The Long-Range Desert Group Karl-Gunnar Norén, Lars Gyllenhaal, 2019-04-18 This is the story both of the special forces pioneers of the Long Range Desert Group LRDG and what it is like to search for their tracks driving a 1943 jeep Find out how time has almost stood still in the desert and how the LRDG spirit is still alive today among special forces and enthusiasts This is the perfect book for WWII buffs to read b R Patrol Long Range Desert Group Brendan O'Carroll, 2024-11-30 This is the story of the New Zealand R Patrol Long Range Desert Group who within their ranks had some very distinguished icons such as Jake Eason Smith Don Steele Dick Croucher Tony Browne Bluey Grimsey and Buster Gibb Their stories are told including that of many others mostly in the words of the participants themselves by way of wartime operational reports diaries personal letters and post war interviews This provides a human touch to the narrative examining the thoughts and observations of those who served The work also explains the formation of the unit including its early missions and of the vehicles supplies weapons and equipment used In addition serving as a Taxi Service for behind the line missions carrying agents commandos military observers rescuing downed airmen and escaped PoWs Chapters are also devoted to working with the SAS and Free French supporting the Eighth Army and undertaking the Road Watch This includes dramatic accounts of air attacks and ground actions against enemy convoys and engagements with Axis forces This is all supported by 288 images including maps and art Providence Their Guide David L. Lloyd Owen, 1980 Here at last is the full story of perhaps the most renowned and effective of those sometimes odd but always inspired formations born out of the desert during the Second World War The author was in the Long Range Desert Group for most of its existence and commanded the unit from 1943 till its disbandment in 1945 He covers not only the justly famed activities of the group in the deserts of North Africa but also for the first time its later operations in the Aegean Italy and different parts of the Balkans Yugoslavia and Albania particularly where its adventures were appropriately colourful and often bizarre Throughout his account he describes and illustrates with hitherto unpublished photographs many of the personalities British New Zealanders and Rhodesians who contributed so much to the LRDG's character and success Inside front cover

The Long Range Desert Group, 1940-1945 David Lloyd-Owen, 2009-05-29 A very engaging and fine tribute to a small band of men whose impact on the North African campaign in particular was quite immense Pegasus Archive This splendid record takes the reader behind enemy lines not only in North Africa but in Italy the Aegean and the Balkans The author who commanded the LRDG paints a vivid picture of the unit's colorful characters for example Ralph Bagnold who put to good use the knowledge

he gained from his pre war desert travels The LRDG was truly international with New Zealanders and Rhodesians playing key roles This classic book won acclaim from the critics on its first publication by virtue of the author s unique knowledge experience and narrative skills This superb account written by one of their former commanders examines the formation of the unit the very diverse personalities which shaped it the North African operations and their subsequent role in Italy and the Balkans Filled with detailed descriptions of individual operations and the remarkable characters who carried them out

Pegasus Archive The Long Range Desert Group in World War II Gavin Mortimer,2017-04-20 A major illustrated history of the Long Range Desert Group from the foremost expert on British wartime special forces Formed in June 1940 for the purpose of gathering intelligence behind enemy lines the Long Range Desert Group LRDG played a secretive but vital role in North Africa during World War II Highly trained in mechanized reconnaissance and specializing in desert operations the unit provided support to the Special Air Service SAS in missions across the vast and treacherous terrain of the Western Desert In this highly illustrated history of the LRDG Gavin Mortimer reveals the origins and dramatic operations of Britain s first ever special forces unit

Vehicles of the Long Range Desert Group 1940-45 Gavin Mortimer,2021-02-18 A fascinating study of the specialized vehicles kit and techniques of the Long Range Desert Group who pioneered long range desert warfare in World War II and worked closely with the embryonic SAS The Long Range Desert Group was one of the most famous special units of World War II operating heavily modified vehicles deep behind enemy lines to gather intelligence and support the raids of David Stirling s new Special Air Service When war broke out a pre war explorer and army officer Ralph Bagnold convinced Middle East Command of the need for a reconnaissance force to penetrate into Italian held desert Bagnold tested four types of vehicles over rocks and through soft sand to find the best one for his new unit He selected the Chevrolet WB 30 CWT as the signature vehicle of the Long Range Desert Group because it is fast simple and easy to handle With left hand steering horizontal grill and round fenders on the rear wheels these trucks proved themselves popular and effective The durability of the Chevrolets was demonstrated in January 1941 with an audacious raid on the Italian fort air strip at Murzuk hundreds of miles behind enemy lines This book explains the detail of all the vehicles of the LRDG as well as their modifications driving techniques and special kit for surviving behind enemy lines in one of the most hostile environments on earth

