The Aging Population and the Competitiveness of Cities Peter Karl Kresl, Daniele Ietri, 2010-01-01 While much of the current literature on the economic consequences of an aging population focuses on the negative aspects this enlightening book argues that seniors can bring significant benefits such as vitality and competitiveness to an urban economy The authors illustrate the ways an aging population can have a positive impact on urban centers including the move by large numbers of seniors from the suburbs to the city where their disproportionate consumption of education and the arts helps rejuvenate city centers Given this the authors conclude that a large and active senior population has the potential to assist a city in the achievement of its strategic economic objectives The book includes analyses of the effects of population aging on best practices in 40 cities in the US and EU with surprising results as well as interviews with city officials and leaders Academics researchers and public officials in the areas of urban development public policy and aging will find much in this original approach to interest and provoke debate Diversities Old and New S. Vertovec, 2015-03-23 Diversities Old and New provides comparative analyses of new urban patterns that arise under conditions of rapid migration driven diversification including transformations of social categories social relations and public spaces Ethnographic findings in neighbourhoods of New York Singapore and Johannesburg are presented The Rotarian, 2000-12 Established in 1911 The Rotarian is the official magazine of Rotary International and is circulated worldwide Each issue contains feature articles columns and departments about or of interest to Rotarians Seventeen Nobel Prize winners and 19 Pulitzer Prize winners from Mahatma Ghandi to Kurt Vonnegut Jr have written for the magazine Targeting Senior Voters Susan A. MacManus, Kariña H. Shields, 2000 Seniors are America's most dependable voters they vote in all elections and contests on the ballot But definitions of seniors are changing and so too must the campaign outreach techniques and strategies used by candidates consultants political parties and advocacy groups especially to reach seniors with limited sight hearing and mobility
