Societies Kai J. Jonas, Thomas A. Morton, 2012-08-08 Breakdowns in civil societies can be catalyzed by factors ranging from war and genocide to natural disaster disease and economic downturns Restoring Civil Societies examines social processes related to civic engagement in the wake of these societal ruptures The authors show how crises in civil society can be both pervasive and localized broad based and limited to defined social sub groups Whatever their scale Restoring Civil Societies identifies models that analyze the social psychology of crises in order to devise ways of re activating civic engagement and safeguarding civil society Focusing on these positive interventions the authors identify a number of key strategies ranging from the simplicity and directness of bystander interventions to the volunteer armies mobilized in the wake of natural disasters They include collective action organized to redress systemic inequalities and the vital healing role played by truth commissions in Rwanda and elsewhere Restoring Civil Societies fills the gap between basic research on social issues and translation into social policies and programs an area which in light of current economic and social unrest is more important now than ever Victim Organisations and the Politics of Reparation

Heidy Rombouts, 2004 Reparation for victims of gross and systematic human rights violations is a contemporary issue gaining increased attention in both national and international politics Post conflict societies have to face the legacies of the dark past and dealing with a large group of victims is one of them Transitional justice mechanisms trying to cope with the past should not overlook the issue of reparation This research demonstrates how reparation for victims of gross and systematic human rights violations differs from reparation for isolated violations The Rwandan case study unveils the role of victim organisations in and the competition and politicisation of the reparation debate Although reparation for victims is a crucial element in transitional justice it becomes clear that the way in which the reparation debate unfolds does not necessarily contribute to the peaceful future of a post conflict society This study argues that remedying the process and debate of the search for reparation will lead to an improved and more constructive reparation policy

Heidy Rombouts is a legal and social scientist 1997 Master of Laws 1999 Master in Social and Political Sciences Catholic University of Leuven In 2004 she obtained a PhD degree in Social and Political Sciences at the University of Antwerp for her research on victim organisations and the politics of reparation For several years she has been conducting research on transitional justice human rights and post conflict situations including extensive field research in South Africa and Rwanda

The Witness Experience Kimi Lynn King, James David Meernik, 2017-11-09 This book provides the most comprehensive and scientific assessment to date of what it means to appear before war crimes tribunals This ground breaking analysis conducted with the cooperation of the International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia ICTY Victims and Witnesses Section examines the positive and negative impact that testifying has on those who bear witness to the horrors of war by shedding new light on the process While most witnesses have positive feelings and believe they contributed to international justice there is a small but critical segment of witnesses whose security health and well being are adversely affected after testifying The witness experience is examined holistically including witness perceptions of their physical and psychological well being Because identity gender and ethnicity and war trauma were central to the ICTY s mandate and the conflicts in the former Yugoslavia the research explores in depth how they have impacted the most critical stakeholders of any transitional justice mechanism the witnesses

The Shakespearean International Yearbook Alexa Alice Joubin, Natalia Khomenko, 2025-06-30 In the modern world references to Shakespeare frequently mark moments of catastrophe and of the accompanying longing for restoring social order remedying injuries and building strong communities Shakespeare s moral authority has often been invoked to support artistic projects that claimed social justice as their goal on the assumption that drama has the power to manipulate perceptual reality Drawing on cases from around the world this book interrogates the idea that performing or reading Shakespeare has socially reparative value It also acknowledges Shakespeare as a potential source of social well being practices in the arts The global framework shows that it is problematic to view Shakespeare as an impartial moral center This book proposes that reparative creativity or remedial uses of the canon can give artists and audiences more agency Having a map of canonical texts hidden ideologies can help readers artists and playgoers navigate its landscape which is in itself a reparative act

The Order of Victimhood Sarah E. Jankowitz, 2018-10-03 This book explores how the construction and contestation of victims in societies emerging from conflict impact processes of peacebuilding It locates its inquiry in Northern Ireland where highly politicized unresolved narratives of violence and a so called hierarchy of victims illuminate inherent paradoxes of victimhood in intergroup conflict The author critiques how mechanisms designed to address the legacy of conflict often reify exclusive victim and perpetrator identities and obscure complex harm Adopting an interdisciplinary lens the book examines how the image of the ideal victim interacts with intergroup processes in a polarizing and intractable victim perpetrator paradigm The analysis of these issues in Northern Ireland suggests that exclusive policies and mechanisms reinforce rather than repair societal divisions and that inclusive complex approaches to victimhood are necessary to build sustainable peace This book will be of particular interest to scholars of peace studies transitional justice and criminology

The Theory of Collective Reconciliation Vahagn

Avedian,2024-09-09 What does reconciliation mean and entail Is collective reconciliation for entire societies or nations possible This book aims to present it as a highly achievable albeit difficult and complex goal requiring political and collective commitment resources and most importantly the will to change Reconciliation is the synthesis and an overarching process consisting of a trinity of recognition responsibility and reparation Through comparative case studies where these different aspects have been implemented in a variety of degrees and combinations the book illustrates how these constituent parts relate to each other and how they can enhance and complement one another It also investigates whether there are scenarios where the omission of a certain part can in fact have a positive impact on the reconciliatory process in the short and long terms the extent to which the order in which different measures are implemented matters and how national cases differ from international ones This volume is aimed at postgraduates researchers and academics of peace and conflict studies as well as history social sciences political sciences and legal studies

