

Parable Of The Madman

Have you not heard of that madman who lit a lantern in the bright morning hours, ran to the market place, and cried incessantly:
'I seek God! I seek God!'
As many of those who did not believe in God were standing around just then,
he provoked much laughter.
Has he got lost? asked one.
Did he lose his way like a child? asked another.

Or is he hiding?
Is he afraid of us? Has he gone on a voyage? emigrated?
Thus they yelled and laughed.

The madman jumped into their midst and pierced them with his eyes.
'Whither is God?' he cried; 'I will tell you.
We have killed him--you and I.
All of us are his murderers.
But how did we do this?
How could we drink up the sea?
Who gave us the sponge to wipe away the entire horizon?
What were we doing when we unchained this earth from its sun?
Whither is it moving now? Whither are we moving?
Away from all suns?
Are we not plunging continually?

Backward, sideward, forward, in all directions?
Is there still any up or down?
Are we not straying, as through an infinite nothing?
Do we not feel the breath of empty space?
Has it not become colder? Is not night continually closing in on us?
Do we not need to light lanterns in the morning?
Do we hear nothing as yet of the noise of the gravediggers who are burying God?
Do we smell nothing as yet of the divine decomposition?
Gods, too, decompose.
God is dead.

God remains dead.
And we have killed him.

'How shall we comfort ourselves, the murderers of all murderers?
What was holiest and mightiest of all that the world has yet owned has bled
to death under our knives: who will wipe this blood off us?
What water is there for us to clean ourselves?
What festivals of atonement, what sacred games shall we have to invent?
Is not the greatness of this deed too great for us?
Must we ourselves not become gods simply to appear worthy of it?
There has never been a greater deed; and whoever is born after us -

long before many gods were born I woke from a deep sleep and found all my masks were stolen the seven masks I have fashioned and worn in seven lives I ran maskless through the crowded streets shouting Thieves thieves the cursed thieves Men and women laughed at me and some ran to their houses in fear of me And when I reached the market place a youth standing on a house top cried He is a madman I looked up to behold him the sun kissed my own naked face for the first time For the first time the sun kissed my own naked face and my soul was inflamed with love for the sun and I wanted my masks no more And as if in a trance I cried Blessed blessed are the thieves who stole my masks Thus I became a madman And I have found both freedom and safety in my madness the freedom of loneliness and the safety from being understood for those who understand us enslave something in us But let me not be too proud of my safety Even a thief in a jail is safe from another thief
