Psychiatric & Mental Health Nursing Katie Evans, Debra Nizette, 2016-10-04 Psychiatric and Mental Health Nursing has established itself as Australia and New Zealand's foremost mental health nursing text and is an essential resource for all undergraduate nursing students. This new edition has been thoroughly revised and updated to reflect current research and changing attitudes about mental health, mental health services, and mental health nursing in Australia and New Zealand. Set within a recovery and consumer-focused framework, this text provides vital information for approaching the most familiar disorders mental health nurses and students will see in clinical practice, along with helpful suggestions about what the mental health nurse can say and do to interact effectively with consumers and their families. Visit evolve.elsevier.com for your additional resources. eBook on Vital Source. Resources for Students and Instructors. Student practice questions. Test bank. Case studies. Powerful consumer story videos. 3 new chapters. Physical health care addresses the physical health of people with mental health problems and the conditions that have an association with increased risk of mental health problems. Mental health promotion engages with the ways in which early intervention can either prevent or alleviate the effects of mental health problems. Challenging behaviours presents a range of risk assessments specifically focused upon challenging behaviours. Now addresses emerging issues such as The transitioning of mental health care to primary care. The development of peer and service user-led services. Accreditation and credentialing. Mental Health Nurse Incentive Program. Mental Health in Crisis Joel Vos, Ron Roberts, James Davies, 2019-04-15 At a time of huge pressures on mental health services, this highly topical, broad-ranging and thought-provoking analysis of the mental health crisis examines the current challenges in mental health service delivery and access using a range of perspectives: political, economic, and cultural; organisational issues. It then puts forward a number of alternatives, reviewing both current and alternative initiatives and exploring what is needed for a mentally healthy society. Mental Health as Public Health: Interdisciplinary Perspectives on the Ethics of Prevention, 2019-09-20 In recent years, there has been increased recognition of the global burden of mental disorders, which in turn has led to the expansion of preventive initiatives at the community and population levels. The application of such public health approaches to mental health raises a number of important ethical questions. The aim of this collection is to address these newly emerging issues with special attention to the principle of prevention and the distinctive ethical challenges in mental health. The collection brings together an interdisciplinary group of experts in bioethics, mental health, public health, and global health. Compared to other public health initiatives, those directed towards mental health are relatively new and have yet to receive sustained ethical analysis. This is the first edited volume to highlight the distinctive ethical issues surrounding public mental health. The individual chapters contain cutting-edge original research by an interdisciplinary collection of authors, including experts in bioethics, mental health, public health, and global health. Mental Health Care for Nurses Anthony Harrison, Chris Hart, 2009-02-26 Mental health is a significant factor in providing effective nursing care for patients in hospital and residential settings. Non-mental health nursing staff often lack the confidence, knowledge, and skills to effectively

meet the mental health needs of patients who are experiencing psychiatric problems and psychological distress

Mental Health Care for Nurses Applying mental health skills in the general hospital provides a step by step guide which will help nurses identify these needs and address them in practice The first part of Mental Health Care for Nurses Applying mental health skills in the general hospital explores the context of mental health care in hospital and residential settings and provides a practical framework for assessment planning and delivery of mental health care The second part explores specific topics such as self harm and suicide prevention caring for the patient displaying challenging behaviour maternal and perinatal mental health problems mental health problems associated with old age mood disorders and illicit drug and alcohol dependence

Philosophy of Medicine ,2011-07-02 This volume covers a wide range of conceptual epistemological and methodological issues in the philosophy of science raised by reflection upon medical science and practice Several chapters examine such general meta scientific concepts as discovery reduction theories and models causal inference and scientific realism as they apply to medicine or medical science in particular Some discuss important concepts specific to medicine diagnosis health disease brain death A topic such as evidence for instance is examined at a variety of levels from social mechanisms for guiding evidence based reasoning such as evidence based medicine consensus conferences and clinical trials to the more abstract analysis of experimentation inference and uncertainty Some chapters reflect on particular domains of medicine including psychiatry public health and nursing The contributions span a broad range of detailed cases from the science and practice of medicine as well as a broad range of intellectual approaches from conceptual analysis to detailed examinations of particular scientific papers or historical episodes Chapters view philosophy of medicine from quite different angles Considers substantive cases from both medical science and practice Chapters from a distinguished array of contributors

Mental Health and Wellbeing: A guide for nurses and healthcare professionals working with adults in primary care Dr Sheila Hardy,2022-01-11 Around 30% of people attending primary care have a mental health problem and the Covid 19 pandemic has seen an increase in anxiety isolation and other mental health issues In addition we have an aging population and more people coping with chronic physical and mental conditions All these factors mean that healthcare professionals need more guidance on dealing with mental health and wellbeing Those with long term physical conditions such as diabetes are more likely to have mental health issues and will be healthier if both their physical and mental health are considered Those with severe mental illness and a learning disability are more likely to die early from a physical cause than the rest of the population and this group therefore needs proactive monitoring and encouragement to promote healthy behaviour People with dementia and their carers also need support to live well and those who are addicted to substances or specific behaviours need help to manage their dependence The Charlie Waller Trust <https://charliewaller.org> one of the UK's most respected mental health charities recognises this need and provides high quality training for GPs nurses and allied healthcare professionals in primary care to help them meet the holistic mental health needs of the people they see in healthcare settings every day Written by a registered general and mental nurse with 20 years clinical experience in primary care this helpful practical book serves as a manual to accompany the CWT training and as a learning resource in its own right

Collaborative Ethnographic Working in Mental Health Neil Armstrong, 2023-12-07 Collaborative Ethnographic Working in Mental Health seeks to chart a new direction for research into mental healthcare with the aim of creating the conditions for more productive interdisciplinary dialogue People involved in mental health often fail to recognise how they are described by researchers from the humanities and social sciences which inhibits productive collaboration This book seeks to address this problem by including clinicians and patients in the research process and by shifting attention away from power and knowledge and towards the organisational context It explores how clinical thinking and behaviour illness experience and clinical relationships are all shaped by the bureaucratic context In particular it examines tensions between what we want from mental healthcare and how accountable bureaucracies actually work and proposes that mental healthcare research should not just evaluate new interventions but should investigate new ways of organising This book is written with a non specialist audience in mind as it is intended for all with a stake in mental healthcare research and practice It is also for those with an interest in ethnographic methods as a novel way of deploying ethnography autoethnography and coproduced ethnography to address clinically important research topics

The Philosophy of Psychiatry Jennifer Radden, 2004 This is a comprehensive volume of essays by leading thinkers that explores the newly emerging interdisciplinary field of the philosophy of psychiatry
