Recruits To Labour:

Recruiting Immigrant Workers: Sweden 2011 OECD,2011-12-19 This book answers the question of whether Sweden's labour migration policy is efficiently working to meet labour market needs that were not being met without adversely affecting the domestic labour market

Surviving on the Move Jonathan Crush,Bruce Frayne,2010 Since the collapse of apartheid there have been major increases in migration flows within to and from the Southern African region Cross border movements are at an all time high across the region and internal migration is at record levels The implications of greater mobility for areas of origin and destination have not been systematically explored Migration is most often seen as a negative phenomenon a result of increased poverty and the failure of development More recently the positive relationship between migration and development has been emphasised by agencies such as the Global Commission on International Migration the Global Forum on Migration and Development the United Nations Development Programme and the African Union The chapters in this publication are all based on primary research and examine various facets of the relationship between migration poverty and development including issues that are often ignored in the migration development debate like migration and food security and migration and vulnerability to HIV The book argues that the development and poverty reduction potential of migration is being hindered by national policies that fail to recognise and build on the positive aspects and potential of migration As a result as these studies show migrants are often pushed to the margins where they are forced to survive on the move Their treatment violates labour laws and basic human rights and compromises the potential of migration as a means to create sustainable livelihoods reduce poverty and food insecurity mitigate the brain drain and promote the productive use of remittances This book shows that migrant lives and livelihoods should be at the centre of international and African debates about migration poverty and development

Immigration and Perceptions of National Political Systems in Europe Lauren M. McLaren,2015 Immigration has become one of the most pressing political issues of the modern day and public opinion polls indicate that it has been of public concern for some time This book analyses the impact of immigration on perceptions of national political systems in Europe and contends that public concern about immigration is undermining trust in national political institutions and elites as well as satisfaction with the way democracy is working Immigration and Perceptions of National Political Systems in Europe contends that immigration presents more substantial challenges to some national identity constructions and that while national identity in general can help to bolster support for national political systems those who emphasize lengthy ties to the country are likely to be less positive about their national political systems particularly when these allow for relatively easy immigrant incorporation This book also includes an analysis of the impact of concern about immigration on the British political system and shows that while concern about immigration appears to have been fairly high since the 1960s it is only in since 1997 that such concern has come to translate into negative perceptions of the British political system Reflections in Prison Mac Maharaj,2002 Essays written by Nelson Mandela Walter Sisulu Ahmed Kathrada Govan Mbeki and four other leaders of the anti apartheid movement on the eve of the 1976 Soweto Uprising Electronic Democracy and the UK 2001 Elections Glen Segell,2001

Black, White and Gold Hank Nelson,2016-07-19 Australian goldminers were among the first white men to have sustained contact with Papua New Guineans Some Papua New Guineans welcomed them worked for them traded with them and learnt their skills and soon were mining on their own account Others met them with hostility either by direct confrontation or by stealthy ambush Many of the indigenous people and some miners were killed The miners were dependent on the local people for labourers guides producers of food and women Some women lived willingly in the miners camps a few were legally married and some were raped Working conditions for Papua New Guineans on the claims were mixed some being well treated by the miners others being poorly housed and fed ill treated and subject to devastating epidemics Conditions were rough not only for them but for the diggers too This book republished in its original format shows the differences in the experience of various Papua New Guinean communities which encountered the miners and tries to explain these differences It is a graphic description of what happens when people from vastly different cultures meet The author has drawn on documentary sources and interviews with the local people to produce for the first time a lively history The Imperial Agenda Devinder Raj,2025-03-11 The Imperial Agenda The British in Malaysia from 1786 to 1957 is a look at Malaysia s imperial past through the lens of Britain in its pursuit to exert control over the Malay Peninsula Devinder Raj delves into the implications of imperialism on the Straits Settlements the Federated Malay States and the Unfederated Malay states which eventually came to be known collectively as the Federation of Malaya and then as the nation is called today Malaysia The British presence introduced systems of administrative policy and growth in terms of industries plantations and infrastructure which brought about economic advantageous Nevertheless the unsavoury aspects of this agenda which last till this day begs recognition as well such as the employment of gunboat diplomacy the use of naval strength and military intimidation to secure strategic locations along the Straits of Melaka on the islands of Penang Singapore and Pangkor Devinder discusses intertwined subjects in this section of Malaysian history such as immigration education opium trading and the practice of bringing convicts to the Straits Settlements offering a comprehensive understanding of the complex historical context in which the Imperial Agenda unfolded and impacted the country of Malaysia as she stands today Report China International Famine Relief Commission,1923 Annual Report China International Famine Relief Commission,1923 Publications Chung-kuo hua yang i chen chiu tsai tsung hui,1926 Foreign Affairs Edmund Dene Morel,1926 Report of the Indian Tariff Board (cotton Textile Industry Enquiry): Evidence of the Bombay, Ahmedabad and Baroda Millowners' Associations India.
