Tribes and Empire on the Margins of Nineteenth-Century Iran Arash Khazeni,2011-06-01 Tribes and Empire on the Margins of Nineteenth Century Iran traces the history of the Bakhtiyari tribal confederacy of the Zagros Mountains through momentous times that saw the opening of their territory to the outside world As the Qajar dynasty sought to integrate the peoples on its margins into the state the British Empire made commercial inroads into the once inaccessible mountains on the frontier between Iran and Iraq The distance between the state and the tribes was narrowed through imperial projects that included the building of a road through the mountains the gathering of geographical and ethnographic information and the exploration for oil which culminated during the Iranian Constitutional Revolution These modern projects assimilated autonomous pastoral nomadic tribes on the peripheries of Qajar Iran into a wider imperial territory and the world economy Tribal subjects did not remain passive amidst these changes in environment and society however and projects of empire in the hinterlands of Iran were always mediated through encounters accommodation and engagement with the tribes In contrast to the range of literature on the urban classes and political center in Qajar Iran Arash Khazeni adopts a view from the Bakhtiyari tents on the periphery Drawing upon Persian chronicles tribal histories and archival sources from London Tehran and Isfahan this book opens new ground by approaching nineteenth century Iran from its edge and placing the tribal periphery at the heart of a tale about empire and assimilation in the modern Middle East

Nomadism in Iran Daniel T. Potts,2014 Potts examines the development of nomadism in Iran over the course of three millennia Evidence of nomadism in prehistory is examined and found insufficient to justify claims of its great antiquity The background of the earliest nomadic groups identified as Persian tribes by Herodotus is examined within the context of the migration of Iranian speakers onto the Iranian plateau in the late second or early first millennium B C Thereafter evidence of nomadic groups in Late Antiquity and early Islamic times is reviewed

Perspectives on Nomadism William G. Irons,2022-07-11 The Middle Eastern Village Richard Lawless,2023-05-31 Rapid and uneven change to the fabric of rural life is widespread in modern Middle Eastern countries Modernisation usually in the Western model has often brought major improvements in agricultural technology education and public health but has also had the effect of weakening the traditional rural economy of many villages and encouraging their growing dependence on external sources of income most notably oil remittances This collection of research on the Middle Eastern village looks at the impact on rural life and environment of such factors as the mass exodus of labour to urban centres emigration immigration environmental change and the changing role of women in rural communities particularly the wives of migrant workers who have to fill a new role in the family structure State sponsored agrarian policies have weakened the power of traditional landed interests and together with labour migration have provoked new tension and inequalities in rural society The book makes clear that the pattern of change has been highly uneven and has served to heterogenise the countryside As the oil states enter a period of recession and the likelihood of substantial return migration increases rural communities will need to make further major adjustments and the book examines the tensions this new development is likely to produce First published in 1987

The Political Development of the Kurds in Iran F. Koohi-Kamali,2003-09-30 This book looks at Kurdish Nationalism in Iran and examines the links between the structural changes in the Kurdish economy and its political demands Farideh Koohi Kamali argues that the transition of the nomadic tribal society of Kurdistan to an agrarian village society was the beginning of a process by which Kurds saw themselves as a community of homogenous ethnic identity The political movements of Kurds in Iran are discussed to illustrate that the different phases of economic development of Kurdish society played a great role in determining the way in which Kurds expressed their political demands for independence

The Modernization of Inner Asia Cyril E. Black,Louis Dupree,Elizabeth Endicott-West,Daniel C. Matuszewski,Eden Naby,Arthur N. Waldron,2016-09-16 Inner Asia in premodern times the little known land of nomads and semi nomads has moved to the world s front page in the 20th century as the complex struggles for the future of Afghanistan Soviet Central Asia Tibet and other territories make clear But because Inner Asia as a whole is divided among several states politically and among area specialists academically broad perspectives on recent events are difficult to find This work treats

the region as a single unit providing both an account of the region's past and an analysis of its present and its prospects in a thematic rather than a strictly country by country manner Nomadic Peoples and Human Rights Jérémie

Gilbert, 2014-03-26 Although nomadic peoples are scattered worldwide and have highly heterogeneous lifestyles they face similar threats to their mobile livelihood and survival Commonly nomadic peoples are facing pressure from the predominant sedentary world over mobility land rights water resources access to natural resources and migration routes Adding to these traditional problems rapid growth in the extractive industry and the need for the exploitation of the natural resources are putting new strains on nomadic lifestyles This book provides an innovative rights based approach to the issue of nomadism looking at issues including discrimination persecution freedom of movement land rights cultural and political rights and effective management of natural resources Jeremie Gilbert analyses the extent to which human rights law is able to provide protection for nomadic peoples to perpetuate their own way of life and culture The book questions whether the current human rights regime is able to protect nomadic peoples and highlights the lacuna that currently exists in international human rights law in relation to nomadic peoples It goes on to propose avenues for the development of specific rights for nomadic peoples offering a new reading on freedom of movement land rights and development in the context of nomadism

Inner Asia and the Spatial Politics of Empire William Honeychurch, 2014-11-05 This monograph uses the latest archaeological results from Mongolia and the surrounding areas of Inner Asia to propose a novel understanding of nomadic statehood political economy and the nature of interaction with ancient China In contrast to the common view of the Eurasian steppe as a dependent periphery of Old World centers this work views Inner Asia as a locus of enormous influence on neighboring civilizations primarily through the development and transmission of diverse organizational models technologies and socio political traditions This work explores the spatial management of political relationships within the pastoral nomadic setting during the first millennium BCE and argues that a culture of mobility horse based transport and long distance networking promoted a unique variant of statehood Although states of the eastern steppe were geographically large and hierarchical these polities also relied on techniques of distributed authority multiple centers flexible structures and ceremonialism to accommodate a largely mobile and dispersed populace This expertise in spatial politics set the stage early on for the expansionistic success of later Asian empires under the Mongols and Manchus Inner Asia and the Spatial Politics of Empire brings a distinctly anthropological treatment to the prehistory of Mongolia and is the first major work to explore key issues in the archaeology of eastern Eurasia using a comparative framework The monograph adds significantly to anthropological theory on interaction between states and outlying regions the emergence of secondary complexity and the growth of imperial traditions Based on this approach the window of Inner Asian prehistory offers a novel opportunity to investigate the varied ways that complex societies grow and the processes articulating adjacent societies in networks of mutual transformation The Nomadic Alternative Wolfgang Weissleder, 2011-06-15 No detailed description available for

The Nomadic Alternative      Between Empires Greg Fisher, 2011-04-14 An examination of the complex inter relationships between the Roman and Sasanid Empires and some of their Arab allies and neighbours during the last century before the emergence of Islam Greg Fisher stresses the importance of a Near East dominated by Rome and Iran for the formation of early concepts of Arab identity
