Re-envisioning the Everyday John Fagg, 2023-10-03 Often seen as backward looking and convention bound genre painting representing scenes of everyday life was central to the work of twentieth century artists such as John Sloan Norman Rockwell Jacob Lawrence who adapted such subjects to an era of rapid urbanization mass media and modernist art Re-envisioning the Everyday asks what their works do to the tradition of genre painting and whether it remains a meaningful category through which to understand them Working with and against the established narrative of American genre painting's late nineteenth century decline into obsolescence John Fagg explores how artists and illustrators used elements of the tradition to picture everyday life in a rapidly changing society whether by appealing to its nostalgic and historical connotations or by updating it to address new formal and thematic concerns Fagg argues that genre painting enabled twentieth century artists to look slowly and carefully at scenes of everyday life and on some occasions to understand those scenes as sites of political oppression and resistance But it also limited them to anachronistic ways of seeing and tied them to a freighted history of stereotyping and condescension By surveying genre painting when its status and relevance were uncertain and by looking at works that stretch and complicate its boundaries this book considers what the form is and probes the wider practice of generic categorization It will appeal to students and scholars of American art history art criticism and cultural studies

A NEW DEAL FOR THE WORLD Elizabeth Borgwardt, 2007-09-30 In a work of sweeping scope and luminous detail Elizabeth Borgwardt describes how a cadre of World War II American planners inaugurated the ideas and institutions that underlie our modern international human rights regime Borgwardt finds the key in the 1941 Atlantic Charter and its Anglo American vision of war and peace aims In attempting to globalize what U S planners heralded as domestic New Deal ideas about security the ideology of the Atlantic Charter buttressed by FDR s Four Freedoms and the legacies of World War I redefined human rights and America s vision for the world Three sets of international negotiations brought the Atlantic Charter blueprint to life Bretton Woods the United Nations and the Nuremberg trials These new institutions set up mechanisms to stabilize the international economy promote collective security and implement new thinking about international justice The design of these institutions served as a concrete articulation of U S national interests even as they emphasized the importance of working with allies to achieve common goals The American architects of these charters were attempting to redefine the idea of security in the international sphere To varying degrees these institutions and the debates surrounding them set the foundations for the world we know today By analyzing the interaction of ideas individuals and institutions that transformed American foreign policy and Americans view of themselves Borgwardt illuminates the broader history of modern human rights trade and the global economy collective security and international law This book captures a lost vision of the American role in the world
