Parenting Mindfully Catherine DePino, 2018-11-30 More than ever life in our world nation and communities appears insecure and unpredictable. Every day new and disturbing incidents appear on the news that feed this sense of unrest. In our communities people don't attempt to understand one another's points of view causing compromise to give way to discord and conflict. This unremitting stress filters down to the way we raise our children and the way our kids respond to accepting the values we work hard to impart. Parenting Mindfully helps you provide your children with a buffer against the challenges they face at home in school and in the neighborhood. Following the principles of Mindfulness can help you raise kids who become school smart street smart caring human beings. If you want to promote character traits like compassion kindness and respect for you and others using Mindfulness techniques will jumpstart these positive qualities in your children. Imagine what it would be like if you could begin to find a way to parent your kids successfully despite the growing negativity in the world. Parenting Mindfully can help both you and your kids discover a new and rewarding way of living.

The Magical Language of Others E. J. Koh, 2020-01-07 Winner of the Pacific Northwest Booksellers Association Award and the Washington State Book Award in Biography Memoir. Named One of the Best Books by Asian American Writers by Oprah Daily. Longlisted for the PEN Open Book Award. The Magical Language of Others is a powerful and aching love story in letters from mother to daughter. After living in America for over a decade Eun Ji Koh's parents return to South Korea for work leaving fifteen year old Eun Ji and her brother behind in California. Overnight Eun Ji finds herself abandoned and adrift in a world made strange by her mother's absence. Her mother writes letters in Korean over the years seeking forgiveness and love. Letters Eun Ji cannot fully understand until she finds them years later hidden in a box. As Eun Ji translates the letters she looks to history her grandmother Jun's years as a lovesick wife in Daejeon the loss and destruction her grandmother Kumiko witnessed during the Jeju Island Massacre and to poetry as well as her own lived experience to answer questions inside all of us. Where do the stories of our mothers and grandmothers end and ours begin? How do we find words in Korean Japanese English or any language to articulate the profound ways that distance can shape love? The Magical Language of Others weaves a profound tale of hard won selfhood and our deep bonds to family place and language introducing in Eun Ji Koh a singular incandescent voice.

Curing Minds Anika Jain ,Rishab Bhardwaj,2020-09-14 What is life without any hurdles or problems Life is a whole set of games making a balance between attacks and defenses Our actions make our present and decisions bring our future Though it is all good to hear and act upon the unsaid algorithm of the brain doesn t work that way There still lies an unsaid heavy corner in our brain that s just not ready to make up with ourselves continuously This book gives readers a gist of such situations their solutions and creative ideas of living The title Curing Minds itself enlightens up the stories that we deal with ourselves as a state of war which may seem an easy issue for someone else Their lies the ocean of unsaid and entangled thought that we are entangled in and we are not able to deal with them Hence we make a genuine compilation of such happening and there possible solutions We try the reader to give the best experience of it

What Do You Think? Edward Kwiatkowski,2011 The author s father unfortunately passed away when he and his brother were very young Having a fatherless childhood in an environment where toughness was in vogue part of his moral and social upbringing was influenced by the grade school book he bought and kept It helped teach him how to think through daily occurrences that he encountered Kindness to others a repeated theme in the book must have been a lesson he learned well for his daughter s childhood memories include a Tata Daddy who more often than not invited other children whose parents were unavailable to do so along on family outings to the beach cider mill etc Ed Kwiatkowski decided to translate his Polish grade school book for children growing up too soon and not having a chance to be children in the hope that it would give them a moral and social structure in our blas society This book would have them separate right from wrong It would give them a stopping point in their lives to think about their behavior as the author once did to deal with questionable actions around them while also being entertained God and his Perfections Reverend John Furniss
