus and the Christians who produced 1 Clement coped with the regime as other contemporaries among whom he considers Martial Tacitus Pliny the Younger and others did He argues that most of Josephus's contemporaries practiced different kinds of silences in bearing witness to the world around them Consequently the absence of references to Jews or Christians in Roman writers of the last three decades of the first century including Josephus should not be taken as proof of their non existence in Flavian Rome , A Companion to Catullus Marilyn B.

Skinner, 2010-12-13 In this companion international scholars provide a comprehensive overview that reflects the most recent trends in Catullan studies Explores the work of Catullus one of the best Roman lyric poets Provides discussions about production genre style and reception as well as interpretive essays on key poems and groups of poems Grounds Catullus in the socio historical world around him Chapters challenge received wisdom present original readings and suggest new interpretations of biographical evidence
