The Mindful Carnivore Tovar Cerulli, 2013-03-13 A vegan turned hunter reignites the connection between humans and our food sources and continues the dialog begun by Michael Pollan and Barbara Kingsolver While still in high school Tovar Cerulli experimented with vegetarianism and by the age of twenty he was a vegan Ten years later in the face of declining health he would find himself picking up a rifle and heading into the woods Through his personal quest Tovar Cerulli bridges disparate worldviews and questions moral certainties challenging both the behavior of many hunters and the illusion of blamelessness maintained by many vegetarians In this time of intensifying concern over ecological degradation how do we make peace with the fact that even in growing organic vegetables life is sustained by death Drawing on personal anecdotes philosophy history and religion Cerulli shows how America's overly sanitized habits of consumption and disconnection with our food have resulted in so many of the health and environmental crises we now face America's Natural Places Stacy S. Kowtko, 2009-11-25 This timely set invites readers to celebrate the most beautiful and environmentally important places in the United States Each of the United States boasts numerous special places that are significant for their biodiversity ecology habitats for rare and endangered species or other qualities that make them unique and worthy of preservation These sites range from nature preserves to state and national parks wildlife areas ecosystems that provide a home to diverse flora and fauna and even scenic vistas The five volumes of America's Natural Places examine over 200 of the most spectacular and important of these places with each entry describing the importance of the area the flora and fauna that it supports threats to the survival of the region and what is being done to protect it Organized by state within regional volumes this encyclopedia both informs the reader about the wide variety of natural areas across the country and identifies places nearby that demonstrate that preserving such treasures is of immediate importance to every U S citizen Wines of Vermont: A History of Pioneer Fermentation Todd Trzaskos, 2015-09-14 Vermont's extreme climate may not seem ideal for wine production but industry pioneers are proving otherwise For nearly half a century local winemakers developed distinctive fermentation techniques and adopted select crops to withstand icy winters In 1970 Frank Jedlicka used traditional recipes to make wine with apples maple and honey North River and Grand View followed with other orchard and berry fruits Harrison Lebowitz planted French hybrid grapes on a Lake Champlain island in the 1990s and soon Vermont hosted some of America's first true cold climate vineyards Fresh tastes and resurrected flavors now symbolize the Green Mountain State's ripening wine industry Todd Trzaskos reveals Vermont's identity as an innovative and maturing wine producer Vermont: A History Charles T. Morrissey, 1984-12-17 For many Americans Vermont still seems what the United States at least in myth once was a bucolic landscape of wooded hills neat farms and handsome villages before modern forces transformed our agrarian nation into an urban industrial giant Vermonters have long been respected as sturdy Americans who prize hard work honest dealing town meeting government and dry humor Their way of life along with the beauty of their Green Mountains and quiet valleys remains immensely attractive to natives and newcomers who seek beauty and the satisfaction of self sufficiency in a natural environment where rocky soil and a varied climate have always compelled respect
