

React

Didn't react that way before
Didn't react strong enough
Didn't react fast enough
I'm a Reactionary revolutionary
Consumed by my own complacency

Sometimes my sadness
Wears a blanket of anger
Masking all that I've seen
Deceiving the enemy
It's Depression with a sheen

Didn't attack that way before
Didn't attack fast enough
And I wasn't strong enough
To hide away my anger
As the enemy gathers strength
The madness surrounds me
I need to get away, find sanctuary
It's a struggle with a failures frown
And It's all I see before me

Howarth, 2024-09-17 Live performance has changed poetry more than anything else in the last hundred years it has given poets new audiences and a new economy and it has generated new styles from Imagism to confessional to contemporary Spoken Word But the creative impact that public reading had right through the twentieth century has not been well understood Mixing close listening to archive performances with intimate histories of modernist venues and promoters The Poetry Circuit tells the story of how poets met their audience again and how the feedback loops between their voices the venues and the occasions turned poems into running dramas between poet and listener A nervous T S Eliot reveals himself to be anything but impersonal while Marianne Moore's accident prone readings become subtle ways of keeping her poems in constant re draft Robert Frost used his poems to spar with his fans and rivals while Langston Hughes wrote Ask Your Mama to expose the prejudice circulating in the room as he spoke it The Poetry Circuit also shows how the post war reading boom made new kinds of poetry involving their audience and setting in the performance such as John Ashbery s anti charismatic Poets Theatre Amiri Baraka s documentary soundtracks of the streets or the confessional readings of Allen Ginsberg which shame the listeners more than the poet Covering the first seventy years of the poetry reading The Poetry Circuit demonstrates that there never were page and stage poets the reading simply changed what every modern poet could do

Welcome to Poetryland Shelley Savren, 2016-06-13. Welcome to Poetryland. Teaching Poetry Writing to Young Children draws from Shelley Savren's forty years of teaching poetry writing in grades pre-K 6 and to focus populations including gifted and special education students, students in after school programs and at art museums and homeless, abused or neglected students. Each chapter begins with a student quote and an original poem followed by heartfelt stories of working with that particular group and concludes with lesson plans complete with introductions of poetic concepts, model poems by professionals, open ended writing assignments, methods for sharing and critiquing and one or two student poems. Designed for use in a classroom, this book features thirty eight lesson plans and twenty three additional poetry writing workshop ideas. It provides guidance and inspiration for anyone who wants to teach poetry writing to children. I wish Shelley would teach the whole world poetry.
