the stewardship role that certain indigenous peoples and local communities have played towards the environment With a view to understanding the value and merits as well as the threats that biocultural rights entail the book critically assesses their foundations content and implications and develops new perspectives and ideas concerning their potential applicability for promoting the socio economic interests of indigenous people and local communities It further explores the controversial relationship of interdependence and conflict between conservation of environment and protection of human rights Status and (Human Rights) Obligations of Non-Recognized De Facto Regimes in International Law: The Case of 'Somaliland' Michael Schoiswohl,2004-04-01 This volume contains the first comprehensive study of legal issues arising with regard to the self declared Republic of Somaliland which after more than 10 years of factual existence is still facing international non recognition The case of Somaliland in particular its unique position within the collapsed State of Somalia challenges current international law doctrine regarding the interplay between non recognition and the creation of States Based upon an in depth analysis of international law concerning the criteria of statehood and recognition the author presents a legal framework against which cases of secession in the context of collapsed States should be measured In applying this framework to the case of Somaliland he demonstrates that the entity has established a sufficient level of peace stability and effective governance to qualify as a State under international law Given the legal uncertainty surrounding non recognized de facto regimes such as Somaliland the study finally attempts to identify legal rules which bind de facto regimes in the process of secession irrespective of their recognition as a State Proposing a functional approach to de facto regimes the author argues that such entities are subject to obligations under international human rights law to the extent they are assuming governmental tasks Inter-American Yearbook on Human Rights / Anuario Interamericano de Derechos Humanos, Volume 38 (2022) (VOLUME IV) Inter-American Comm. on Human Rights,2024-11-18 The 2022 Inter American Yearbook on Human Rights provides an extract of the principal jurisprudence of the Inter American Commission on Human Rights and the Inter American Court of Human Rights Part One contains the Decisions on the Merits of the Commission and Part Two the Judgments and Decisions of the Court The Yearbook is partly published as an English Spanish bilingual edition Some parts are in English or Spanish only NB This book is part of a four volume set Vol 1 ISBN 978 90 04 71518 9 Vol 2 ISBN 978 90 04 71520 2 Vol 3 ISBN 978 90 04 71522 6 Vol 4 ISBN 978 90 04 71524 0 Guide to Rights and Responsibilities in Resolving Disputes Within the Federal Workforce ,1988 Facial Recognition Surveillance Pete Fussey,Daragh Murray,2025-06-25 Scanning millions of faces each year facial recognition technology FRT has become one of today s fastest growing and most controversial AI driven surveillance technologies Based on rare ethnographic access to police FRT deployments Facial Recognition Surveillance Policing and Human Rights in the Age of Artificial Intelligence delves into the profound impact of FRT on policing practices surveillance capabilities and human rights protections It reveals how this technology shapes and is also shaped by the complex environments in which it is deployed dramatically reshaping police
