Paddy's Lament, Ireland 1846-1847 Thomas Gallagher, 1987 A shocking account of the great famine in Ireland which sheds light on a bitter hatred for England that continues there today

Paddy's Lament Ireland 1846-1847 Thomas Gallagher, 1985

The Harp and the Eagle Susannah J. Ural, 2006-11 On the eve of the Civil War the Irish were one of America's largest ethnic groups and approximately 150 000 fought for the Union Analyzing letters and diaries written by soldiers and civilians military church and diplomatic records and community newspapers Susannah Ural Bruce significantly expands the story of Irish American Catholics in the Civil War and reveals a complex picture of those who fought for the Union While the population was diverse many Irish Americans had dual loyalties to the U S and Ireland which influenced their decisions to volunteer fight or end their military service When the Union cause supported their interests in Ireland and America large numbers of Irish Americans enlisted However as the war progressed the Emancipation Proclamation federal draft and sharp rise in casualties caused Irish Americans to question and sometimes abandon the war effort because they viewed such changes as detrimental to their families and futures in America and Ireland By recognizing these competing and often fluid loyalties The Harp and the Eagle sheds new light on the relationship between Irish American volunteers and the Union Army and how the Irish made sense of both the Civil War and their loyalty to the United States

Rhetorics of Display Lawrence J. Prelli, 2021-12-24 Groundbreaking case studies mapping the rhetoric inherent in acts of presentation and concealment Rhetorics of Display is a pathbreaking volume that brings together a distinguished group of scholars to assess an increasingly pervasive form of rhetorical activity Editor Lawrence J Prelli notes in his introduction that twenty first century citizens continually confront displays of information and images from the verbal images of speeches and literature to visual images of film and photography to exhibits in museums to the arrangement of our homes to the merchandising of consumer goods The volume provides an integrated comprehensive study of the processes of selecting what to reveal and what to conceal that together constitute the rhetorics of display Surveying major historical transformations in the relationship between rhetoric and display this book also identifies the leading themes in relevant scholarship of the past three decades Seventeen case studies canvass a representative and diverse range of displays from body piercing to a civil rights memorial to a Titanic exhibition to imagery found in gambling casinos and examine the ways that phenomena persons places events identities communities and cultures are exhibited before audiences Collectively the contributors shed light on rhetorics that are nearly ubiquitous in contemporary communication and culture

Unhappy the Land Liam Kennedy, 2015-10-26 In Unhappy the Land Liam Kennedy poses fundamental questions about the social and political history of Ireland and challenges cherished notions of a uniquely painful past Images of tragedy and victimhood are deeply embedded in the national consciousness yet when the Irish experience is viewed in the larger European context a different perspective emerges The author's dissection of some pivotal episodes in Irish history serves to explode commonplace assumptions about oppression victimhood and a fate said to be comparable only to that of the Jews Was the catastrophe of the Great Famine really an Irish Holocaust Was the Ulster Covenant anything other than a battle cry for ethnic conflict Was the Proclamation of the Irish Republic a means of texting terror And who fears to speak of an Irish War of Independence shorn of its heroic pretensions Kennedy argues that the privileging of the gun the drum and the flag above social concerns and individual liberties gave rise to disastrous consequences for generations of Irish people Ireland might well be a land of heroes from C chulainn to Michael Collins but it is also worth pondering Bertolt Brecht s warning Unhappy the land that is in need of heroes
