

THERE IS ANOTHER SKY

BY EMILY DICKINSON

There is another sky,
Ever serene and fair,
And there is another sunshine,
Though it be darkness there;
Never mind faded forests, Austin,
Never mind silent fields -
Here is a little forest,
Whose leaf is ever green;
Here is a brighter garden,
Where not a frost has been;
In its unfading flowers
I hear the bright bee hum:
Prithee, my brother,
Into my garden come!

Davis, 2018-06-20 This book investigates intersections between the philosophy of nature and Hellenism in British and German Romanticism focusing primarily on five central literary philosophical figures Friedrich Schelling Friedrich Hölderlin Johann Wolfgang von Goethe Percy Shelley and Lord Byron Near the end of the eighteenth century poets and thinkers reinvented Greece as a site of aesthetic and ontological wholeness a move that corresponded with a refiguring of nature as a dynamically interconnected web in which each part is linked to the living whole This vision of a vibrant materiality that allows us to become one with all that lives along with a Romantic version of Hellenism that wished to reassemble the broken fragments of an imaginary Greece as both site and symbol of this all unity functioned as a two pronged response to subjective anxiety that arose in the wake of Kant and Fichte The result is a form of resistance to an idealism that appeared to leave little room for a world of beauty love and nature beyond the self