International Negotiation and Mediation in Violent

Conflict Chester A. Crocker,Fen Osler Hampson,Pamela Aall,2018-02-06 This collection of essays situates the study and practice of international mediation and peaceful settlement of disputes within a changing global context The book is organized around issues of concern to practitioners including the broader regional global and institutional context of mediation and how this broader environment shapes the opportunities and prospects for successful mediation A major theme is complexity and how the complex contemporary context presents serious challenges to mediation This environment describes a world where great power rivalries and politics are coming back into play and international and regional organizations are playing different roles and facing different kinds of constraints in the peaceful settlement of disputes The first section discusses the changing international environment for conflict management and reflects on some of the challenges that this changing environment raises for addressing conflict Part II focuses on the consequences of bringing new actors into third party engagement and examines what may be harbingers for how we will attempt to resolve conflict in the future The third section turns to the world of practice and discusses mediation statecraft and how to employ it in this current international environment The volume aims to situate the practice and study of mediation within this wider social and political context to better understand the opportunities and constraints of mediation in today s world The value of the book lies in its focus on complex and serious issues that challenge both mediators and scholars This volume will be of much interest to students practitioners and policymakers in the area of international negotiation mediation conflict resolution and international relations      Healing the Wounds of Gukurahundi in Zimbabwe Dumisani Ngwenya, 2017-12-14 This book is based on a participatory action research project carried out with a group of former Zimbabwe People's revolutionary Army ZPRA which was the armed wing of the Zimbabwe African People's Union ZAPU which was led by the late Joshua Nkomo ZPRA was the primary target of Gukurahundi a pogrom by the Mugabe government which left an estimated 20 000 civilians dead and countless others tortured in the early 1980s in Matebeleland Zimbabwe It has been almost 30 years since the violence ended but there has never been an official healing and reconciliation programme or truth commission into the atrocities The government chose the path of amnesia by granting a blanket amnesty to all involved The regime has enforced a culture of silence over the event through repression and intimidation The book is a culmination of a two year journey by the group and the author of an exploration of group based self healing approaches to the pain caused by the violence of Gukurahundi      Assessing the Impact of Transitional Justice Hugo Van der Merwe, Victoria Baxter, Audrey R. Chapman, 2009 In Assessing the Impact of Transitional Justice fourteen leading researchers study seventy countries that have suffered from autocratic rule genocide and protracted internal conflict      Unspeakable Truths 2e Priscilla B. Hayner, 2010-09-13 This book is a definitive exploration of truth commissions around the world and the anguish injustice and the legacy of hate they are meant to absolve      Rationality and Emotion Lin Ren, 2014-07-21 Reconciliation is an important agenda for postwar countries It plays a major role in harmonizing bilateral and regional relations Lin Ren compares reconciliations between the Sino Japanese and the Franco German dyads Each dyad shares a deep rooted historic antagonism Nevertheless France and Germany reached a far deeper degree of reconciliation Therefore this book devotes to explore the trouble creators that led to the diverse outcomes so as to challenge taking rationality as the single micro foundation of decision making concerning reconciliation      T-Kit, Volume 12 Council of Europe, 2012-01-01      Ending Terrorism in Italy Anna Cento Bull, Philip Cooke, 2013-06-07 Ending Terrorism in Italy analyses processes of disengagement from terrorism as well as the connected issues of reconciliation truth and justice It examines in a critical and original way how terrorism came to an end in Italy Part I and the legacy it has left behind Part II The book interrogates a wide array of published memoirs and a considerable number of new face to face interviews with both former terrorists and first and second generation victims In the last two decades and especially in recent years former extreme right terrorists in Italy have started to talk about their past involvement in terrorist violence including for the first time acts of violence which have for decades been considered taboo that is to say bomb attacks against innocent civilians These narratives add to the perspectives offered by members of left wing terrorist groups such as the Red Brigades and Prima Linea Surprisingly these narratives have not been systematically examined yet they form a unique and extremely rich source of first hand testimony providing invaluable insights into processes of youth radicalization and de radicalization the social re integration of ex terrorists as well as personal and collective healing Even less attention has been paid to the victims narratives or stories Indeed the views and activities of the victims and their associations have been seriously neglected in the scholarly literature on terrorism not just in Italy but elsewhere in Europe. The book therefore examines the perspectives of the victims and relatives of victims of terrorism who over the years have formed dedicated associations and campaigned relentlessly to obtain justice through the courts with little or no support from the state and especially in the case of the bombing massacres with increasing awareness that the state played a role in thwarting the course of justice. Ending Terrorism in Italy will be of interest to historians, social scientists and policy makers as well as students of political violence and post conflict resolution.
