Natural Selection:

Adaptation and Natural Selection George Christopher Williams, 2018-10-30 Biological evolution is a fact but the many conflicting theories of evolution remain controversial even today When Adaptation and Natural Selection was first published in 1966 it struck a powerful blow against those who argued for the concept of group selection the idea that evolution acts to select entire species rather than individuals Williams's famous work in favor of simple Darwinism over group selection has become a classic of science literature valued for its thorough and convincing argument and its relevance to many fields outside of biology Now with a new foreword by Richard Dawkins Adaptation and Natural Selection is an essential text for understanding the nature of scientific debate

Natural Selection and Tropical Nature Alfred Russel Wallace, 1891

Darwinian Populations and Natural Selection Peter Godfrey-Smith, 2009-03-26 In 1859 Darwin described a deceptively simple mechanism that he called natural selection a combination of variation inheritance and reproductive success He argued that this mechanism was the key to explaining the most puzzling features of the natural world The exact nature of the Darwinian process has been controversial ever since Draws on new developments in biology philosophy of science and other fields to give a new analysis and extension of Darwin's idea The central concept used is that of a Darwinian population a collection of things with the capacity to undergo change by natural selection From this starting point new analyses of the role of genes in evolution the application of Darwinian ideas to cultural change and evolutionary transitions that produce complex organisms and societies are developed

On the Origin of Species by Means of Natural Selection Charles Darwin, 2019-09-25 Reproduction of the original On the Origin of Species by Means of Natural Selection by Charles Darwin

The Origin of Species Charles Darwin, 2014-01-18 On the Origin of Species published on 24 November 1859 is a work of scientific literature by Charles Darwin which is considered to be the foundation of evolutionary biology Its full title was On the Origin of Species by Means of Natural Selection or the Preservation of Favoured Races in the Struggle for Life Darwin's book introduced the scientific theory that populations evolve over the course of generations through a process of natural selection It presented a body of evidence that the diversity of life arose by common descent through a branching pattern of evolution Darwin included evidence that he had gathered on the Beagle expedition in the 1830s and his subsequent findings from research correspondence and experimentation Various evolutionary ideas had already been proposed to explain new findings in biology Ideas about the transmutation of species were controversial as they conflicted with the beliefs that species were unchanging parts of a designed hierarchy and that humans were unique unrelated to other animals The political and theological implications were intensely debated but transmutation was not accepted by the scientific mainstream
