practice in his Lives was crucial in shaping modern expectations of biography including issues such as how it should be organized how it should treat evidence how seriously it should regard narrative coherence and most particularly in the modern expectation of an intimate relationship between author reader and subject Martin considers Walton's biographical ethics in relation to the tributary genres influencing him as they emerged from post Reformation commendatory practice after 1546 most particularly classical funeral oratory and the emergent Protestant funeral sermon the Plutarchan parallel the didactic Character martyrological narrative and finally Walton's direct model the exemplary biographical commemoration of the conformist minister
