Newsletter, East Asian Art and Archaeology ,1998 Chinese Landscape Painting as Western Art History James Elkins,2010-06-01 This is a provocative essay of reflections on traditional mainstream scholarship on Chinese art as done by towering figures in the field such as James Cahill and Wen Fong James Elkins offers an engaging and accessible survey of his personal journey encountering and interpreting Chinese art through Western scholars writings He argues that the search for optimal comparisons is itself a modern Western interest and that art history as a discipline is inherently Western in several identifiable senses Although he concentrates on art history in this book and on Chinese painting in particular these issues bear implications for Sinology in general and for wider questions about humanistic inquiry and historical writing Jennifer Purtle s Foreword provides a useful counterpoint from the perspective of a Chinese art specialist anticipating and responding to other specialists likely reactions to Elkins s hypotheses The Prehistoric Rock Art of Portugal George Nash,Sara Garcês,2023-10-30 The Prehistoric Rock Art of Portugal presents significant interpretive perspectives in Portuguese rock art research and offers an excellent representation of core rock art areas along with current thinking and interpretations The various chapters deliver a personal approach to the many issues themes and approaches that are embedded within the rock art of the outpost of western Atlantic Europe Ethnographical perspectives have often dominated the study of rock art but unlike other well studied regions the western Iberian Peninsula is absent of an ethnographical or ethno historical past and therefore the production of rock art can only be archaeologically assessed Thus the work promotes interpretive perspectives on Portuguese rock art illustrating the richness chronology and context of these unique artistic expressions and explores the variability of rock art imagery and the diversity of landscapes and social contexts in which it was produced Although focusing on Portuguese rock art the book includes a number of universal themes that will appeal to a broad range of scholars researching in archaeology and anthropology history of art as well as professionals engaged in rock art heritage and conservation THE ART OF INDIAN HISTORY Aditya Vats,2023-02-25 Presenting the grand sweep of Indian history from antiquity to the present A History of India is a detailed and authority account of the major political economics social and cultural forces that have shaped the history of the Indian continent Chinese Sculpture Angela Falco Howard,Wu Hung,Li Song,Yang Hong,2006-01-01 Spanning some 7000 years Chinese Sculpture explores a beautiful and diverse world of objects many of which have only come to light in the later half of the 20th century The authors analyse and present mostly in colour some 500 examples of Chinese sculpture State Construction and Art in East Central Europe, 1918-2018 Agnieszka Chmielewska,Irena Kossowska,Marcin Lachowski,2022-09-19 This volume offers a comprehensive perspective on the relationship between the art scene and agencies of the state in countries of the region throughout four consecutive yet highly diverse historical periods from the period of state integration after World War I through the communist era post 1945 and the time of political transformation after 1989 to the present day globalisation including counter reactions to westernisation and cultural homogenisation With twenty three theoretically and or empirically oriented articles by authors from sixteen countries East Central Europe and beyond including the United States and Australia the book discusses interconnections between state policies and artistic institutions trends and the art market from diverse research perspectives The contributors explore subjects such as the impact of war on the formation of national identities the role of artists in image building for the new national states emerging after 1918 the impact of political systems on artists attitudes the discourses of art history museum studies monument conservation and exhibition practices The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history cultural politics cultural history and East Central European studies and history

The Vienna School of Art History Matthew Rampley, 2015-06-26 Matthew Rampley's The Vienna School of Art History is the first book in over seventy five years to study in depth and in context the practices of art history from 1847 the year the first teaching position in the discipline was created to 1918 the collapse of Austria Hungary It traces the emergence of art history as a discipline the establishment of norms of scholarly inquiry and the involvement of art historians in wider debates about the cultural and political identity of the monarchy The so called Vienna School plays the central role in the study but Rampley also examines the formation of art history elsewhere in Austria Hungary Located in the Habsburg imperial capital Vienna art historians frequently became entangled in debates that were of importance to art historians elsewhere in the Empire and Rampley pays particular attention to these areas of overlapping interest He also analyzes the methodological innovations for which the Vienna School was well known Rampley focuses most fully however on the larger political and ideological context of the practice of art history particularly the way in which art historical debates served as proxies for wider arguments over the political social and cultural life of the Habsburg Empire Collecting Asian Art Markéta Hánová, Yuka Kadoi, Simone Wille, 2024-02-29 Rather than centering on the well known collections in Western European and North American museums Collecting Asian Art turns to museum collections of Asian art in Central Europe which emerged from the late 19th century onwards Highlighting the dimensions of Central European connectedness this volume explores how these collections evolved and changed under changing cultural and political conditions from the pre World War I to the post World War II periods With a primary focus on collections of East Asian South Asian and West Asian art in Vienna Prague Berlin Warsaw Krak w Budapest and Ljubljana it outlines the transregional connections and networks that gradually developed Collecting Asian Art locates Asian art across the twentieth century in Central Europe via discourse and ideology and discusses key collections and the way individual collectors built their networks It thus explores transregional connections that developed through collecting activities and strategies in the prewar interwar and postwar eras Contributors also examine the personal connections between a group of Indologists from postwar Prague and modernist Indian artists from the early 1950s to the 1980s and also discuss the systematic archiving of East Asian art collections in Slovenia A concluding conversation looks at colonisation and decolonisation from a broader perspective by approaching it through recent art historical discussions on the global dimensions of modernism By defining the region through its external relationships and its entanglements with regions across Asia rather than as a self contained unit the contributions in this volume outline how these transregional connections and networks evolved and changed over time thus highlighting their singularity in comparison to developments in Western Europe Based on recent research Collecting Asian Art reveals neglected sources while reinterpreting well known ones conditioned and shaped the development of Chinese art at every historical turning point in the twentieth century The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history critical theory Chinese studies and cultural studies Rock Art Through Time Peter Skoglund, 2016-06-30 As in many other areas in south Scandinavia the region surrounding the city of Simrishamn in south east Scania has a great many Bronze Age mounds that are still visible in the landscape and records from the museums demonstrate that the area is rich in bronze metalwork Nevertheless it is the figurative rock art that makes this region stand out as distinct from surrounding areas that lack such images The rock art constitutes a spatially well defined tradition that covers the Bronze Age and the earliest Iron Age c 1700 200 BC and although the number of sites is comparatively small a characteristic and unusual feature is the large representation of various kinds of metal axes Significantly these images are tightly distributed inside the core zone of metal consumption in southernmost Scandinavia This beautifully illustrated new addition to the Swedish rock Art series presents a detailed reassessment of the Simrishamn rock art and examines the close relationship between iconography displayed on metals and that found in rock art in so doing it raises some important questions of principle concerning the current understanding of the south Scandinavian rock art tradition
