Geography in Britain after World War II Max Martin,Vinita Damodaran,Rohan D'Souza,2019-12-13

Contemporary anxieties about climate change have fueled a growing interest in how landscapes are formed and transformed across spans of time from decades to millennia While the discipline of geography has had much to say about how such environmental transformations occur few studies have focused on the lives of geographers themselves their ideologies and how they understand their field This edited collection illuminates the social and biographical contexts of geographers in postwar Britain who were influenced by and studied under the pioneering geomorphologist A T Grove These contributors uncover the relationships and networks that shaped their research on diverse terrains from Africa to the Mediterranean highlighting their shared concerns which have profound implications not only for the study of geography and geomorphology but also for questions of environmental history ecological conservation and human security

Surviving Sudden

Environmental Change Jago Cooper,Payson Sheets,2012-04-15 Archaeologists have long encountered evidence of natural disasters through excavation and stratigraphy In Surviving Sudden Environmental Change case studies examine how eight different past human communities ranging from Arctic to equatorial regi

Global Environmental Change Antoinette Mannion,2014-09-19 Now in its second edition This text has been extensively revised and rewritten to reflect the growth in environmental research during the last decade Human induced environmental change is occurring at such a rapid rate that inevitably the fundamental processes involved in biogeochemical cycling are being altered Global Environmental Change considers alterations to the biogeochemical cycles of carbon nitrogen sulphur and other elements as a result of industrial technological development and agriculture which have significantly altered the natural environment The book adopts a temporal and spatial approach to environmental change beginning with the natural environmental change of the Quaternary period and continuing with the culturally induced change since the inception of agriculture 10 000 years ago

The

Physical Geography of the Mediterranean Jamie Woodward,2009-05-07 This volume explores the climates landscapes ecosystems and hazards that comprise the Mediterranean world It traces the development of the Mediterranean landscape over very long timescales and examines modern processes and key environmental issues in a wide range of settings The Mediterranean is the only region on Earth where three continents meet and this interaction has produced a very distinctive Physical Geography This book examines the landscapes and processes at the margins of these continents and the distinctive marine environment between them Catastrophic earthquakes explosive volcanic eruptions and devastating storms and floods are intimately bound up within the history and mythology of the Mediterranean world This is a key region for the study of natural hazards because it offers unrivalled access to long records of hazard occurrence and impact through documentary archaeological and geological archives The Mediterranean is also a biodiversity hotspot it has been a meeting place for plants animals and humans from three continents throughout much of its history The Quaternary records of these interactions are more varied and better preserved than in any other part of the world These records have provided important new insights into the tempo of climate landscape and ecosystem change in the Mediterranean region and beyond The region is unique because of the very early and widespread impact of humans in landscape and ecosystem change and the richness of the archaeological and geological archives that chronicle this impact This book examines this history and these interactions and places current environmental issues in long term context Contributors Ramadan Husain Abu Zied Harriet Allen Jacques Blondel Maria Carmen Llasat James Casford Marc Castellnou Andrew Goudie Andrew Harding Angela Hayes Tom Holt Babette Hoogakker Philip Hughes Jos Lelieveld John Lewin Francisco Lloret Francisco Lopez Bermudez Mark Macklin Jean Margat Anne Mather Fr d ric M dail Christophe Morhange Clive Oppenheimer Jean Palutikof Gerassimos Papadopoulos Josep Pi ol David Pyle Jane Reed Neil Roberts Eelco Rohling Iain Stewart Stathis Stiros John Thornes Chronis Tzedakis John Wainwright