Fighting with the Long Range Desert Group Brendan O'Carroll,2022-06-30 Formed in 1940 the Long Range Desert Group was the first Allied Special Forces unit established to operate behind German and Italian lines in North Africa Its officers and men were volunteers recruited from British and Commonwealth units Merlyn Craw was serving with the 2nd New Zealand Expeditionary Force when he joined the LRDG in 1941 He took part in numerous missions in the desert The navigational driving and fighting skills of the LRDG were legendary and they were frequently responsible for transporting Stirling s SAS detachments on raids Merlyn s luck ran out when he was captured on the Barce raid in September 1942 but he escaped twice the second time making it back to Allied lines Sent home on leave he returned to Italy with the New Zealand

Army After a disagreement he went AWOL and rejoined the LRDG with no questions asked serving until the end of the war Drawing on interviews with Merlyn and other former LRDG veterans the author has created a vivid picture of this exceptional and highly decorated fighting man Readers cannot fail to be impressed by the courage and ruthless determination of Merlyn Craw MM and his comrades unit in the British Army This superb illustrated history follows the LRDG from its July 1940 formation as the Long Range Patrol in North Africa tasked with intelligence gathering mapping and reconnaissance deep behind enemy lines Manned initially by New Zealanders in 1940 the unit became the LRDG with members drawn from British Guards and Yeomanry regiments and Rhodesians So successful were the LRDG patrols that when the Special Air Service was formed it often relied on their navigational and tactical skills to achieve their missions After victory in North Africa the LRDG relocated to Lebanon before being sent on the ill fated mission to the Dodecanese Islands in the Aegean Serving independently when the Germans overwhelmed and captured the British garrisons many LRDG personnel escaped using their well honed skills Many images in this the first pictorial history of the LRDG were taken unofficially by serving members The result is a superb record of the LRDG s achievements the personalities their weapons and vehicles which will delight laymen and specialists alike Well written The photographs brought together here are a stunning selection despite the various quality as it shows the men and machines living the war they fought in Armorama A must read page turner Richard Gough military author and historian Informative and full of exciting detailed accounts of operations that occurred throughout the LRDG s reign of terror on the Axis forces during the war AMPS Long Range Desert Group (LRDG) Preservation Society , Features the Long Range Desert Group LRDG Preservation Society which is dedicated to learning about the unit the men and the equipment of the Group which served during World War II Contains photographs a calendar of events and information on the music of World War II Links to sites of related interest Ghost Patrol John Sadler,2015-11-19 From the author of D Day an amazing tale of how the world s very first special force was created specifically for North Africa during WWII Books Monthly The origins of most of the West s Special Forces can be traced back to the Long Range Desert Group which operated across the limitless expanses of the Libyan Desert an area the size of India during the whole of the Desert War from 1940 to 1943 After the defeat of the Axis in North Africa they adapted to serve in the Mediterranean the Greek islands Albania Yugoslavia and Greece In the process they became the stuff of legend The brainchild of Ralph Bagnold a prewar desert explorer featured in fictional terms in The English Patient the LRDG used specially adapted vehicles and recruited only men of the right temperament and high levels of fitness and endurance Their work was often dangerous always taxing exhausting and uncomfortable They were a new breed of soldier and the Axis never managed to field a similar unit Once the desert war was won they transferred their skills to the Mediterranean sector retraining as mountain guerrillas serving in the ill fated Dodecanese campaign then in strife torn Albania Yugoslavia and Greece fighting alongside the mercurial partisans In addition the LRDG worked alongside the fledgling SAS and established beyond all doubt the value of highly trained Special Forces a legacy which resonates today Genuinely gripping a tale of eccentrics and their high adventures during very dangerous times Classic Military Vehicle The Long Range Desert Group, 1940-1945 David Lloyd Owen,John Keegan,2001 This splendid record takes the reader behind enemy lines not only in North Africa but in Italy the Aegean and the Balkans The Author who commanded the LRDG paints a vivid picture of the unit's colourful characters for example Ralph Bagnold who put to good use the knowledge he gained from his pre war desert travels The LRDG was truly international with New Zealanders and Rhodesians playing key roles This classic book won acclaim from the critics on its first publication by virtue of the author's unique knowledge experience and narrative skills Long Range Desert Group W. B. Kennedy Shaw, 2015-11-30 A moving exciting and authentic chronicle of the British Army's legendary recon and raiding unit in the desert of North Africa during WWII The Observer During its two and a half years fighting in North Africa from 1940 to 1943 the Long Range Desert Group became the acknowledged master of the desert This small highly mobile force made a name for itself through daring exploits and vital reconnaissance far behind enemy lines Emerging from the depths of the desert the LRDG would raid airfields or attack Axis lines of communication along the Mediterranean coast then vanish only to reappear hundreds of miles away First published in 1945 Long Range Desert Group is a classic of military nonfiction With its brilliant description of the desert's harsh beauty and its exciting chronicle of LRDG activities it has lost none of its gripping visceral power A remarkable record told simply unpretentiously and with engaging humor The Manchester Guardian The Long Range Desert Group 1940-1945 Robin Jenner, 1999-07-01 Formed on 3 July 1940 the Long Range Desert Group was the brilliant product of the vision of Major Ralph Bagnold of the Royal Corps of Signals As a model for what is now commonly known as a Long Range Reconnaissance Patrol unit the Group can have few equals Lrdg tracks - June 2024 Kuno Gross, Patrick Adaimi, Sam Watson, Charlie Down, Brendan O'Carroll, Alan F. Hall, Anthony Rogers, Bob Amos Jones, Ian Chard, Jonathan Pittaw, 2024-04-29 Most probably the readers of this magazine have never heard of the original TRACKS I was in the very same situation until by the end of 2020 when NZ LRDG historian Brendan O'Carroll has provided me with a hardly readable copy of the June 1941 issue of TRACKS I was immediately fascinated by these windows into the past and just thought We should revive TRACKS The editor of the original Tracks was that time 20 years old TA Sgt N A Moore a clerk attached to LRDG Group HQ The June 1941 issue was created by him when the LRDG HQ was located at Kufra There he got the idea to create a house paper for the unit He recalled in a letter which was published in the 1991 Newsletter of the LRDG Association that there were only a very limited number of people who were willing to contribute and that this first edition was mainly launched thanks to the contribution of Lieut Col Bagnold and Captain Kennedy Shaw And indeed the June 1941 remained the single and only issue of Tracks it was never published again until today Long Range Desert Group Patrolman Tim Moreman, 2010-07-20 Osprey's study of patrolmen of the Long Range Desert Group of World War II 1939-1945 Nicknamed the Libyan Desert Taxi Service by the SAS the Long Range Desert Group was tasked with strategic reconnaissance and raiding operations deep inside the enemy held deserts of North Africa Armed with light weapons only and equipped with specially converted light cars and trucks capable of withstanding the harsh conditions the LRDG quickly proved it could operate in parts of the desert which other troops including the enemy found impassable This new Warrior title examines the soldiers of the LRDG from the group's formation through training to combat in vast lonely and deadly deserts of North Africa

