Isaac, 2018-07-17 The studies in this collection deal with a variety of subjects Their focus is the Roman Empire in the East the Roman army Judaea in the Roman period and Jewish history Inscriptions are published in them and literary sources discussed First Judaea in the period before the arrival of the Romans as well as under Roman rule forms the centre of attention Here articles on specific documents are presented and historical problems discussed ranging from the Seleucid period to the Later Roman Empire The second part of the book contains studies of the wider area and the third part is concerned with the Roman army its organisation and aims in the Frontier areas Many of these papers are hard to find and it is particularly valuable to have all of them together and logically arranged in one volume Moreover extensive discussions of recent publications and newly published material have been added here

The Limits of Empire Benjamin H. Isaac, 1993 This is the first comprehensive treatment of the Roman military presence in the Near East Using both well known and neglected sources Professor Isaac reassesses the means by which Rome achieved and maintained her control over the region He discusses the extent to which current vacillating views on imperialism can affect opinions concerning the character and mechanisms by which Rome ensured the integrity and expansion of her influence Also considered here are problems of methodology especially the use of archaeological remains for historical interpretation Now available in paperback this revised edition contains extensive author's amendments in the light of the most recent research so that the book is now representative of the most up to date work on the subject There is an additional bibliography containing material only recently made available and a new preface introducing the volume

Near Eastern Cities from Alexander to the Successors of Muhammad Walter D. Ward, 2019-07-10 Near Eastern Cities from Alexander to the Successors of Muhammad compares the evolution of several cities in the Near East from the time of Alexander the Great until the beginning of the Islamic Abbasid Dynasty This volume examines both archaeological remains and literary sources to explain the diversity of imperial cultural and religious influences on urban life It offers several case studies chosen from different regions of the Roman Near East demonstrating that Greco Roman and Islamic culture spread unevenly through these various cities and that it is impossible to make broad generalizations It argues instead that there were different patterns of urbanism that demonstrate a continued vitality of civic life up to the Abbasid revolution Near Eastern Cities from Alexander to the Successors of Muhammad will be of particular interest to students of this period in the Ancient Near East as well as those studying ancient cities and everyday life

Greco-Roman Culture and the Galilee of Jesus Mark A. Chancey, 2005-12-15 Greco Roman Culture and the Galilee of Jesus a book length investigation of this topic challenges the conventional scholarly view that first century Galilee was thoroughly Hellenised Examining architecture inscriptions coins and art from Alexander the Great's conquest until the early fourth century CE Chancey argues that the extent of Greco Roman culture in the time of Jesus has often been greatly exaggerated Antipas's reign in the early first century was indeed a time of transition but the more dramatic shifts in Galilee's cultural climate happened in the second century after the arrival of a large Roman garrison Much of Galilee's Hellenisation should thus be understood within the context of its Romanisation Any attempt to understand the Galilean setting of Jesus must recognise the significance of the region's historical development as well as how Galilee fits into the larger context of the Roman East
