Literature, 1991-1995 Sture Allén, 1997 Presented in this volume is a collection of the Nobel Lectures delivered by the prize winners together with their biographies portraits and the presentation speeches for the period 1991 1995 Each Nobel Lecture is based on the work that won the laureate his prize Literature 1901-1967 Horst Frenz, 1969 Nobel lectures including presentation speeches and laureates biographies , Nobel Lectures Horst Frenz, 1969 Quicklet on Ernest Hemingway's To Have and Have Not LeAnne Bagnall, 2012-04-04 ABOUT THE BOOK Based on his personal experiences and observations from living in Key West and Cuba Hemingway composed the non stop adventures of the indefatigable yachtsman Harry Morgan an ex policeman struggling to survive the Great Depression in the depths of Cuban revolutionary waters The Morgan story was originally intended to be published in three separate short stories Baker xvi a narrative genre which Hemingway himself was redefining at the time Hemingway had already published the first and second stories of Harry Morgan in Cosmopolitan and Esquire magazines 1934 1935 and decided to revise all the tales into one novel Yet the melding of the three stories along with the intervening story of Richard Gordon created a novel lacking in unity Hemingway even admitted that To Have and Have Not was a procedural error Baker xv and his least gratifying book Baker 205 The novel was crafted during a time in Hemingways life that experts describe as an interim period of artistic regression between his better glory days Baker xvi The start of the Spanish Civil War also influenced Hemingways time and focus on the novel in that the main character as an individual comes to share the same fate as the oppressed proletarians of his society Meyers 267 Hemingway worked and reworked with the manuscript even relying on the unbiased editorial eyes of trusted friends Mellow 485 until its final publication by Scribner in 1937 It opened to critical reviews which considered the work to be an anti capitalist stance against the U S government with Marxist undertones and as a novel divided against itself telling multiple stories which just didnt cohere as a single novel Mellow 488 Baker 205 206 MEET THE AUTHOR LeAnne Bagnall is a professional Los Angeles based writer and editor who specializes in American literature culture lifestyle health and community LeAnne has been writing on topics of charity philanthropy health and wellness and current events for a number of publications over the past five years She earned a BA in English from the University of California Santa Barbara with a Specialization in American Cultures and Global Contexts in 2006 and is trained in non profit board management She enjoys writing fiction reading 20th century American and non Western literature swing dancing watching classic film collecting antiques volunteering to support veterans and spending her free time appreciating classic car culture EXCERPT FROM THE BOOK You know how it is there early in the morning in Havana with the bums still asleep against the walls of the buildings before even the ice wagons come by with ice for the bars Most likely you do not know and could not possibly even know what it would be like to see this scenario yet this is the world into which Hemingway plunges his reader at the start of To Have and Have Not. The novel is ultimately about the perils of the Haves and Have Nots trying to survive the economic crisis of the Great Depression within the locale of Key West and Havana. It is a tumultuous political and social climate, the desperate and helpless population, especially those Cubans running their political revolution, are forced to take any means of income available to them, including the black market, murder, robbery, and smuggling. This is the world to which Harry Morgan, the story's main character, belongs, as well. Harry is a tough, bold, cynical, and exceptionally smart yachtsman with a wife and three daughters living in Key West. Harry is forced to run contraband, as well as human smuggling, on his boat to make a living and survive the societal decay of the region.

Ernest Hemingway's To Have and Have Not

The Child That Haunts Us Susan Hancock, 2016-02-04
The Child That Haunts Us focuses on the symbolic use of the child archetype through the exploration of miniature characters from the realms of children's literature. Jung argued that the child archetype should never be mistaken for the real child. In this book, Susan Hancock considers how the child is portrayed in literature and fairytale and explores the suggestion from Jung and Bachelard that the symbolic resonance of the miniature is inversely proportionate to its size. We encounter many instances where the miniature characters are a visibly vulnerable other, yet often these occur in association with images of the supernatural as the desired or feared object of adult imagination. In The Child That Haunts Us, it is emphasised that the treatment by any society, past or present, of its smallest and most vulnerable members is truly revealing of the values it really holds. This original and sensitive exploration will be of particular interest to undergraduate and postgraduate students, as well as academics engaged in Jungian studies, children's literature, childhood studies, and those with an interest in socio-cultural constructions of childhood.

Time, Life & Memory Laurens Landeweerd, 2020-12-03
This book revitalizes the relevance of the ideas of Henri Bergson (1859-1941) for current developments in exact sciences. It explores the relevance of Bergson's thought for contemporary philosophical reflections on three of the most important scientific research areas of today: namely, physics, the life sciences, and the neurosciences. It does so on the basis of the three interrelated topics of time, life, and memory. Henri Bergson (1859-1941) was one of the most widely read philosophers of his era. The European public was seeking for answers to questions of the soul and the nature of life, and fitting within a historical niche between intellectual rationalism and intuitive spiritualism, his writings drew much attention. This work focuses on the relevance of his philosophy for developments in exact sciences today. The discussion of physics in relation to the abstract and the concrete, the life sciences in relation to concepts of life in relation to new and emerging biotechnology, and the neurosciences in relation to the dual nature of human identity, focuses on one main topic: time. Time isolated from experience as the measure of the events in the universe in modern physics; time as the measure of emergent systems in evolution as the backdrop of the theory of evolution in biology; time in relation to memory and imagination in neuropsychological accounts of memory The author thus discusses the ideas of Henri Bergson as a basis to unveil time as a living process rather than as an instrument for the measure of events This view forms the basis of a novel approach to the philosophy of technology An exciting book for academics interested in the interplay between hard sciences and philosophy A Postcolonial Reading of Rabindranath Tagore's Novels: Postcolonial Account of Tagore's Novels Dr. Karishma, Born in 1861 Rabindranath Tagore came on the Indian scene at a time when the Indian national movement for freedom was beginning to take shape Brought up in the environment of the Bengal renaissance and modernizing influence of the English education in India Tagore absorbed the new learning and made it his own Tagore always appreciated the culture and civilization of the west but he never failed to condemn the colonial hunger of England and other European countries The third world literatures and critical theory of Post colonialism are deeply rooted in the history of imperialism The postcolonial discourse pervading both creative and critical third world writings embraces the domains of race and ethnicity sex and class The Collective Edge Colin M. Kundera and the Ambiguity of Authorship Christine Angela Knoop,2011 The scholarly debate about authorship has not only transcended all aspects of literary studies but has also prompted contemporary authors to counter subvert and challenge it One author to whom this applies in particular is Milan Kundera In this study Christine Knoop re examines Kundera s essayistic and novelistic work against the background of the theoretical paradigms of literary authority intention and ownership In so doing she demonstrates how he overcomes traditional theoretical distinctions by postulating the existence of both a strong powerful author figure and of potentially boundless literary meaning Kundera s radically ambiguous conception of the author in the novel developed primarily to influence the reader is discussed and developed to cast new light on the critical debate about authorship at large while maintaining his primary conjecture that authorship as such is perpetually hybrid dynamic and unfinished Christine Angela Knoop is a Postdoctoral Research Associate for Comparative Literature at Freie Universitat Berlin
