Mulford, 1922 The American Play Marc Robinson, 2009-05-26 In this brilliant study Marc Robinson explores more than two hundred years of plays styles and stagings of American theater Mapping the changing cultural landscape from the late eighteenth century to the start of the twenty first he explores how theater has and has not changed and offers close readings of plays by O'Neill Stein Wilder Miller and Albee as well as by important but perhaps lesser known dramatists such as Wallace Stevens Jean Toomer Djuna Barnes and many others Robinson reads each work in an ambitiously interdisciplinary context linking advances in theater to developments in American literature dance and visual art The author is particularly attentive to the continuities in American drama and expertly teases out recurring themes such as the significance of visuality He avoids neatly categorizing nineteenth and twentieth century plays and depicts a theater more restive and mercurial than has been recognized before Robinson proves both a fascinating and thought provoking critic and a spirited guide to the history of American drama The Dramatic Books and Plays (in English) Published During 1912-1916, 1921 ,1922

with Gale's Miss Lulu Bett which championed the unmarried woman forced to work in the home of a married relative and closing with Parks controversial Topdog Underdog which made her the first black woman to win the prize Drawn from personal interviews with the playwrights and research from archives and unpublished material this work shows how the stage art of women has reflected life in the American family and traces a strong thread of feminist history in our culture Overview chapters set the stage for each playwright and play with sketches of the time period highlighting the major points of women's experiences in culture society and the family Other chapters analyze each play in detail and discuss the playwright's life and opinions The book also includes a quick history of the Pulitzer Prize and a chapter honoring black female playwrights
