Understanding (Complete) John Locke, 1721-01-01 This Treatise which is grown up under your lordship s eye and has ventured into the world by your order does now by a natural kind of right come to your lordship for that protection which you several years since promised it It is not that I think any name how great soever set at the beginning of a book will be able to cover the faults that are to be found in it Things in print must stand and fall by their own worth or the reader s fancy But there being nothing more to be desired for truth than a fair unprejudiced hearing nobody is more likely to procure me that

than your lordship who are allowed to have got so intimate an acquaintance with her in her more retired recesses Your lordship is known to have so far advanced your speculations in the most abstract and general knowledge of things beyond the ordinary reach or common methods that your allowance and approbation of the design of this Treatise will at least preserve it from being condemned without reading and will prevail to have those parts a little weighed which might otherwise perhaps be thought to deserve no consideration for being somewhat out of the common road The imputation of Novelty is a terrible charge amongst those who judge of men s heads as they do of their perukes by the fashion and can allow none to be right but the received doctrines Truth scarce ever yet carried it by vote anywhere at its first appearance new opinions are always suspected and usually opposed without any other reason but because they are not already common But truth like gold is not the less so for being newly brought out of the mine It is trial and examination must give it price and not any antique fashion and though it be not yet current by the public stamp yet it may for all that be as old as nature and is certainly not the less genuine Your lordship can give great and convincing instances of this whenever you please to oblige the public with some of those large and comprehensive discoveries you have made of truths hitherto unknown unless to some few from whom your lordship has been pleased not wholly to conceal them This alone were a sufficient reason were there no other why I should dedicate this Essay to your lordship and its having some little correspondence with some parts of that nobler and vast system of the sciences your lordship has made so new exact and instructive a draught of I think it glory enough if your lordship permit me to boast that here and there I have fallen into some thoughts not wholly different from yours If your lordship think fit that by your encouragement this should appear in the world I hope it may be a reason some time or other to lead your lordship further and you will allow me to say that you here give the world an earnest of something that if they can bear with this will be truly worth their expectation