Special Operations in World War II Andrew L. Hargreaves, 2013-10-28

British and American commanders first used modern special forces in support of conventional military operations during World War II. Since then, although special ops have featured prominently in popular culture and media coverage of wars, the academic study of irregular warfare has remained as elusive as the practitioners of special operations themselves. This book is the first comprehensive study of the development, application and value of Anglo-American commando and special forces units during the Second World War. Special forces are intensively trained, specially selected military units performing unconventional and often high-risk missions. In this book, Andrew L. Hargreaves not only describes tactics and operations but also outlines the distinctions between commandos and special forces, traces their evolution during the war, explains how the Anglo-American alliance functioned in the creation and use of these units, looks at their command and control arrangements, evaluates their impact and assesses their cost-effectiveness. The first real impetus for the creation of British specialist formations came in the desperate summer of 1940 when, having been pushed out of Europe following defeat in France and the Low Countries, Britain began to turn to irregular forces in an effort to wrest back the strategic initiative from the enemy. The development of special forces by the United States was also a direct consequence of defeat. After Pearl Harbor, Hargreaves shows the Americans found themselves in much the same position as Britain had been in 1940: shocked, outnumbered and conventionally defeated, they were unable to come to grips with the enemy on a large scale. By the end of the war, a variety of these units had overcome a multitude of evolutionary hurdles and made valuable contributions to practically every theater of operation. In describing how Britain and the United States worked independently and cooperatively to invent and put into practice a fundamentally new way of waging war, this book demonstrates the two nations' flexibility, adaptability and ability to innovate during World War II.
