Patrick Finney proposes a fresh approach to the politics of historiography This provocative volume discusses the political cultural disciplinary and archival factors which have contributed to the evolving construction of historical interpretations It analyses the complex and multi faceted relationships between texts about the origins of the war the negotiation of conceptions of national identity and unfolding processes of war remembrance Offering an innovative perspective on international history and enriching the literature on collective memory this book will prove fascinating reading for all students of the Second World War Global Great Depression and the Coming of World War II John E. Moser, 2015-11-17

The Global Great Depression and the Coming of World War II demonstrates the ways in which the economic crisis of the late 1920s and early 1930s helped to cause and shape the course of the Second World War Historian John E Moser points to the essential uniformity in the way in which the world s industrialized and industrializing nations responded to the challenge of the Depression Among these nations there was a move away from legislative deliberation and toward executive authority away from free trade and toward the creation of regional trading blocs away from the international gold standard and toward managed national currencies away from chaotic individual liberty and toward rational regimentation in other words away from classical liberalism and toward some combination of corporatism nationalism and militarism For all the similarities however there was still a great divide between two different general approaches to the economic crisis Those countries that enjoyed easy unchallenged access to resources and markets the United States Great Britain the Soviet Union and France tended to turn inward erecting tariff walls and promoting domestic recovery at the expense of the international order On the other hand those nations that lacked such access Germany and Japan sought to take the necessary resources and markets by force The interplay of these powers then constituted the dynamic of international relations of the 1930s have nots attempting to achieve self sufficiency through aggressive means challenging haves that were too distrustful of one another and too preoccupied with their own domestic affairs to work cooperatively in an effort to stop them Hitler and His Allies in World War Two Jonathan Adelman, 2020-03-25 In an area where in depth studies of Hitler s relations with Nazi Germany s allies and the failure of Nazi Germany to make more effective use of them during the war are scant this is a survey that looks at the Soviet Union Japan France Italy Spain Romania and Hungary and their relationship to Nazi Germany Using a comparative approach seven case studies examine themes such as co operation and resistance military and economic aid treatment of Jews relations with the enemies and the popular sentiment towards Germany Jonathan Adelman has provided students of the Second World War with a welcome mine of information and a unique perspective on a much studied topic German Diplomatic Relations 1871-1945 William Young, 2006-09-04 The continuity issue has been a theme in German historiography for half a century Historians have examined the foreign policy of Wilhelmine and Nazi Germany that led to two world wars Dr William Young examines the continuity of German Foreign Office influence in the formulation of foreign policy under the leadership of Otto von Bismarck 1862 1890 Kaiser William II 1888 1918 the Weimar Republic 1919 1933 and Adolf Hitler 1933 1945 He stresses the role and influence of strong German leaders in the making of policy and the conduct of foreign relations German Diplomatic Relations 1871 1945 will be of value to individuals interested in the history of Germany Modern Europe and International Relations

June 1940, Great Britain and the First Attempt to Build a European Union Andrea Bosco,2016-06-22 June 2016 represents a significant moment in British history The decision to leave the European Union at the most critical period since its existence could bring unpredictable and far reaching consequences both for the United Kingdom and the Union itself June 1940 was also a turning point in British history On the afternoon of 16 June a few hours before the French Government opted for the capitulation Churchill made on behalf of the British Government an offer of indissoluble union When a sceptical Churchill put forward to the British Cabinet the text of the declaration drafted by Jean Monnet Sir Arthur Salter and Robert Vansittart he was surprised at the amount of support it received The Cabinet adopted the document with some minor amendments and de Gaulle who saw it as a means of keeping France in the war telephoned Reynaud with the proposal for an indissoluble union with joint organs of defence foreign financial and economic policies a common citizenship and a single War Cabinet The proposal however never reached the table of the French Government The spirit of capitulation embodied in Weygand and Pétain prevailed and France submitted herself to the German will for the second time in seventy years After the Munich crisis Great Britain had to face the danger of another European war with the inevitable loss of the Empire and it was at this point that the country first began to favour the application of the federalist principle to Anglo French relations In this conversion to federalism a fundamental role was played by the Federal Union the first federalist movement organised on a popular basis The contribution of Federal Union to the development of the federal idea in Great Britain and Europe was to express and organise the beginning of a new political militancy and it represented the first step of a historical process the overcoming of the nation State the modern political formula which institutionalises the political division of mankind This study principally examines the first eighteen months of the Federal Union during which time it was able to raise itself to the attention of the general public and the political class as the heir of the League of Nations Union The research is based on extensive unpublished archival material found across the globe from London Oxford Brighton and Edinburgh to Washington Paris and Geneva

Defeat and Memory J. Macleod,2008-11-03 The legacy of defeat in war reverberates through private and collective memory and remains a sub text in international relations and political discourse This book examines the manner in which a series of military defeats have been understood and remembered by individuals and societies in the era of modern industrialised warfare
