Mosaic Of Fear:

"The Law of the Spirit" John Anthony Bertone, 2005 Paul's explication of the relationship between the Spirit and Law in Romans 8 has been the subject of protracted scholarly debate. In Romans 7:6 Spirit and Law are set in opposition to each other. However in Romans 8:4 they appear conjoined operating in a more harmonious manner. With the use of cognitive dissonance theory this book proposes that Paul perceived a state of dissonance between covenantal nomism and his post-Damascus cognitions on the Spirit. As a result he attempts to reduce the qualitative distinction between these two clusters of cognitions by establishing cognitive overlap between them and by striving to achieve social validation for his cognitions within his own fictive family of Roman believers with whom he shared the experience of the Spirit. Godly Fear or Ungodly Failure? Michael Kibbe, 2016-05-10 A cursory glance at Hebrews critique of Israel's fear at Sinai in Heb 12 18 29 suggests that the author has misunderstood or manipulated his sources In the Pentateuch the appointment of Moses as Israel's mediator receives explicit approval Exod 19 9 Deut 5 28 while Heb 12 25 labels their request for mediation a refusal to heed the word of God This book argues that Hebrews use of the Sinai narratives resides on a complex trajectory established by four points the Sinai covenant according to Exodus the reenactment of that covenant according to Deuteronomy the call for a NEW covenant according to Jeremiah and the present reality of that covenant established by God and mediated by Jesus Christ The basis for Hebrews critique arises from its insight that while Israel's request established covenant from a distance Jesus demonstrates that true covenant mediation brings two parties into a single space The purpose for Hebrews critique lies in its summons to Zion the mountain on which Jesus sits at the right hand of God as the high priestly mediator of the new covenant

The Glory of the Invisible God Andrei Orlov, 2019-12-26 Andrei Orlov examines early Christological developments in the light of rabbinic references to the two powers in heaven tracing the impact of this concept through both canonical and non canonical material Orlov begins by looking at imagery of the two powers in early Jewish literature in particular the book of Daniel and in pseudepigraphical writings He then traces the concept through rabbinic literature and applies this directly to understanding of Christological debates Orlov finally carries out a close examination of the two powers traditions in Christian literature in particular accounts of the Transfiguration and the Baptism of Jesus Including a comprehensive bibliography listing texts and translations and secondary literature this volume is a key resource in researching the development of Christology

Kaiser, Jr., 2009-10-06 What is the central theme of the Bible Given the diversity of authorship genre and context of the Bible s various books is it even possible to answer such a question Or in trying to do so is an external grid being unnaturally superimposed on the biblical text These are difficult questions that the discipline of biblical theology has struggled to answer In this thoroughly revised and expanded edition of his classic Toward an Old Testament Theology Walter Kaiser offers a solution to these unresolved issues He proposes that there is indeed a unifying center to the theology and message of the Bible that is indicated and affirmed by Scripture itself That center is the promise of God It is one all encompassing promise of life through the Messiah that winds itself throughout salvation history in both the Old and New Testaments giving cohesiveness and unity to the various parts of Scripture After laying out his proposal Kaiser works chronologically through the books of both testaments demonstrating how the promise is seen throughout how the various sub themes of each book relate to the promise and how God s plan to fulfill the promise progressively unfolds Here is a rich and

Lawrence was Wrong about Woman David Holbrook, 1992 She may be sodomized and taken in contemptuous anger as in Lady Chatterley's Lover and is depicted as enjoying this The enthusiasm for the sodomizing of woman is quite clearly there in The Rainbow Women in Love and Mr Noon Some critics have spoken of this as a holy communion but Holbrook sees it as a denial of woman an avoidance of the matrix where the ghost of the dead mother lurks In the end in The Plumed Serpent an intelligent American woman submits herself to the fascistic domination of two murderers who are running a new religious political campaign while forfeiting even her capacity for orgasm Everything in Lawrence's work leads to this false solution Yet such critics as F R Leavis commend Lawrence for his concepts of manhood And even endorse such stories as The Virgin and the Gypsy in which a duplicitous traveler seduces a young girl in vengeance on the middle class
